WHEN I GIT THE HURALD.

Dedicated to My Home Paper By F. K. Marshall, Madison Barracks, N. Y.

Was feelin' bum for a day or two, Kinder homestead - Older blues For weeks had slipped by in a row. With nary a word from folks I knew Back there in the dear old town;

'Twas just a paper from our town, "The Herald" - news from folks around The home place - and the ads And items of the news that gads Or says a visit here or there;

The weather is hot, the corn crop's good They's had a picnic in Jackson's wood And council met in the hall last week;

They's changed the time of the mornin' train, And the Board of Health is raisin' Cain About the ash-piles and the weeds;

The Ladies Aid have held a tea; Ross Gibbs has been out on a spree;

But - here is an item that makes me see What a puzzling-jumble life can be:

But I left her and our little place, Cause they had no yellow in our race; 'Twas here that we was some work to do,

From reports at hand a number of citizens have organized a committee to act in the capacity of a vigilance committee in behalf of the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and other war activities.

LETTER FROM HERMAN STORMONT

The following extracts of a letter from Herman Stormont, who is with the American Expeditionary Forces in France was written Mother's Day and is of interest to his many friends.

All the boys of the army are urged to write to their mothers or some one dear to them in case they have no mother. I am well and everything is going along fine here. I received letter No. 6, written April 18th, but have received very little mail since then.

I had a dandy ride last Monday for about 40 miles cross country flight - went out in one of the field service trucks with one of the old 82nd boys to put on a new propeller. We took a lieutenant along to bring the machine back. I never thought I would like to fly, but now I know there is nothing to be afraid of in the way of travel and when I get back I am going to have one if I have to buy the parts of army planes and build it myself.

We started from the ground pretty fast but only went a few yards until we were in the air, rising higher and higher for about a quarter of a mile, but not in altitude. Then we reached about 1,500 to 2,000 feet high. It was one fine trip. The higher we went the slower it seemed we were going.

In flying you would be surprised to see how distinctly everything appears to be on the ground. We could see miles and miles on each side of us, distant towns and cities coming into view all the time. In this country you hardly ever see a fence between fields. The roads were plainly visible and looked about two inches wide. Railroads and trains look like toys, trees resembled small bushes, while every field had a different shade of green. It would take an expert artist to paint such a picture.

When we landed it was just like gliding down a hill and we came to the bottom and ran along the ground for a short distance before stopping. We made the forty miles in thirty minutes.

It looks like we were to be transferred back to the 82nd. This will cause a big disturbance in the work.

Newspapers are feeling the effect of the war through higher prices and a new postal law that fixes the postage rates on papers. The new law will enter into effect the first of this month and the increase in postage increases by zones. The rates next year will be higher than for the present year and so on for five years. The increase reaches 300 per cent over present rates.

The War Industries Board has allowed the mills manufacturing news print to increase their prices and with the twenty-five per cent increase in freight rates paper goes almost on par with steel, coal and some other things we have to buy, even in war times.

WHEAT PRICES MAY NOT BE WHAT FARMERS EXPECT

There is every indication now that farmers will not receive more than $2 a bushel for their wheat and it may be as low as $1.50. The Senate refused to vote Monday so that the price could be $2.50 at sea port. It is $2.20 now as we understand it. The increase in freight rate the first of the month means that wheat prices here cannot exceed $2 a bushel unless Congress gives authority for the increase.

THE HERALD'S NEW HOME.

The Herald is pleased to announce that this institution is to have a new home in the very near future. For several weeks repairs have been under way on the room across from the opera house, formerly owned by the W. M. Barber estate. Older citizens will best recall the room as the one that for many years served as the post office before the government moved to the opera house corner.

There are many people in this vicinity that cannot recall the time when the Herald was any other place than where it has been for years. From information at hand it has been located where it is today for about thirty-five years. The first location was in what was known as the "bar-nack" on North Main street. We are told that its next location was for a short time in the room just across the alley from our new home.

The improvements being made are expected to enable us to more modernize our plant by the addition of such machinery as will save time and unnecessary labor in newspaper making. All the machinery will be operated with electric power.

Few realize it probably but the Herald, under the present management, has been under some handicaps many of the nineteen years, due to the lack of working space. In the improvements and arrangements of the room care has been exercised to provide the greatest amount of day light possible with proper ventilation. Good light and pure air are important requisites about newspaper offices nowadays. The building itself is to be nothing marvelous from an architectural standpoint; all the changes being made with a view of a complete, commodious printshop.

An institution that has served the people of this community for more than forty years is entitled to a creditable home. Our success has been possible through the generous support of the people. Due notice of the completion of the plant and the removal of our new machinery installed will be made following which the public is cordially invited to make us a visit. We hope by that time to have something to show you that is not usually found in towns of this size.

FARM BETTER; PRODUCE MORE

Advice of Chief Farmer For the State of Ohio.

STATE SETS AN EXAMPLE

By Intensive Farming Gardening and Dairying at Institutions.

BY CHARLES MINTIRE, Chief Agriculturist, Ohio Board of Administration.

There are two great problems before the world today. One is food, the other war. Without food, great armies soon surrender. Without food, tribes of people disappear from the face of the earth. Shut out of the food supply and wild animals soon perish. If you want to rid your institution of rats, shut off the food supply and the rodents will soon disappear.

Never before in the history of the world has the food problem been so critical as right now.

To meet this great demand for food two things must be done. We must produce more and conserve more. We must depend upon the farmer for this great food supply of the immediate future.

It is said that we have reached but 50 per cent efficiency in our production, and, looking over the report of the Department of Agriculture for the past 50 years, we find this to be undoubtedly true. The report shows the past 10-year average yield of wheat for Ohio to be 16 1/2 bushels per acre, 37 1/2 bushels of corn, and a little less than 82 bushels of potatoes. Surely this is only 50 per cent efficiency.

Germany fully intended to win the war in a short time by cutting off the food supply of the allies. The great demand for food will continue to grow by leaps and bounds and to supply sufficient for ourselves, our allies, and neutral nations, will require our utmost efforts. We must farm better than in the past and there is no reason why we should not.

Save More Wheat. The demand for wheat has been great and will continue to increase. Prior to the war we exported an average of 80,000,000 bushels of wheat annually. Last year we exported 200,000,000 bushels, and no telling what will be required of us now and in the future. Last fall on state farms an increased acreage of wheat was sown. This means a decreased acreage of oats for 1918, but wheat is of far greater importance than oats. We can help much by saving wheat.

Use more potatoes, corn bread, corn cakes, corn fritters, rolled oats, and oat meal, etc. The consumption of wheat can be greatly reduced and harm no one. We should leave nothing undone to produce a bumper crop of corn in 1918. Corn is a reliable crop and immensely valuable. We should use more corn as food.

On state farms we have but little sugar beet land, and while we are not raising sugar beets we can use less sugar. We can cut down the use of sugar 50 per cent as well as not. Instead of using two or three heaping teaspoons on cereal and in coffee, use one level spoonful and to your cereal will be better. Your coffee will be better without any sugar at all. Surely we can reduce our consumption of sugar and should not fail to do it.

On state farms we have been producing great quantities of pork. Hogs fed on kitchen and garden waste thrive well and are very profitable.

The maintenance of up-to-date dairies and immensely in maintaining a large institution. We have reason to be proud of our state dairies and should continue to improve them. Most institutions now produce all milk and butter used. The new prison farm at London is now furnishing all the milk and cream used by Columbus State Hospital, Ohio Penitentiary, School for Blind and School for Deaf.

FRANK L. JOHNSON, Attorney and Counselor-at-Law XENIA, OHIO. Office over Galloway & Cherry.

Mrs. David Lowry was injured Sabbath while riding a motorcycle with her husband. The accident happened near Washington, O. E., on their way to Camp Sherman, the machine striking fresh gravel. Mrs. Lowry's foot was caught in the chain and three toes had to be amputated. Mr. Lowry is located at McCook Aviation field, near Dayton, where he is engaged in testing airplane motors.

A good sized audience heard Gordon-Ross at the M. E. church Sabbath evening. Gordon-Ross is representing the Golt-Alber chautauque and was here with the advance advertising. Having been wounded in service in France, he has been given his discharge for disability. His story of trench life and the mode of warfare with its horrors as practiced by the Huns was probably the best that local people have had the opportunity of hearing. Some excellent talent has been provided for the chautauque this year and we will all be anxious to hear those from the front.

Meaning of White Spots on Nails. One who has white spots on the nails should not become alarmed. These do not point to an early death, but are rather due to inferior nutrition and may be regarded as a warning that poor health, mental or physical, may be expected unless it be guarded against.

Mrs. Henry Smith and daughter, Mary, left Wednesday for a visit with relatives in Petersburg, W. Virginia.

Miss Emma Luce, of Clifton, is the guest of Miss Margaret Alexander this week.

Mr. Charles McFarland, nephew of Mayor D. H. McFarland, a young farmer about 31 years old that resides west of Yellow Springs, barely escaped with his life Wednesday when a hurpooon they took fell from the mow and struck him on the back of the neck. It passed through at the neck and protruded fully six inches under the skin. The windpipe and jugular vein were only missed by a fraction of an inch. There being no one there at the time McFarland, who is a stout robust fellow pulled the fork from his neck and walked to the house and had medical aid summoned. From latest reports he is getting along as nicely as could be expected the only fear being blood poison. The young man's remarkable constitution is probably the only thing that is keeping him alive to endure the suffering from such an accident.

Mrs. W. L. Marshall and daughter, Mary, of Columbus, are guests at the home of Mr. R. C. Watt.

The Fourth of July was celebrated in a very quiet manner so far as this burg was concerned. During the afternoon most all the stores were closed and the streets deserted except for the hundreds of auto tourists that passed through town in one direction or another. A number of neighborhood picnics were held these being the only event to mark the day.

While plenty of food must be provided for threshers because their work is hard, it must be well cooked, properly seasoned and palatable, that endless variety is inappropriate and unnecessary. The Food Administration makes these suggestions to housewives preparing dinners for threshers:

Reduce the meat serving supplementing cottage cheese, eggs and beans.

Use cornbreads or substitute flour breads and serve no pie or cake except where substitute flours are used.

In order to save sugar, use honey, preserved fruits, maple syrup, etc., for cakes and pies would require sugar.

Conserve labor, plan simple dishes and less variety.

Length of Lobsters.

Whatever may be the excellent intent of the bill filed in the Massachusetts legislature reducing the length of lobsters that may be legally taken from 9 to 8 inches, the measure might well be entitled a bill to further the extermination of the lobster. The lobster is rapidly disappearing, partly, at any rate, because young and immature specimens are permitted by law to be caught. The present 9 inches in this state is shorter than the Maine law allows—and that is none too long.—Boston Post.
