PRICE $1.00 A YEAR.

FALL FESTIVAL OPENS MONDAY.

Dayton, O. Visitors to this city during the week of Sept 19 will find some big event going forward every day. The exposition will be opened by Gov. Harmon Monday. An immense historical and pageant will be given that day which is to be a local holiday with all shops and stores closed. Tuesday will be Sister Cities Day, when the mayors and representatives of various cities and towns in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky will be present, with crowds of citizens. Wednesday will witness the automobile and floral parade a gorgeous spectacle. Thursday will be aviation day, when the great balloon race with eight starters will be held. This will be the big day of the week. Friday will be Secret Societies Day and Saturday Venetian Carnival Day. The European Hippodrome shows, the band concerts, the Wright aeroplane flights, the exposition of Dayton-Made products, the Kline Exposition Shows, and the six great special free acts will be seen every afternoon and evening all week.

SPECIAL PRICES GIVEN ON WIRE FENCE.

For a short time I will make remarkably low prices on wire fence. This fence is not an all steel wire but an iron wire which the government chemists claim to be the nearest to pure iron as there is on the market. One lot 47 inches high all number nine wire at 87 cents per rod or 86 cents per rod if cash with the order. Poultry fence 68 inches high, 19 wire, 6 stay the best fence on the market for 46 cents per rod, or 45 cents, cash with the order. These prices will move this fence with a rush and intending buyers had better get their order in without delay.

$100 Rewards $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, J. J. Check Your Cold just as quickly as possible. One can never tell what a cold will develop into. Our A. D. S. COLD CURE is a never failing antidote for colds. It makes no difference whether the cold is in the incipient stage or well advanced. It is guaranteed to cure. Price 25 cents. 30 tablets in box. Wisterman's Pharmacy

How Katydid Went to Church.

BY LIDA D. ARCHER.
"All thy works shall praise Thee; O Lord."
Out in the yard the house beside
Some dainty white lilies grew;
Each morn some buds were open wide
Drinking the sunshine and dew.
They were waxy,—fragrant as well,
Cymbals of purity sweet,
The petals shaped like a bell
For clapper the stamens complete.
Some katydids living near by,
I think in an althea tree,
One evening decided to try
How a lily bell would be—
For comfort; 'twas cold in the tree;
They jumped into the bell
Found it cozy as it could be
And so soft and sweet as well.
So this is what Katy didn't do;
The rest they did—they didn't toll.
For safe in the hall they were hid,
Where I could not see them well.
But I am sure they cuddled down
In the fragrant lily flowers,
(With no cross words, with ne'er a frown.)
To sleep till the morning hours.
When the morning came I will state,
'Twas a bright, sweet Sabbath day,
The katydids slept quite late
And they had no chance to say—
Katydid or didn't want to go
To church this morning so bright,
But the lilies to church would go,
We would decorate with white.
So I cut the dainty flowers,
(And made a lovely bouquet)
Which the sunshine and showers
Made burst into bloom that day.
And placed the pure sweet token
On the pulpit near God's word,
Where words of life would be spoken
And by many people heard.
Katydid's who had gone to sleep
Rode to church in coach lily bell
Awoke startled, but did not speak,
And I think katydid well.
But they sang quite a song of praise
Sitting on the coach bell rim,
And helped God's people raise
Songs of rejoicing to Him.
We may learn from what they did
When they hid in the lily pure
That we may be safely hid,
In the refuge most secure.

Fall About Twenty Feet.

Mr. Stewart Townsley while engaged in putting a roof on the residence at the Robert Jackson farm, Wednesday, stepped on a loose shingle and lost his balance, falling to the ground. He struck the veranda roof and a tree which retarded his fall, thus saving him a more serious injury than a dislocated and sprained left ankle.

LATE WHEAT THIS FALL.

A little more Hessian fly than usual has been found scattered over the state this season and since we have had no general outbreak of this pest for some years and its parasites may therefore be presumed to be somewhat scarce, it will be best for Ohio farmers to sow a trifle later rather than early this fall. The normal date for sowing in northern Ohio is from the 15th to the 22nd of September, for central Ohio a week or ten days later, and for southern Ohio the last few days in September or a little better, the first two weeks of October. By the normal date we mean the date which will produce the largest yield, providing that no insect pests overturn the natural expectation. The normal date for sowing is determined not by the entomologist but by the agronomist, and rests upon the average results of sowing grain upon any given date through a long period of years. Only occasionally it is advisable for the entomologist to advise that there be a departure from seeding at the normal time. There is generally no danger, even from Hessian fly, if sowing does not precede the normal date, and at present we think it is hardly necessary to suggest any further departure from the normal custom that is to say if departed from at all, this fall, the seeding should be in the direction of a week or ten days later than usual, rather than that much earlier. The dry weather will doubtless cooperate to destroy many of the pupae or "flaxseeds" of the Hessian fly by desiccation and in those sections where the drought has been severe and long continued there is probably no use for apprehension.
We have become satisfied that no calculable advantage is gained against the wheat joint worm by departing from the normal date, either in the direction of early or late sowing. The degree of infestation will depend upon the stage of development reached by the grain at the time the eggs are laid by the jointworm fly in the spring. Sometimes the early sown grain proves best, and again it is the late which is best to sow at the normal time and having given proper attention to preparation of the seed bed and to fertilizing, abide the result. Still, heavy-strawed varieties will stand the attacks of both Hessian fly and joint worm better than small, weak-strawed varieties. In some neighborhoods where jointworm is exceptionally severe it may be advisable to substitute rye for wheat.—Experimental Station.

Don't select a hat that will make you look like a human pickeral just because it is becoming to some man with a pike jaw. George Ade or Wallace Irvin said there are just four types of face: The fat face, the fatous face, the four flush face and the human face. This proves he never tended a hat store. From our experience we know there are just as many kinds of faces as there are pocketbooks and here are the new Fall hats to fit them all.

Watt & Foust Sell Winner.

The firm of Watt & Foust, breeders of Dorse Jersey hogs, sold the grand champion of their herd, "Good E. Nutt", to William Robbins, the well known Clark county breeder for $1000 dollars. This animal won the grand championship at the State Fair and is regarded as one of the best ever bred in this country.
The hog now weighs 970 pounds and when in full flesh will reach 1,200. Watt & Foust estimate their winnings and sales at Columbus over $2,000. They captured five firsts, five seconds, two thirds, two championships and one grand championship.

"JIMTOWN FAIR" NEXT WEEK.

A large number of people from this vicinity will be in attendance next week at the Jamestown Fair and Annual Home Coming. The program is an extensive one and calls for "plenty doing" all the three days. The racing program is extra good and it would be hard to pick the best day in this regard. Horses from all over the state will be at Jamestown as the purses were raised this year and it is late in season and there are fewer places to race there are more horses racing. The balloon ascensions this year will be novel, the aeronaut making what is called single, double, and triple ascents in parachutes, something absolutely new in this section of the country. Plenty of attractions have been secured for the midway and they will be clean, well in the Art Hall, which is 80x110 feet this year, there will be extensive and beautiful displays from merchants and private parties. A public Department with cash prizes has been added. The Stallion show on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock will be interesting to all as well as the show of work teams on Friday morning.

John W. Zuber, state fire marshal says: It has frequently been stated and is capable of demonstration that nearly four-fifths of the fires which occur in this country are due to easily preventable causes. When one remembers that there occur here annually four and five thousand fires means an average loss of $1200, is it not a fearful indictment to say four-fifths of this might easily have been prevented?

—NOTICE— I am now connected by telephone through the Cedarville exchange and persons having hay for sale can call me direct. I also have the Bell and Home phone. Will Grant.

POWER OF COUNTRY PAPER.

The power of the age is the country newspaper. It goes into quiet of the court-yard and becomes a competent tutor to every member of the household. It is indeed a public benefactor, a propagator of all good and useful measures, there fore about the best friend of the race. It has great educative powers. It places humanity in one school and gives to each member equal rights with the other. It is not a respecter of persons; it goes into the novel and modern home and it carries the same message to all, as the years deepen into the century, year brings a needed changed a decided improvement. All classes looked to it for information, for suggestion and for publicity. Corporations know of its worth, all classes of business seek its support and all conditions of humanity come to it for aid. The country press will never die. Its columns may be abused, they may carry messages that are worthless, and ineffective for good, yet, the time is fast arriving when the ideal country journal will begin its history. The time is already here when the people are asking for better things and the careful journal is meeting their demands and profiting by their requests. Let the good work go on until the entire country press will stand for every uplifting measure and for the principles and ideas that build for the betterment of all the race.—EX.

HIS FIRST YEAR HARD

Taft had Early Troubles in Philippines Before His Triumph There. It has been recently called to mind that there has been great similarity in the experience of President Taft during the first year of his administration and his experience as governor general of the Philippines the first twelve months he was stationed at the Pacific Islands.

There was no change in the Taft policy; no deviation in the Taft method, but long, long before he left the islands to become secretary of war, Mr. Taft had won over all opposition, was toasted by the army, praised by the civilians, and canonized by the natives.
