THIRTY-EIGHTH YEAR NO. 19.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, MAY 7, 1915

PRICE, $1.00 A YEAR

SCHOOL BOARD SELLS BONDS ISSUE LAST SATURDAY.

Much Disappointment Felt Over Fact That Bonds Did Not Bring Big Premium.

The sale of bonds for the new school building, a $75,000 issue, bearing five per cent interest and running for twenty-five years, did not bring the expected premium, when offered for sale last Saturday. Neither were there the number of bidders expected. Sidney Spitzer & Co., of Toledo, bid $25 and were awarded the issue, the company to print the bonds, which would cost about $150. Another company bid with a premium on condition the interest was increased to 5 1/2 per cent. The board declined to increase the interest in order to get a premium. A number of other bond firms would have been bidders had the issue been sold at a higher price. None of the banks in the county were bidders. Another matter before the board was the selection of a site, the one voted on last week retaining more money than the board would have for a site. Accordingly former site was rescinded and proposals accepted for other sites through a committee consisting of Messrs. Stormont and Hamman.

CHURCH COMMITTEE LETS PARSONAGE CONTRACT.

The R. P. church building committee for a new parsonage let the contract Tuesday evening to Contractor Charles Dean for $4,896.95. There were three other bidders, George Barber and Moorhead Bros. of Jamestown. The architect's estimate was $3,800. It is expected that the excavating and hauling material for the foundation will be donated by members of the congregation. The new building will be located on a tract purchased from Mr. J. R. Orr on the Columbus street and will contain ten rooms and modern in every respect.

Mrs. Florence Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pendum, who are moving here from Greenville, O., was married on Saturday, April 17th, to Harry O. Snyder, of Arcola, Ill. The ceremony was performed at Wheeling, W. Va., by Dr. Fields of the Christian church. The couple then went on a wedding trip to Chicago and then to Arcola. Mr. Snyder is manager of the Germania Life Insurance Company of Western Pennsylvania with headquarters at Pittsburgh where he and his bride will reside.

SPRING OPENING OF NEW KILBLE STORE, XENIA.

As will be noted elsewhere in this issue the new Kilble store at West Main street, Xenia, is ready for spring and summer business. This is the first year for this firm in the new store and new location and special care and effort has been made to select the latest styles and best quality in all the different lines. Never before has such a stock been offered the buyers in this county. You will find just what you want there and plenty of accommodating clerks to wait upon you.

Illif Bros. received two large road contracts last week at the public sale of road work as let by the State Highway Commissioner. The jobs, one near Urbana and the other Chillicothe, totaled $45,000. The state will build concrete roads at both places. The ability of this firm to bid successfully on such contracts indicates that there are few jobs the firm could not handle.

First American Sugar Factory. America's first beet sugar factory was erected in Philadelphia in 1856. It did not prove a success and was dismantled. The first successful beet sugar factory was built in 1870 at Altavado, Cal. This factory was in operation until 1913, when it closed down. It is estimated that $100,000,000 is now invested in the sugar beet industry of this country.

YELLOW SPRINGS AUTO FIRE ENGINE GIVEN DEMONSTRATION.

Yellow Springs has just purchased a new auto fire engine from the Howe Fire Engine Company and under a direction of the manager of the company a demonstration was given here, the apparatus being manned by members of the Yellow Springs fire department. Within three minutes after the engine pulled up to the cistern in front of Bird's store, water was being thrown. The motor is of 40 horsepower and at times the water pressure was 150 pounds. Water was thrown over the bell tower on the opera house roof at one time and that against the wind. Three streams of water upon the opera house roof at one time.

Council for some months has been considering a more modern fire fighting apparatus in that it has been almost impossible to get the present steamer to fires. The auto engine requires not much more knowledge or operation than for that of an automobile.

The Howe company will likely make council a proposition either for outright sale or include a trade for steamer. Many citizens think the steamer should be kept for emergency purposes as the real value of it could not be obtained on a trade. There is a very slow market for steamers owing to the cost of maintenance. Most cities are abandoning them and using the auto engine entirely.

Mayor Donnelly of Yellow Springs, and Editor Wolford of the News accompanied the delegation. The Yellow Springs people seem well pleased with their new purchase.

"HONOR THY MOTHER." (Exodus 20:12.)

It is a noble sentiment which asks the American people to cast aside Sunday, the ninth day of May, for a particular remembrance of our Mothers. We do not forget our Mothers on other days, just as we are patriotic on other days than the Fourth of July, and merry on other days than Christmas and happy on other days than New Year's. It is perfectly proper, however, to set one day apart in which to remember our Mothers.

—Beware of the "jealous bug." —The law of retaliation can no more be repeated than the law of gravitation. —Do not know where to go? Why go to church.

—May each member of the Christian Union tell us Sabbath evening their conception of our denominational life. —Dr. and Mrs. Ritchie visited at William Waddell's last Thursday afternoon.

—Mr. Frank Turner and his sister, Miss Hattie, kindly took the pastor and his wife over in their auto to visit Mr. and Mrs. Stanforth in their new home. They are getting along fine but busy for their church friends.

—Future retribution will be in proportion to the guilt committed and grace rejected. Degrees in hell as well as in heaven. —Do not forget clean up day in Clifton, May 11. Let every family clean up their own backyard.

—We saw the case of a young man enter a lion's den. The same day we saw a young man enter a saloon. The public smiled.

—There is no reward so soft as a mother's lap, no race so lovely as her smile, no path so flowery as that imprinted by her footsteps.

—Dr. Anderson, of Philadelphia, writes: "One good letter selling of the contribution from your church of $105.00 for the Foreign Emergency Fund has been received and I write to thank you for it. I wish to thank you also for your cheerful interest and for your prayers for our need at this time."

—Some people forget that the art of keeping is equally important as the art of getting. The former is different from, but not inferior to, the latter.

—The youngest candidate for membership in the Central Union is Roy Waddell, who is a boy of 12 years old and gives his attention weekly to local matters not manifesting any interest either in politics or the European war.

—Dr. Ritchie attended the county Day Federation meeting at the Central M. E. church in Springfield, last Tuesday evening.

—We are very grateful to the ladies for the splendid floral decorations of the pulpit these Sabbath mornings.

—Our theological student, Mr. Walter E. McClure, made a shipment of progress at the meeting of Presbytery last Thursday and was granted a temporary license to preach at North Yarmouth, N. S., for the month for the vacation period of five months.

—Reverence the Sanctuary do not change; nor make a disturbance during divine worship. Be careful to be other worshippers and discharging to God.

—Prayer meeting next Wednesday at 8 p. m. 4. Moved by monthly meeting of the Section. Do not overlook the date, May 12.

—That God's wrath in the next world will purify some that were not saved in this life in the Roman Catholic doctrine of Purgatory, they think is not the case. "If the tree fall toward the south or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth there it shall be."

—Listen to what the State Journal says about the Universal Tiptoe: Dr. Dixon, the health commissioner of Pennsylvania, calls tea and coffee the universal tiptoe, which he says the people could do better without. They are not food and best only a stimulant, which excites and then depresses. His objections to tea and coffee are, they cost too much, tens of millions every year; they have no food value, and every dollar spent for them is thrown away; their excessive use, which is common, causes nervousness and insensibility when people drink tea and coffee regularly they fail to drink the proper quantity of pure water.

People know all this. They know they could better do without coffee and tea, and yet the use increases. It is a moral question involved in this habit, but morals are having a difficult time in this age of pleasure. If a man were assured he would live a year shorter if he drank tea or coffee, he would doubtless drink right up and quit the rick. Same with red liquor, but more so.

—Council met Monday evening, all members being present except W. H. Barber, who has been ill for several days. The usual bills amounting to $278.22 were ordered paid. Reports from the various committees were read and approved.

The ordinance proposed for a new street as proposed by Mr. D. S. Ervin was not given a second reading but allowed to go over. The street from Kansas to Light streets would be paved with concrete. The plan of the new street is being prepared by the city engineer.

It had been expected that the Dayton Traction & Light company would be present to discuss the light question but another meeting in two weeks was provided for this. It is reported that the company will not have the line extended from Xenia so that we can have a trolley four hours service before the first of September. The company proposes to change the system of lighting here to the same proposition having been made Xenia.

STREET OILING IS ABOUT COMPLETED FOR THIS YEAR. The oiling of the streets under the direction of council is about a contractor as in former years is going to result in the streets being oiled a property owner's expense.

much being wanted in gutters and on the crossings. The plan of beating the oil with steam no doubt has had much to do with getting in concrete more space than it would otherwise. The oil was so heavy last week from being cold that it was almost impossible to get it through the cracks. Nothing more was done until this week when L. E. Miller cleaned up his thrashing engine and for a number of hours forced steam into the tank. The oil fell from an artery with a few days of hot sun and it will set. A little care about the crossings will keep your streets clean and not track up the sidewalks.

It may be recalled that council will have more oil than needed, 12,000 gallons being ordered. Already a number of farmers have asked for oil along the highway where dirt blows into the houses. Council will accommodate everyone as long as the oil lasts.

SPECTATORS AND SPORT.

The danger that sidshows at our institutions of higher education may crowd out the main performance has been pointed out by President Wilson. The greatest of these sidshows has to do with athletics. Already in the minds of a large percentage of our youths they are regarded as really the main thing—and a good many of the alumni are inclined to help them along in this belief. Professor Frank Aydelotte, of Indiana university, an athlete of some reputation himself in that institution in his undergraduate days, discusses in the current number of the Indiana University Alumni Quarterly the growing hostility of American college professors toward intercollegiate athletics. Despite a love for athletics he feels that the candid observer must acknowledge that this hostility is to a large extent justified.

He deplures, not only the excessive amount of time devoted to sports, but also the blighting of the sense of honor in so many things connected with contests, so that there is no feeling that the rules of the game shall be obeyed from a desire for sportsmanlike conduct, but only because officials of the game are keen and quick enough to detect violations. This demoralization is felt not only among the students but creates a pressure of opinion that influences the faculty. It is well known that in colleges generally there is a tendency to deal lightly with the deficiencies of athletes in the classroom. All this is an old story, but Professor Aydelotte's suggestions as to the possible remedies are interesting.

He attributes the demoralization of sports largely to the presence of large numbers of spectators who demand victory and nothing but victory. This raw and ignorant demand, he feels, is due to a great extent to a lack of experience on the part of the spectators. This brings up the old question of the small proportion of the students of a college who actually take direct part in games. Among the players themselves, Professor Aydelotte believes, there is a natural tendency toward honorable and sportsmanlike conduct. As a proof of this he notes the sense of honor in a spectators game like tennis. He cites a noted instance of a player who called the attention of the umpire to the latter's failure to note a foul. The umpire said he had not seen it, and could, therefore, not consider it, and the player then purposefully made a bad play to even things up for his opponent. Professor Aydelotte suggests, in a way, that a cure for the evils of college athletics would be more athletics. With more of the students taking part in games of their own, there would be fewer spectators at each game, and in addition to this the students of actual experience in sports would have a more sportsmanlike appreciation of the nature of a contest. From his memories as an Oxford student, Professor Aydelotte notes that something approaching this ideal is attained in England. There, where the universities are made up of many colleges, each college of 100 or 200 students has so many different kinds of athletic teams that a very large percentage of the students takes part in various contests.—Indianapolis News.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

FOR RENT—Seven-room house, North Main street, Cedarville. $6 per month. John Harbins, Jr., Allen building, Xenia. Both phones. 26

Mary Etta Jeffreys, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Jeffreys, was buried Saturday at 2 p. m. She was born March 9th 1909 and died April 28th 1915. Her death was due to concussion of the brain caused by a fall received while playing near her home. She was a member of the Beginners class of the R. P. Sabbath School and very faithful in her attendance. The funeral service was conducted by Dr. Chesnut.

Burglars entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Crouse sometime Wednesday night, gaining entrance by breaking open a window. Mr. and Mrs. Crouse were unaware that had taken place until morning, though they both heard a noise in the night that to be at Dr. J. O. Stewarts. The noise proved to be the opening of a drawer in the library table which causes some extra noise. Matches were found on the floor of every room down stairs but none up stairs where they sleep. Silver ware was disturbed as was everything in the lower floor but nothing has been found missing other than a nickel. The intruders helped them selves to a pie and evidently were only out for money. The blood hounds were put on the trail and went as far as the railroad crossing on the Columbus pike where the trace was ended. There, is no clue whatever.

Mr. J. H. Milburn suffered a stroke of apoplexy early this morning while at his home. His health had been as good as usual since his injury a few years ago when he broke a hip in a fall. At this time his condition is very critical, he being conscious only at intervals.

Rev. M. J. Taylor, pastor of the Second U. P. church, Moxmouth and former pastor of the R. P. church here, dropped into town Thursday making a short call among friends. Rev. Taylor had been in Xenia attending Seminary commencement being a member of the Board governing that institution.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Miss Hazel Tonkinson entertained fourteen of her friends Saturday afternoon at an announcement party honoring her sister Miss Ruth Tonkinson, who is to be a June bride. The house was decorated in sweet peas, violets, dogwood and lilacs. A dainty two course luncheon was served carrying out the color scheme of violet and white. After luncheon Master Harold Harner, carrying a May basket covered with violets and containing the favors which were sweet peas tied with violet ribbon and hearts recited a poem announcing the coming marriage of Miss Ruth to the Rev. Wendell Foster of the Lutheran Seminary, Cincinnati. The guests present were Megdames Foster, F. P. Hastings, Earl McClellan, Lester Harner, J. F. Nash, Raymond Bluff, Misses Mildred Corry, Helen Creswell, Albert Creswell, Fannie Tonkinson, Mrs. David Ratostraw, Gertrude Bumgarner, Dorothy Collins, Kathleen Blair, Mrs. F. P. Hastings, and Mrs. Earl McClellan and have issued invitations for a reception honoring Miss Ruth Tonkinson, for Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hastings.

Chicken Souffle

Make two cups of cream sauce and season with chopped parsley and onion juice. Stir two cups of chopped chicken into the sauce. When hot, add the beaten yolk of four eggs; cook one minute and set away to cool; when cool, stir in the whites, beaten stiff. Bake in a buttered dish about twenty minutes and serve immediately. Any meat may be substituted for chicken.

PURELY PERSONAL

John Burney, formerly of Clifton, but of late located with the Springfield Coal and Ice Co., dropped dead Saturday at the plant. It is thought that he touched a low voltage electric wire which was more than his heart would stand.

Mrs. Wm. Hoase and two daughters have been visiting in Amelia, O. where Miss Clara, teaches in the High School.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crow, who reside east of town on the Shull farm, died Saturday morning, having but lived a short time after birth. The body was taken to Xenia for burial.

Harry Hamilton, of Clifton, was arrested Monday by Sheriff Jackson at the Clifton cemetery on complaint of Newton Dalley, who charged him with obtaining a horse under false pretenses. Hamilton promised to give a mortgage but sold it in London before doing so. Hamilton plead not guilty before Mayor Douds of Xenia and furnished $200 bond.

The graduating class of Xenia academy heard a splendid baccalaureate sermon when Dr. Jesse Johnson addressed the class at the First U. P. church in Xenia, Sabbath evening.

Mr. Paul Ramsey and sister, Miss Ruth, entertained the Junior and Sophomore classes of the College last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Smith, who have been spending the winter in Florida, have returned North and have been guests of their son, and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Smith.

The Senior class of the High School will hold their class picnic at the Clifton Cliffs today.

Mrs. Joseph Randall is reported in a very critical condition, her friends having little hope of recovery.

Mr. S. T. Baker has had the honor of being drawn on the United States jury in Dayton. Having to serve at this season of the year will be rather costly as no doubt Mr. Baker's salary would be worth more than the salary, which hardly covers board and lodging while staying in the city.

Truth itself, according to Locke's fine saying, will not profit us so long as she is but held in the hand and taken upon trust from other minds, not wooed and won and wedded by our own.—George Elliot.

One of the enjoyable events of the recent past was the "Trip Around the World" as given by the L. A. S. of the M. E. church last Friday evening. The tourists were provided a good chicken supper with refreshments at the various stops. The ladies realized a neat sum as a result of their efforts. The tour started from New York City, then Edith Blair's residence and then to Ireland, the M. E. church. From Ireland the next stop was at the Netherlands the home of Mrs. C. H. Crouse. Spain was represented at the home of Mrs. G. H. Hartman and Arabia at Mrs. A. G. Evelett's with India at Mrs. Mary Bridgman's. The tour ended at the home of Mrs. J. W. Patton.

Mr. A. G. Collins has joined the host of Ford owners by the purchase of a touring car.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ball has been in very poor health this week, suffering with stomach trouble. She was in quite a serious condition Monday but has since improved.

Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Ogleshe left Tuesday for Sulphur Lick Springs to be gone some time. The Dr. has been in declining health for several weeks and it is hoped that the rest and medicinal properties of the water will result in improving his health.

Little Jean Morton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Morton is reported as much improved since her attack of scarlet fever. Mr. Morton is staying away from home for the present rather than take any chances owing to his school duties.

Mrs. David Rakestraw has been in a very critical condition for several days.

A Cooking Feat in the Air.

To cook a potato pie at the top of a chimney three hundred feet high by means of the heat generated in the fire below would seem an impossible task, yet such a feat was on one occasion accomplished by John Faulkner, a famous Lancashire steeplejack.

The incident was the outcome of a wager between Faulkner and the manager of a Manchester gas works, who doubted John's statement regarding the excessive heat.

A large iron kettle was procured, and this, being filled with necessary ingredients—sixty-six pounds in weight—was hoisted to the summit of the huge chimney stack. Faulkner placed the receptacle on the outer and coolest side of the brickwork, but despite this, the contents were found to be thoroughly cooked in one hour and twenty minutes, or ten minutes less than the stipulated time.

Faulkner won his wager and the pie, which, it is said, was slightly burned at the bottom, was afterwards distributed among the poor of the district.—Bystander.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By D. O. SEIBERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, Ill.)

LESSON FOR MAY 9

FRIENDSHIP OF DAVID AND JONATHAN.

LESSON TEXT—1 Samuel 18:1-42. GOLDEN TEXT—A friend loveth at all times.—Prov. 17:17.

There is perhaps no narrative in all history or literature which so perfectly illustrates the condition of friendship as this which is before us. Jonathan was every inch a man; affectionate, sweet and tender, deeply pious and withal loyal to both duty and friends. His rights, as the king's son, he gladly set aside for David, whom he loved as his own soul (ch. 18:3; 20:17). Jonathan is a great type of the surrendered life (ch. 23:17).

1. Da'ld's Danger, vv. 32-35. Three times in the previous chapter (vv. 5, 14, 20) we read that David "behaved himself wisely." "Saul eyed David" (v. 19) and his jealous anger grew as he saw how well David was getting on. Saul's anger for David drew the anger of Saul (20:30), but it only put him more upon his guard and made him more determined, if possible, to save both David and Saul.

Following David's escape (18:18) he consulted Jonathan regarding his safety (20:1-10). They renewed their covenant and swore fealty to each other and to those of their households (vv. 11-17). It is a standing rebuke that Christians treat so lightly their covenants with the church and with the world. David was safe at Noboth (19:18-24), for each company sent after him, and Saul himself, were hindered by the Spirit of Jehovah from carrying out Saul's foul designs. This seemed for the moment to humble Saul (20:1; Ps. 57:1). Jonathan, though great and mighty, was not strong enough to deliver his friend from the renewed wrath of his father. "Vain is the help of man." "Our help is in the Lord." Jonathan showed his true friendship in that he told the exact state of affairs to David (v. 10).

When Saul was convinced that Jonathan was taking David as a hostage, he tried to kill Jonathan and reviled the mother who bore him (v. 30). In his loss of self-control Saul allowed David to escape. Even so, sin overshoots its mark. The contrast is a dark one to contemplate.

11. David Delivered, vv. 35-42. Jonathan did not revile again (v. 34) when insulted and assailed by his father, and his manifestation of just anger (for his mother was reviled) was quite different from that of his father. Any attempt to reconcile Saul to David (v. 34) was a useless and dangerous and for Jonathan to be seen with his friend would imperil his own life. This explains the expedient of shooting arrows in the field. Jonathan shot his arrows "beyond." I. e., David must go "beyond" and out of the reach of Saul. David tried to persuade Jonathan (v. 32) when the test came, though Jonathan might have good reason for playing him false in order to promote his own interests.

Dismissing the boy, Jonathan drew near to David's hiding place, to the south of the stone (v. 41). It was there where a most touching parting took place between these two friends. First of all David bowed ceremoniously three times, touching his head to the ground, perhaps to show his unshaken loyalty to Jonathan as the king's son. This was but a momentary act; as men of the East and friends, they rushed to each other's arms and wept for a long time. These were the manly tears of two brave men not afraid to show their love and emotions. It has been suggested that Jonathan should have accompanied David as God's elect (Heb. 13:13), but we feel that duty bade him to remain by the side of his stricken father.

The Lessons of the Lesson. True friendship costs. God's love gave to the world his Son. Jonathan's friendship for David was costly, but was given gladly, and ungrudgingly. True friendship neither forgets duty, nor neglects its desire towards the object of its love. It is not governed emotionally, yet it disregards all other ties, if they are wrong. Not even a father or mother should lead us to wrong a friend. When David came into power he remembered the everlasting covenant made with Jonathan (1 Sam. 9:3). Our "Son of David" has made a similar covenant with us (Acts 16:31; 2:39). True friendship is of slow growth, but is not easily killed, chilled by reverses, nor frozen by adversity (Prov. 18:24). True friendship is unselfish. It gives and does not seek.

True friendship is founded upon religion and the best friend, the ideal friend, is Jesus Christ. That friendship which is based upon gifts, ritual and dues, is not abiding, nor true friendship, for it excludes all who fail to possess the same passport or a sufficient amount of money. That friendship which is based upon expediency, or a quid pro quo, is by no means true friendship; it is as ephemeral as the morning mist and as frail as a chain of sand.

The friendship which has as its common center God's best boon, the friendship of his Son, will, if it is true and genuine, abide forever.

Today will be observed by many schools as "Mother's day."

How It Grew.
Mrs. A. (to Mrs. B.)—That Mrs. Newcomer is so fond of children. The other day when I called she was blowing soap bubbles with them through a common clay pipe.
Mrs. B. (to Mrs. C.)—That Mrs. Newcomer is so funny. Mrs. A. saw her amusing the children with a common clay pipe.
Mrs. C. (to Mrs. D.)—That Mrs. Newcomer smokes a horrid pipe. I don't see how any woman in her sober senses could do that.
Mrs. E. (to Mrs. F.)—That Mrs. Newcomer smokes a pipe and drinks awfully.—London Scraps.

As Walter Saw It.
Walter, aged seven, is a wise son who knows not only his own father, but his own mother likewise.
"Now, Walter," said the teacher, "if your father could do a piece of work in one hour and your mother could also do it in one hour, how long would it take both of them to do it together?"
"Three hours!" replied the scholar without hesitation.
"Wrong!" said the teacher. "How do you make that?"
"Three hours," repeated Walter stolidly, "counting the time they'd waste arguing about how it should be done."—London Scraps.

All Marriages Are Love Marriages.
"Was it a love marriage, do you think?"
"Certainly. All marriages are love marriages."
"Isn't that rather a sweeping statement?"
"Not at all. There is a love of adventure, you know; love of luxury, love of advertising and various other kinds of love. There is need of going into details when one speaks of a love marriage."—Chicago Post.

Who Voted?
Benjamin Franklin once discussed the property qualification for voting in Pennsylvania. A man owned a donkey of sufficient value to enable him to vote, but before the next election the donkey died, and the man's vote was refused. "Now," asked Franklin, "who voted at the previous election, the man or the donkey?"

Clipped Rugs by a New Process.
Conrad Homer St. Byington of Leeds writes that clipped rugs which for many years, heretofore, have been made by hand in Yorkshire, are now proposed to be made by a new process, whereby they can be turned out by machinery at the rate of sixty to seventy per hour, and a syndicate is reported to contemplate starting a rug-making industry in some town nearer to the center of the West Riding of Yorkshire.
