FORTY-THIRD YEAR NO. 31.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JULY 30, 1920

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

COLLEGE NEEDS EXTRA FUNDS

The College Bulletin just issued gives a list of contributors to the institution the past year for various purposes.

Cedarville College like other educational institutions has been in the need of funds owing to the constantly increasing cost of operation.

As we all know the college professor and most other professional men in educational work are not over paid in any respect.

The presence of Cedarville College in the community has been marked in many different ways.

For this reason money advances for the college is returned many times and in many ways.

The college revenue has not kept pace with the increasing cost of upkeep. Right at the present time the salary fund is in need of $3000 to meet increased salaries for the faculty.

The families, parents, and girls to educate their children in this situation far different than many others.

The college received liberal support last year but the needs are far greater this year.

NOTHING SERIOUS IN AUTO ACCIDENT

There was a bad automobile accident on the Clifton pike late Friday afternoon at the intersection of the old Tanyard road and the Springfield pike.

Alfred Swaby was driving south on the Springfield pike in his Olds eight and an Oakland owned by Wilmet Stewart, driven by his daughter, Mrs. Stackford McCullough, drove onto the pike from the side road.

The damage to each machine was considerable. The accident should be a warning to all drivers that the man on the through road, the principle street has right of way.

STATE IS OVER INSPECTED

A state inspector dropped into town Tuesday. However this is nothing unusual. Inspectors are so thick in Ohio these days the average business man or manufacturer hardly has the time to tend to his own business.

When he is not entertaining one of these political henchmen he is busy making out some kind of a state report which will keep some clerk in Columbus busy to enable him to live off the state.

This inspector lays down some rules for the garage that the school board must erect to house the new trucks that are coming.

Under the rules anyone, schoolboard, city, merchant or farmer that erects a garage to accommodate three machines must have it built of certain material.

Such a garage is held to be a public garage. As for heating no stove, furnace, boiler or other heating plant can be located in the building.

It is time for some one to rebel against such orders. Certainly no court or jury would uphold such unreasonable rules.

Why the rule does not make two machines a minimum we do not know; neither do we know why it was not ten instead of three.

The garage the school board expects to erect is in open territory and not near a single building. If it should take fire and burn, every single person out of town no other property could be in danger.

We believe the taxpayers would back the board in going ahead and building such a building as has been contemplated regardless of the state. To build under such rules as the state has laid down there is no telling what the cost will be.

We believe in recognition of state laws and regulations but here is one that should be rebuked and we hope the board tests it out.

DOVER INTEREST SET OFF. The commission named by the court to partition the J. C. Barber estate as a result of a partition suit brought by the widow for her dower interest recommended the set-off of the store room on Main street.

The estate of J. C. Barber, deceased, is being administered by the court. The store room on Main street is being set off to the widow as her dower interest.

County Gets Money. The sum of $5004.70 has been turned over to the county treasurer by the National Surety Co. of New York to cover the shortage in the accounts of the former clerk of court, George W. Sheets.

This sum is for the actual shortage and interest. Some day the history of this case may be written when it is we want it to cover the two alleged reformers have had in it by offering their services to help pick a jury that would exonerate the ex-convict. Some new developments in the case are coming out most daily.

IMPROVING KENIA AVENUE. The county commissioners have granted the use of the road roller and other machinery to roll the stone on Kenia avenue. A coat of screenings will be placed over the stone before the street is rolled.

This street connects up with the Columbus pike improvement on each side of town. The corporation is greatly obligated to the commissioners for this use of the equipment.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1930.

TWO YEARS AGO AND NOW.

Two years ago we had a Republican primary campaign in this county. Now two years ago is not so far back but the public has had as many things to think about in that time that events of those days have passed out of memory with many.

During the past two years one Lincoln Funderburg took his place as sheriff of the county having been nominated in August 1918 after a very bitter fight that was marked with all the black-hand methods then known in politics in this county.

At that time Mr. Funderburg made the fatal mistake of not making application to the Gowdy-Marshall faction as to whether he could run for the nomination for sheriff. For that reason he was marked for slaughter by the little king of the band of reformers at the primary and again at the regular election.

At that time "Link" was pictured as a drunkard, horse-thief, a man without a reputation. A regular criminal at large. That is the way he was tagged by the Gowdy-Marshall crowd that passed the lies under a guise of reform.

His two years of service to the county have been just what his private life was in Bath township where he owned a farm and was a respectable citizen. You heard such reports under cover against Funderburg two years ago but since he has been sheriff you have never heard yet one complaint of his service. He is to be nominated without opposition for the second term and his name is never mentioned by the crowd that drew dark pictures of him two years ago.

The same kind of stories are going the round about certain candidates this year. Beware of them. The experience of two years ago should be proof to question such reports and especially when they come from men who have an axe to grind. No one set of men possess or have control of the political virtues of the electorate nor can they will they do any different thing in the past.

Less than twelve years ago a certain reformer was running for county clerk. He charged his opponent with spending money to corrupt the electorate. Such things were done openly in those days but the reformer while trying to center such charges on his opponent was grossly guilty of doing the same thing himself in Cedarville.

Many good men have been attracted by such stories in the past and would endeavor by word of mouth to give a good cause a boost. But they were not long connected with such a band until they were convinced that they had been deceived. For the same practices that were being laid at the door of others were being indulged in by the so-called reformers on the theory that one wrong can be committed to right another. Men that have had this experience and did not care to indulge in politics as a game in this county have withdrawn their support to the sham reformers.

PASSENGER FARES.

The increase allowed the railroad employees amounted to $600,000,000, or about $3 for every man, woman and child in this country. It has been proposed to raise both freight and passenger fares to cover this huge expenditure. Of the latter there will be strong opposition. As the great majority are living today the largest part of the increased revenue for the railroads should be paid by increased passenger fares. There is more travel today than necessary in most instances with every class of people, rich and poor alike. A higher passenger fare would keep more people at home producing as they should be. It would also be a tax on the wealthy who ride from one end of the country to the other for pleasure alone. Such passenger increase would necessarily hit those of moderate circumstances who are at some time or another compelled to travel. But they can well afford to pay this increase rather than have it all put on freight. We can never hope for clothing, food products, shoes, etc., to be cheaper with constantly increasing freight rates.

Rush for Free Molasses. / When a tank car filled with 8,000 gallons of molasses was used near Telford, Pa., and the molasses began to run out, people came by scores, on foot, in carriages and by automobiles, and salvaged some hundreds of gallons of molasses before the railroad men plugged the opening and left dozens of disappointed ones waiting to get at the outflow.

Three Miles of Marble Caves.
Amid the wilds of southwestern Oregon, almost unknown to the world at large, is situated a series of underground chambers and passages remarkable for their size and for the beauty and unusual character of their decorations. Within the last few years they have been made a national monument, and are now known as the Marble Caves of Oregon. The caves consist of three miles and a half of marble passages and grottoes, ranging from one story to four or five stories in height. In places the connecting corridors are so low that one must crawl on all fours for a considerable distance. Elsewhere the chambers are so large that the opposite walls and ceilings are scarcely visible in the dim candlelight. The largest measures more than 300 feet high.

No Danger.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(BY REV. H. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1916, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR AUGUST 1

DAVID BRINGS THE ARK TO JERUSALEM.

LESSON TEXT—II Sam. 6:1-19; Ps. 24:1-10.

GOLDEN TEXT—Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise.—Ps. 118:24.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Ex. 25:10-22; II Sam. 6:2-5; Heb. 9:2-30.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Thanking God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Ark of God Brought to Jerusalem.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What the Ark Meant to Israel.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Making Religion Central.

The ark was a symbol of the presence of God in Israel. It represented God's throne, the place from which he communicated his will to the people through the priest (Ex. 25:22; Psalms 80:1).

I. David's Unsuccessful Attempt to Bring Up the Ark (vv. 1-5).

This is an example of a wrong way of doing a right thing. That the ark of the Lord of Hosts, the symbol of God's presence, should be brought to the very center of the nation's life was a decision worthy of all praise. It surely met God's approval. David gathered together the representative men of the nation in order that the movement might be a national one. That David was sincere in this measure cannot be doubted, but he was hasty and inconsiderate. God had expressly decreed that the Kohathites should bear the ark upon their shoulders (Num. 4:14, 15; 7:1, 13, 15). For them to place it even upon a new cart was a positive violation of God's commandment. Though David was sincere, his sincerity did not atone for disobedience to God's Word. The dictum that matters little, or even do, just so you are honest and sincere, is one of the Devil's blackest lies. It mattered much in this case, and always does. David cannot be excused on the ground of ignorance, because he had the opportunity to know. God cannot be blamed for man's ignorance when he has given him the law and the ability to understand it.

II. God Vindicates His Law and Holiness (vv. 6-9).

The people were very joyful as they moved on toward Jerusalem with the ark, but suddenly there was a stop to their jubilant voices and music. At some rough place in the road the oxen stumbled and Uzzah, anxious for the precious freight on his cart, reached forth his hand to steady it. This resulted in his being stricken with death. Ignorance does not make a man immune from the death which is in the touch of the heavily charged electric wire; neither does it in the case of the violation of God's laws. Even those who were designated by the Lord to carry the ark were not allowed to touch it with their hands. Since the ark was God's dwelling place among men, they needed to know that he was holy. God's judgment was severe, but not more so than they deserved. This awful visitation of just judgment, terror to David. Well it might, for he was in the path of disobedience. The Lord's presence has no terror for those who obey his word.

III. The Ark of God in the House of Obad-Edom (vv. 10-12).

The presence of Jehovah always brings blessing where he is welcomed. God is welcomed are always blessed. Obad-Edom was not better personally than Uzzah and David, but he openly received the Lord and properly related himself to him. What had been death and dread to others was life and blessing to him.

IV. The Ark Brought to Jerusalem With Great Joy (vv. 13-19).

1. Sacrifices offered after going six paces (v. 13). David made the start and when convinced of God's approval he made offerings. These were both burnt and peace offerings, typifying his self-dedication of the offerers and their thanksgiving (I Chron. 16:1).

2. David's great joy (vv. 14, 15). The people joined him with great shouting and with the sound of the trumpet.

3. Michal's criticism (v. 16). Even though David went to excess in his expression of joy, it was wrong in her to criticize, for God seems to have sanctioned David's rebuke of her (v. 23).

4. The grand celebration (vv. 17-19). As a token of his gratitude to God, David generously treated the people.

5. The King of glory, the Lord Jesus Christ coming (Psalms 24:7-10).

This was not the psalm composed by David for the occasion of bringing up the ark; that was Psalm 105 (see I Chron. 16). It is strange that such a suggestion should have been made. The Twenty-fourth Psalm pictures Christ as the coming and triumphant King. At that time the gates shall open to him and the King of glory shall come in.

Self-Judgment.

Turn thine eyes unto thyself, and beware thou judge not the deeds of other men. In judging of others a man laboreth in vain, often erreth, and easily sloneth; but in judging and examining himself, he always laboreth fruitfully.—Thomas a Kempis.

Amiable People.

Amiable people, though often subject to imposition in their contact with the world, yet radiate so much of sunlight that they are reflected in all appreciative hearts.—Delany.

Simple Explanation.

Why is it that fishes make no disturbance when swimming through the water, although there is a rushing noise when a stone is hung in? This is explained by the fact that, in the latter case, it is the filling of the cavity that is made, rather than the mere impact, which causes the noise, whereas the body of the fish is so shaped that when it moves through the water it leaves no such cavity behind it and therefore there is no disturbance.

Mr. Edison's Wonderful Realism Test

Come in and hear it!

Are you interested to know just how realistic the New Edison is? The Realism Test is a test you can make yourself. Takes 5 minutes. Stop in at our store. Try it. Mark the extraordinary result.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul!"

The realism of a phonograph is the measure of its value. Edison proves the absolute realism of his new phonograph. His first proof is the Tone Test. The singer stands beside the New Edison. He sings. Suddenly he ceases to sing. The New Edison continues the song alone. If there were any difference between the two, the human ear could detect it instantly. What is the result? Four thousand of these Tone Tests have been given. Three million people have heard them. No one has ever found any difference. The second proof is the Realism Test. You can't deny what you can hear for yourself. Come and make the Realism Test.

YOUNGSTERS HAVE TOO MUCH SPENDING MONEY

Judge Geiger of Springfield Has Developed Unique Methods in Handling Boys.

"Many youngsters who are committing minor offenses today are beset by temptations which were unknown to boys and girls of the last generation. Instead of being too harsh, we should take steps to remove some of these new pitfalls."

This is the firm opinion of Judge Frank W. Geiger of Springfield, who is one of the candidates before the Republican primaries on Aug. 10 for nomination as chief justice of the supreme court, and who is known in legal circles not alone for his widely quoted legal opinions, but for the success with which he has presided over the Springfield juvenile court for many years.

Judge Geiger is now on the Clark county common pleas bench, but he is a pioneer in juvenile court work and was one of the drafters of the Ohio law. When he left the probate court in 1914, control of the juvenile court was transferred to his new judicial position—in recognition of his ability to handle child problems.

"Youths are spending far more money than is good for them," Judge Geiger says. "With their pockets full

Revenge is wrong. Let alone that the wisest and best of all judges has pronounced it, it blackens the hearts of men. It discards their sense of right. It sets them to devise evil. It causes them to think unjustly of others. It is not the noblest return for injury, not even the bravest way of meeting it. The greatest courage is to bear persecution, not to answer when you are reviled, and when a wrong has been done you to forgive.

Traits of the Grizzly.

So great is the strength of the grizzly bear that he can break the neck of a cow, horse or elk with a single blow and then rip the animal open from one end to the other with a single stroke. In earlier days he had no fear of man, but now will run if he sees one, unless he is disturbed in his feeding or is wounded, when he becomes a veritable demon of hate and rage. He is naturally of a mean, suspicious nature, and is hard to trap. He often tears a trap to pieces, just to show his contempt for the trapper. If disabled, ill or wounded by a bullet, or attacked by wolves or other wild animals, he will fight until the last, and while he may be finally killed he exacts a terrible toll and dies with his face to the foe. He is able to travel rapidly by means of a lope, and resembles, when running, a big boy playing leap frog.

Beliefs That Center About Pearls.

Many superstitious beliefs prevail in the East concerning pearls, those gems of the ocean deeps. For instance, it is a common practice (only among the rich, needless to say) to powder a pearl and swallow it either as a tonic for falling vigor or to ward off impending disease or ill luck; or a maiden may rub her eyes with a pearl and thereafter, by merely gazing at a man, she may make him her slave!

Honesty in Word and Deed

Growing Since 1877

You Have Helped to Build This Big Business--Now You Can Share In Its Profits

Since 1877 when this store first came into being and took its place at the head of the public serving mercantile establishments of Springfield, the patronage and friendship of the farmer and his neighbors in the smaller towns and cities within a radius of 25 miles, has always been a source of much pride and satisfaction. Founded 43 years ago by the late Edward Wren, the history of this store has been one of steady, substantial growth from year to year, until now it is known and recognized not only in Springfield and surrounding territory, but in the large eastern market centers as well, as one of the largest and most progressive department stores in all Ohio. With the announcement recently made that prominent business men of Springfield and Cincinnati had combined in its purchase from the Edward Wren heirs, the destiny of the store from now on, promises even greater progress than the past has witnessed. Realizing that no small part of the store's past success has been due to the unfailing support of the patrons in the surrounding towns and rural districts adjacent to Springfield, and determined to merit its continuation in the future, the new owners have decided to
