FORTY-FIRST YEAR NO. 42.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1918

BURNS SELF WHILE INTOXICATED

Police Character Again Causes Officers Trouble and Is Put To Sleep By Use of Headache Stick.

Frank Jeffries, better known about town as 'Fog Leg,' filled up on bad liquor last Saturday and started out to clean up the town. As a result he was landed in jail after having been felled by Fred Kennon, who was a special officer on duty since Marshall McLean resigned.

Fog Leg was up only a few weeks ago and faced a fine in mayor's court. He has a long police record here and at the workhouse where he was regarded as a bad man. When intoxicated he becomes crazy and puts up a bad fight. Having this reputation the officers usually are compelled to take him roughly. More than once his home has felt the downward pressure of the headache stick.

Jeffries started his trouble on Cedar street near the home of the Editor, against whom he had a grievance. Following a report of his last arrest, there being no one at home at the time the fellow vent his spleen on the neighborhood and rather than put up with his vile language an officer was called.

Fred Kennon had been deputized by Mayor McFarland for such cases, and with the assistance of Dave Taylor, the safety policeman, was taken to the jail. Rather than be put in Jeffries resisted and struck Kennon a blow on the jaw. Under the seducing influence of the officer's club Jeffries and his bad whiskey was landed in the cell to await the termination of what he might term a "perfect day."

Dr. J. O. Stewart, who was called to dress the prisoner's scalp wound caused by the club, found it necessary to give medicine to produce sleep to get him quiet.

Jeffries was left alone in his cell and had lighted a cigarette. This with the whiskey, the effect of the officer's club and the medicine sent him over into "no man's land."

About 11 o'clock Mayor McFarland, J. W. Johnson and J. W. Ross went to the mayor's office on a business mission not thinking of the prisoner. When they entered the building they detected smoke and upon investigation went to the jail room. Here they found the smoke so dense they could not enter. They discovered that the bedding in Jeffries' cell was afire. A call was sent for Kennon and the burning bed clothing was carried out. No investigation was made of the prisoner who was placed on another bed. He had not come from under his heavy sleep and knew nothing of the fire at the time. The room is not well lighted and the men did not discover that Jeffries had been burned.

Early Sabbath morning neighbors were aroused by his cries and Lloyd Conrath and M. C. Nagley investigated. They found he had been badly burned and Dr. Stewart was called. It was found that his left hand was terribly burned, so much so that the fingers were all drawn and the flesh from two burned to the bone. The right arm from the elbow up was burned until the blood was seeping out. The lower part of the right arm and hand had swollen until it was useless. The fellow suffered intense pain when he began to sober and on Monday was taken to the St. Elizabeth hospital in Dayton.

Dollars Will Fight For You, Says Willis

"You may be too young or too old to go to war, but your dollars are not. Enlist them now in the Fourth Liberty Loan and let them fight for you."

—Frank B. Willis at the opening day of the Liberty Loan drive.

STOLEN AUTO TIRES CAUSE AN INVESTIGATION

O. B. Bradfrute had a new auto tire stolen from his Ford car last Thursday evening. J. V. Tarr had a similar experience while his machine had been left at the Murdock garage.

A search warrant was issued before Justice Jackson and John Ross deputized to search John Jones house. This was done but nothing could be found.

It was learned that John Spencer had endeavored to sell a new tire at the Murdock garage last Saturday. John upon being questioned gave out little information until a warrant was issued for his arrest. John claimed that he found a new tire on North Main street and sold it to John Jones. This was denied by Jones. The Bradfrute tire is still missing.

The tire from the Tarr machine was purchased from the Murdock garage and could be traced by the number on it. Investigation showed that Jones had the tire. He gave several excuses as to how he secured the tire, even claiming that it was on old one he had had come time.

Tuesday morning Jones and Spencer were taken before Justice Jackson when a settlement was made. It is said Jones settled with Mr. Bradfrute for his tire and also made previous settlement with the Murdock garage which had reimbursed Mr. Tarr for his loss. Jones also paid the costs in the case.

OSCAR SATTERFIELD SAYS HE HAS NO POLICE ASPIRATIONS

Published reports of a recent arrest of a bad character here, which required the assistance of an extra official, credited Oscar Satterfield as the second man who had part in the heavy work.

Oscar has now risen to a point of pride and says that the duties of a policeman are far from his thoughts and that if a man by his name took part in the arrest it was not him but his "double" if there be one.

Oscar's greatest concern is that the draft board may learn of his reputation as a policeman and he yet be subject to the draft. Fearing that his age might not keep him out he wants no credit that might prove his physical ability to fight the Kaiser. Nevertheless, if he has to go Oscar will do his part, but he says he has two bosom companions, George Shroades and Hugh Stormont, who also have to don the uniform, and that they cannot longer take on their ages.

GASLESS SUNDAYS, YES-NO.

One day you read that we have had our last gasless Sunday, the next that the ban will never be lifted this fall. Nothing authentic has yet been given the public by Washington authorities. The original order was for twelve Sundays, which would run into bad weather. Those who seem to know something of the gasoline situation say the ban will not be lifted before that time. The automobile clubs have been endeavoring to urge the department to adopt the card system for each auto owner but "official Washington" is hard to move.

OYSTERS WILL BE SCARCE.

We are to have few oysters this winter, if reports from the East are true. It is said that most of the great oyster beds are located near cities that have ship building yards and that men who have for years gathered the oysters have taken up this work and gone to the companies building government ships. The wage of the ship builders is from $10 to $12 a day, which is more than the oyster companies can pay.

OHIO GLEANINGS

Resources of Ohio state and private banks were only $7,000,000 short of the $1,000,000,000 mark Aug. 31, the highest they have ever been, according to State Bank Superintendent Berg. The exact figure was $923,003,119, an increase of more than $29,000,000 since June 30.

FARM AND FIELD NOTES.

Ohio has 5,000 farm tractors in operation, against a total of more than 2,000 a year ago, according to E. E. Shaw, state secretary of agriculture. He expects to have his crop reporters make a survey to obtain the exact number.

A farm sale of extraordinary importance is that of Turner and Paul on Thursday, October 21. This is a closing out sale of partnership stock, as Mr. Turner has purchased a farm and the business must be closed. Horses, fat cattle and hogs, as well as a great quantity of hay and some farm implements will be sold.

We notice of late that many farmers in having public sales are free to advertise wherever they please. We have heard of a farmer refusing to purchase a hog because it had been immuned. It is the best insurance against ill health, and should be compulsory.

The estimated average yield of rye in this state is placed at 17 bushels per acre. Spring wheat average was 21.5, oats 44 bushels per acre, while winter wheat is placed at 19 bushels per acre.

Farmers just at this time are watching the hog market which has declined for several days back. An interesting story is told by a large buyer of dressed meat relative to this decline. For several weeks the Chicago packing house forced the market to a new record price, knowing that their contracts with the government would expire soon. It would then be an easy matter to force the price up on the government which was the largest buyer, owing to the shipments abroad for the soldiers. But the government refused to buy on the high market and informed the packers that they alone were responsible for the inflated price and that unless contracts were renewed on the old basis the plants would be taken over. The packers were also told not to force the market lower than fifty cents at any one time until the old $15.50 level was reached upon which the old contract was based. Today we see hogs near this price and the claim is that it will not be any higher, for the packers realize there is no chance of changing the government price. Cattle prices will likely remain as they are. The government will not take anything under 600 pounds and found that a 200 pound steer is worth as much as the heavier ones. It is said that the price of beef is being dressed for the army and navy, and nothing else will pass inspection. For this reason the second grade is found in the retail markets.

W. L. Clemans, who recently bought the McMillan farm of 140 acres on the Columbus pike and sold it to the Columbus College, has sold the farm this week to Mr. James A. McMillan. They had purchased the property owned by Miss Anna Bradfrute on Cedar street and had expected to move to town this fall but will remain on the farm.

Cedarville township has the honor of being the first in this county to reach its quota of the Fourth Liberty Bond issue. Last Friday Chairman O. L. Smith announced that we had reached our $100,000 while our quota was but $87,800.

The county has also passed its quota and Judge Smith expects to be able to report $1,000,000 at the close of the campaign Saturday night. The quota for the county is $850,000.

500 GREENE COUNTY BOYS NOW IN FRANCE

The Greene County Draft Board has given out information that this county now has 500 boys in France in the service of their country. The boys abroad will get many remembrances for Christmas this year and the government is urging preparation now. Transportation and the government would cover soon. It would then be an easy matter to force the price up on the government which was the largest buyer, owing to the shipments abroad for the soldiers. But the government refused to buy on the high market and informed the packers that they alone were responsible for the inflated price and that unless contracts were renewed on the old basis the plants would be taken over. WINNING THE GOAL.

A few weeks ago I asked the friends of the College through the Herald for 40 scholarships of $40 each for Cedarville College for the coming year. At this date I have received 25 scholarships, more than half of the number needed. There are just 15 more to be raised. Will you give one of these?

Remember, too, that every Liberty Bond given the College or War Savings Stamps goes into the fund for our Bible chair. Four persons have contributed $750 in Liberty Bonds. One gave $100 Liberty Bonds. This went to the Bible chair. Will you give one or more to this fund and thereby advance the cause of your College and the Kingdom of Christ as well as that of your country?

Give your contribution payable to Cedarville College to the undersigned.

Yours sincerely,

W. R. McChesney.

All health is costly, therefore, keep well.

After all the influenza is just old fashioned grip that swept this country in 1898.

Turkey and Austria show signs of sickening on the so-called German Kultur.

No one probably knows just what president Wilson will demand of Germany. Evidently the public will demand unconditional surrender and be satisfied with nothing else.

Ex-President Taft will address the "Win the War for Permanent Peace" convention to be held in Columbus, October 24. Gov. Cox has asked the county chairman to appoint delegates to the convention.

Cedarville township was the first in the county to oversubscribe her quota to the Fourth Liberty Loan. This township has never fallen down yet on patriotic demands. Neither did she in the 60's.

Building operations have been limited, we are told what to eat and what to wear; must observe the gasless Sunday; but the powers in Washington have yet said nothing about fixing the price on cotton as was done on wool and wheat.

The people of this country did not start the war but were forced in to protect the freedom of the world. Now that we are in and our strength has been felt, let not peace talk deceive us from our intended course of settling something a brute started.

Punishment for wrong doing can be as severe as one's own hand as from some one else. The fact that a common police character must suffer intense pain due to his own depravity cannot deserve the sympathetic support of a law abiding people. Man may be defied as well as the law of the land but the elements, never.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. P. E. FETTER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Copyright, 1918, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 20

ABRAHAM GIVING ISAAC TO GOD.

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 22:1-14. GOLDEN TEXT—I will give you a son unto the Lord all the days of his life.—1 Samuel 1:11.

EVANGELICAL READING—Luke 14:28-33. ADDITIONAL MATERIAL FOR TEACHERS—Genesis 12:1-4; 13:7-12; 22:1-14.

1. Abraham Tested (vv. 1, 2).

God does not tempt men to sin (James 1:13), but he subjects them to right tests to prove them. In the treatment of Abraham we have a supreme example. God tested Abraham, not Lot. Sodom tested Lot. God tests the man who is proof against the tests of Sodom. God had promised Abraham an heir through whom blessings were to come to the world. For many years his faith was sorely tried in waiting for its fulfillment. At length, his heart rejoiced in the realization of that hope. In the lad in the patriarch's tent were wrapped Abraham's hopes of the future when his seed should come to the world. He was no ordinary expectation. The human affections and hopes were, no doubt, included; but a new nation was to spring from him, and Isaac was the sole link making the connection. Then, too, he saw the coming Redeemer, for "Abraham saw my day and was glad" (John 8:56). It is only as we thus see all that Isaac meant to his father and God's purpose for the future of the world, that we really can appreciate the crucial test that came to Abraham's faith. It is only as God is known to be almighty (Genesis 17:1) shall ability be given to give them up.

ii. Abraham Standing the Test (vv. 2-10).

1. On the way (vv. 3, 4). Abraham promptly obeyed. There was neither hesitancy nor arguing. God had issued his command. It is only as God is known to be almighty (Genesis 17:1) shall ability be given to give them up.

2. "Abide ye here" (v. 6). This testing experience was too sacred for human eyes to gaze upon. How like this the words of Jesus in Gethsemane: "Tarry ye here." Human sympathy is sweet and in its place, but we need to be alone in times of great testing. There are times when human sympathy hinders us from doing our duty. When Abraham said: "We will come down again, to you," he spoke sincerely, for he believed that God would give him Isaac back from the dead (Heb. 11:19).

3. Isaac bearing the wood upon which he is to be offered (vv. 6, 7). This reminds us of Christ bearing the cross on the way to Calvary. Isaac must have been now a young man. He did not resist or cry out, but graciously submitted, showing that he is making a willing sacrifice.

4. The angel of the Lord calls (vv. 8-12). At the critical moment when Abraham's hand had lifted the gleaming blade to make real the offering, God interferred. God did not want human sacrifice as a burnt offering, but he wanted Abraham to give up to him his best, the surrender of his will to him. God is always pleased with submissive obedience. "To obey is better than sacrifice." Many times we are face to face with the test of giving up our fondest hopes and purposes, but when we have met the test as Abraham did, we get back our offering or greater things instead.

iii. God Will Provide Himself a Lamb (vv. 13, 14).

Just behind Abraham was a ram caught in a thicket by his horns. Him Abraham offered instead of his son. In the words "God will provide himself a lamb" (v. 8) we have the whole plan of redemption outlined. God has provided the costly sacrifice of his Son to satisfy himself.

He who has no taste for order will be often wrong in his judgment and seldom considerate or conscientious in his actions.—Luther.

Value of the Bible. The Bible is to us what the star was to the wise men; but if we spend all our time in gazing upon it, observing its motions, and admiring its splendor and are not led to Christ by it, the use of it will be lost to us.—R. Adams.

Truths From on High. All human discoveries seem to be made only for the purpose of confirming more and more strongly the truths that come from on high and are contained in the sacred writings.—Herchel.

A Theater in Java. Java is an island dimly reminiscent to the Occidental mind of coffee and of brown, scantily clad natives. These are memories of the Java of our school books. The books rarely get far enough away from the business at hand to elaborate on the theaters of Java, which, the natives can tell you, are far more interesting than coffee plantations. The Javanese so enjoy the wandering theaters of their land that they will walk miles to see one of their epics or folk tales produced either by puppets or by real players. Wherever the manager sets up his stage and properties there is the jabbering Javanese crowd, eager for evening and the prospective treat.

Combined Effort. The great artist who paints a picture which compels the admiration of the world does not do so with one sweep of the brush in one moment of inspiration. The great masterpiece is the product of thousands of strokes of the brush, of infinitesimal bits of pigment put on the canvas layer after layer, each done with consummate art. Every tiny bit of paint, every swift stroke does its tiny part toward what becomes at last a marvel of ages. So must we work, stroke by stroke, a bit here and a bit there, until our masterpiece has been completed.

Perverse Action. "One's aim is everything," remarks a moralist. Don't know about that. Many a man has gone to the bad trying to be a good fellow.—Boston Transcript.

THE UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION has issued the following General Orders, effective Oct. 21 in all Public Eating Places. Patrons SHOULD, proprietors MUST, know the Rules, and live up to them. "Yanks"

By WILBUR D. NESBIT

There were 62 names in a recent casualty list. Twenty-two of those names were of men who were obviously of foreign blood. Joseph Maciejewski and George Verkoulas and Eggi Ganski and Thomas Villotto and Wesley Knutson and Toras Maximovitch were among them. So it went—Greek, Italian, Swede, Dane, Russian, Jew, Pole, German—you could find as many nationalities as you knew.

Yet they were all "Yanks." The casualty lists keep coming; the names keep pouring over the cable. Oh, yes, the Smiths, and Joneses and Browns are all there.

All the boys whose great-great-grandfathers and great-grandfathers and grandfathers and fathers have fought for liberty right here—their names are in the lists.

Yet, somehow, one's hand involuntarily goes up in salute to Szyperski and Mente and Schwarz—to these "Yanks" whose fathers and mothers just a few years back stepped from deck to dock and blinked their eyes in the knowledge that at last their dreams of freedom had come true.

Why, we folks who have lived here all our lives and who can't remember when our folks weren't native Americans—here's a rich blessing for us!

These people who came to our shores believing in us are proving their belief. Their boys are fighting for our common country and for our common beliefs and principles.

They are "Yanks"—God bless them! And every time you buy a Liberty Bond you put a newer and higher courage in the hearts of all our boys, but especially of those boys whose parents came here so that their sons might be free to fight for liberty if liberty had to be defended.

Every penny you lend our government in your investment in Liberty Bonds goes to give us a better army and navy.

There isn't a soul living who owns bonds of the first, second or third Liberty Loans who isn't proud of what he has helped to do for our country.

Now it is the Fourth Liberty Loan—bigger than was ever known before, and backed by greater resources than any investment you ever made.

Don't wait for the final "spurt," don't wait for the fire of enthusiasm; don't wait for speeches and parades and bands.

Buy your Liberty Bonds now, for you know you are going to buy them. You are not sacrificing a penny; you are not giving a cent.

You are lending your money; you get good interest for it; you get your money back.

Best of all, you are saying to Gerondo and Norvich and Nowatny and all the other boys who are fighting shoulder to shoulder with Smith and Jones and Brown:

"We Yanks are standing together! The old flag that our forefathers worshipped means more today than it ever did!"

McClellan of Belle Center, the bride's brother-in-law, assisted by Rev. J. Alvin Orr, D. D., of Pittsburg, a brother of the bride. The double ring ceremony was used and the service took place in the parlor before a bank of ferns, white and pink carnations. The dining room was decorated in pink and white while the other rooms were typical of the fall season in autumn leaves. The bridal couple was preceded by the bride's niece, Eleanor Orr as flower girl. The couple was unattended. The bride wore white satin with white drapery of georgette crepe, silver lace and pearl trimmings. Her tulle veil was held in cap fashion by rose buds and she carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Little Eleanor was in white and carried a white basket filled with pink rose buds. Miss Mary Cooper presided at the piano.

The bride and groom are graduates of Cedarville College, while Mr. Hill is also a graduate of Carnegie Technical School. Mr. Hill is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Hill of this place. HAS A MESSAGE FOR THE WOMEN

Government Considers Dairy Industry of the Greatest Importance.

ENGAGES EXPERTS' SERVICE

Prominent Women Educators Will Divide Their Time Between Washington and Columbus Until After the Great National Dairy Show is Over.

The government plainly considers the dairy interests of the country of extraordinary importance and believes that it has a message of great value to the women of the United States as is shown by the co-operation which is being extended to the National Dairy Show which will be held at Columbus, Ohio, October 10-19.

The government has reached out and commanded the services of two expert women from two of the leading universities of the country and has given them instructions to divide their time between Washington and Columbus until after the Dairy Show is over.

These women are Miss Emma Conroy, in charge of the home economics department of the University of Wisconsin, now on a year's leave of absence to the States Relations Service Committee of the Department of Agriculture, and Miss Jessie M. Hoover, who was dean of the home economics department of the University of Idaho before becoming attached to the dairy division of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Washington. After making a survey of the possibilities of the Dairy Show for delivering the message the government wants the American housewives to get, they have named the following committee to co-operate: Miss Edna N. White, director home economics, Ohio State University, and president American Home Economics Association; Miss Gertrude Van Hoosen, formerly of the University

SIRENS AND THEIR GETS AMONG THE EXHIBITS

Calamity Jane will not be at the National Dairy Show at Columbus, Ohio, October 10-19 this year.

Calamity Jane attracted more attention a year ago in ten days than in all the three years of her earlier experience.

But Calamity Jane is dead. She has gone the way of many another unprofitable cow.

She was one of the 8,000,000 cows in the United States which eat more than they produce. They may give a little milk, night or morning, but in reality they milk their owner. It is part of the purpose of the Dairy Show to inspire farmers and dairymen everywhere to know exactly what each cow in their herd is doing and whether or not it is a profitable investment.

Among the exhibits which impress this lesson will be a series of sirens and their gets, showing how intelligent breeding increases the output and consequently the profit of each generation of cows.

Menarche Good Business Man.

King George II of the Tonga Islands, in the Pacific, formerly known as the Friendly Islands, who died recently, was forty-four. He was the only Methodist monarch and governed on the most approved constitutional plan. On the matter of his own first marriage, however, he acted with much independence. Of two possible brides he favored his council that he had a "distinct preference" for the Princess Lavina. The council voted for her rival, whereupon the king stated that he would marry Lavina or nobody. The council gave way. Perceiving that money was to be made out of stamp collecting he issued new stamps about every three months and so made a good income until the governor of Fiji stopped him.

Never Too Old to Learn.

"I seem to learn something new every day," said a woman who was well-known as an excellent housekeeper and clever with her fingers. "Once I thought nobody could teach me anything; now I am willing to learn all the time, and find that I can learn something new from nearly everybody I meet. If we go on like this we shall become in time a really clever nation. There are still, however, a few unhappy women who refuse to move with the times and to get out of the groove their grandmothers got into; their housekeeping, he it said, is far from enviable.

Fond of Gay Colors.

Prized and unusually modest Remondans on orthography for a Balkan town, being split in only six different ways. It has no need for a water board, because the river Birtza, called the Ma. Itza by casual geographers, cuts the town in two, while in almost all the streets there are brooks that become torrents after heavy rains. The Prisenadlan "nuts" are the most gaudily dressed people in the Balkans, and the local basars blaze with garish garments, beside which the rainbow-hued neckties inflicted on innocent Englishmen at Christmas, would look drab.—London Chronicle.

Growth of Human Hair.

Even as it is the case with plants, so also the human hair grows better in the light than in the dark. The reason is because light and sunshine exert a stimulating influence upon the growth. It has often been observed that with men who work in offices and have one and the same side always turned toward the window, beard and mustaches grow much faster on the side turned to the light than on the other side.

"I understand Gribble was tried for embezzlement last Tuesday." "So he was." "Did his lawyer get him off?" "Yes, Gribble was off to the penitentiary last Wednesday."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Bethune's Far Away, But—

THIS belfry tower which has been bombarded off and on for years by the Germans is in Bethune. A long way from here is Bethune. A safe distance away. And the way our boys and their allies are giving it to the Hun these days there seems little likelihood that these German guns will ever get close enough to Portsmouth, Ohio, or Richmond, Ky., or Uniontown, Pa., to wreck any buildings. Era battle's tide turns quickly. One letdown by our boys or their comrades-in-arms and the Hun would again have the whip hand. The boys won't let down if they are kept fed, clothed and munitioned. Liberty Bonds are the agency which will keep them that way. How many are you buying?

What are Liberty Bonds? DEATH OF MRS. BEAL.

Mrs. Maria M. Beal, widow of Lieut. John M. Beal, died Sabbath at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. F. Hardy at Croyder's Point, White Stone Landing, Long Island.

The deceased was born on a farm on the Dayton and Xenia pike, December 23, 1833, and was the daughter of Benjamin and Catherine Minor. She has been a life long resident of the county except for the past year. For many years she made her home with her son-in-law, Mr. E. C. Watt. Several months ago Mrs. Beal suffered a fall which with rheumatic conditions caused her health to rapidly.

The funeral was held from the chapel at Woodland cemetery, Xenia, Tuesday afternoon, burial taking on the family lot. The services were conducted by her former pastor Dr. W. E. Fitch in the Union M. E. church, Cincinnati, assisted by Rev. J. W. Patton of the local congregation. Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hardy accompanied the remains and returned to their home Wednesday.

NO TRUTH WHATSOEVER.

The Washington O. H. Herald denies the truth of the report that five doctors were shot at Camp Sherman lately for spreading influenza germs. There is no truth whatever in the report according to the Herald.

Mr. A. T. Hanna of Idaville, Ind., was the guest of his brother, Mr. G. C. and family last week.

Misses Ruth Ramsey, who teaches at Owensville, Irene Wright and Helen Ogden, who teach at Ansonia, are home, their schools having been closed during the influenza.

Mr. T. N. Tarbox and family were called to Dayton the first of the week owing to the serious illness of their daughter, Miss Eula Tarbox, who has pneumonia. Her fever has dropped and owing to the change left her heart very weak.

Miss Elsie Shroades, who teaches at Maple Corners, is very ill at her home with pneumonia.

Mrs. Thomas Whitridge of Columbus, visited her sister, Mrs. Nora Payne and C. E. Payne and family, Tuesday. During the evening Jesse Whitridge and wife of Xenia, Fringle Whitridge and wife of South Charleston, were also guests at the Payne home.

A number of citizens from this vicinity have been attending the National Dairy Show in Columbus, which opened last Thursday and closes Saturday.

Owner of small child's overshoe can get same at this office and pay the cost of this notice.

Two privates from the medical corps of the army post at Xenia died within a few hours Tuesday afternoon, both having pneumonia. One was Andrew Gorman of Amott, Kan., and the other was Private Roebere.

For Sale—Good sound general purpose horse. Wm. Marshall.

Dr. Leo Anderson was a business visitor in Columbus, Thursday.

All those who have sewing for their buildings will please return it to Mrs. J. E. Hastings.

A number of buildings about town are undergoing repairs as the result of an inspection by a deputy of the State Fire Marshal's office. The order calls for re-roofing of barns and residences and also the demolition of unkept buildings. This order must be obeyed or the property owner be subject to a fine. This will be welcome news to all property owners who are interested in the security of property against fire.

Miss Kate Nisbet has been bedfast most of the week due to an attack of influenza.

The public sale of Mrs. Homer Jobe on Wednesday drew a large crowd. Mr. Jobe was an extensive breeder of sheep he had a wide reputation. The sale was widely advertised in the newspapers in this as well as adjoining counties and the amount to more than $9,000.

Wilmington has 1000 cases of influenza and more than a score of well known citizens have died as the result of the epidemic. The physicians are unable to give proper medical care to all because of a shortage of nurses. In Peble county last Friday and Saturday forty-eight deaths were reported in that many hours according to press reports.

Why The Government Stopped Beer Brewing

From the OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE CENSUS OF 1910 (VOLUME 111), the figures for the following comparison are taken. The four essential industries—Boots and Shoes, Bread and Bakery Products, Men's Clothing and Printing and Publishing—when compared with Beer Brewing are here shown:

	No. Estab- lishments	Coal Used (in tons)
Four Essential Industries	63,743	1,914,998
Beer Brewing	1,414	2,990,867

It will be noticed that the four essential industries used an average of 28 tons of coal annually for each establishment, in manufacturing their indispensable and invaluable output—a total for all of 1,814,638 tons.

The nonessential industry, beer brewing, wasted an average of 2,114 tons of coal annually in each establishment, in manufacturing its injurious products, a total of 2,990,867 tons.

It is for such reasons as this that the people will vote Ohio dry on November 5, and that the Ohio legislature will ratify the National prohibition amendment at its January session.

Loyal Americans, Stop this Traffic and thus Help Win the War—Vote Ohio Bone Dry on Nov. 5, 1918

Sergeant Brown was hard to satisfy

Captives
WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN THE CHAMPAGNE, July 18 (United Press)—After killing on capturing the crews of four machine guns and raking a German-filled trench with his automatic rifle until the survivors surrendered, Sergt. J. F. Brown walked into American headquarters late yesterday with 150 prisoners.
"I am sorry, sir," that I was unable to bring in all I had," he said in reporting, "but four of the wounded died on me."
Brown, separated from his platoon, and the Four machine-gun crews to his credit was a pretty fair record for one day's work. But why leave a perfectly good trench half filled with Germans? Brown didn't.

The hail of machine-gun bullets could not stop him. He was not thinking of them. Shrapnel was bursting all around him. He did not heed. His rifle was so hot he couldn't touch it, so he laid it in the hollow of his arm and kept on firing; the Huns kept on yelling "Kamerad!" and throwing down their guns. Brown forgot danger and death, he forgot that he was alone against a hundred and fifty Germans. He forgot everything but his job—Victory. And he walked proudly into camp with one hundred and fifty-nine prisoners.

We've got a big job over here, too. We must provide guns and shells and food and clothing for men with the spirit of Sergeant Brown—to send them forward to victory. Let's do our job as he did his—fearlessly, persistently joyously.

Let's lend as he fought—let's buy Liberty Bonds to our utmost
