CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1910

PRICE $1.00 A YEAR.

Republican Candidate for Governor of Ohio

HON. WARREN G. HARDING, REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR, SAYS:

Our party is a progressive political army. Nobody is standing pat if that means still. Nobody ever associates the Democratic party with the question of progress.

The Republican party has not obstructed, it has constructed. It has not pretended, it has performed.

Constructive Republicanism offers the most and does the best for the state and nation.

The wholesome awakening of the restored country by Theodore Roosevelt was Republican just as the honest continuation and consecration of William H. Taft is Republican.

Don't abolish our time tried bipartisan management of state institutions.

I preach economy and mean to demand it, but favor no stinginess with helpless wards.

The thieves and grafters who cloaked themselves in Republican or Democratic respectability were traitors to party and people.

The public weal demands adjustment by arbitration in disputes of public service corporations.

Small Boy Slightly Injured.

An accident happened on Xenia avenue Thursday noon as school was out that for an instant took the breath of all who saw it. Messrs. George Siegler and J. W. Johnson were driving in the former's automobile and had slowed down at the crossing to let the school line pass.

One little fellow, Robert Kinney, colored, aged six, broke line and ran directly in front of the machine. Some of his schoolmates endeavored to hold him but the little fellow did not realize the danger and was struck by the machine and thrown to the ground.

The machine was stopped in an instant. The boy had been stunned by the fall and was unconscious for a few minutes. He was taken at once to Dr. J. O. Stewart's office, where an examination was made. Outside of several bruises and scratches about the head no other injuries could be found.

HUMAN LIFE FOR OCTOBER.

With the advent of Autumn comes the long evenings, when a really good magazine adds immeasurably to the happiness and well-being of the whole family. Human Life is the good old English roast beef of the magazine menu—a substantial meat in itself. It deals with living men and women, whose lives and acts are American history in the making. Parents do themselves and their growing boys and girls a wrong who omit it from the evening circle.

The October issue is a tempting one. In the opening article Frederic W. Coburn tells the fascinating story of one of America's greatest Captains of Industry—Theodore N. Vail, whose strong hand guides the destinies of that gigantic organization, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. A wonderful story of a modern Napoleon of finance and organization.

Thomas Dreier tells how Elizabeth Towne, one of the most potent leaders in New Thought, conquered poverty and unhappiness through a knowledge of the great truths she had tested in the crucible of her own experience.

Next to Roosevelt's own books it is safe to say that nothing published in this country today is attracting anything like the eager reading accorded Alfred Henry Lewis's great serial, "The Story of Roosevelt." His pen pictures of the great political leaders of Roosevelt's day reveal facts that fill the reader with amazement.

Among the other strong features that make up this splendid number are: "Dave Ranny, Mender of Men;" "Ida Conquest and Her Philosophy of Clothes;" "The Real Founder of the House of Governors;" "Gavin McNab, Olean Boss of San Francisco;" "Modern Mortals;" "Celebrities of the Day;" "The Camera on Folk of the Hour;" Etc.—Human Life Publishing Co., Boston.

An Aim in Life. An aim in life is the only fortune worth finding; and it is not to be found in foreign lands, but in the heart itself.

End of the Courtship. "She referred me to her father." "And what did he say?" "He said that was her way of letting undesirable suitors down easy, and gave me a five-cent cigar."

DEATH OF W. M. BARBER.

Death removed one of the oldest and most prominent citizens last Saturday afternoon when William Martin Barber was called to his reward at 1:20 o'clock. Having enjoyed good health for one past 90 years of age Mr. Barber was subject to a severe cold more than a month ago which aggravated troubles that bordered on Bright's disease with uraemic poisoning developing at the last which caused him intense suffering for several days previous to his death. He was confined to his bed about two weeks.

The deceased was born May 6, 1820, and was a native of this county and Cedarville township, his parents being John and Sarah (Martin) Barber. The father was a native of Pennsylvania and located in this county where he had purchased a large tract of land. In this family were eleven children, William Martin being the second in the order of birth. One of that family survives, Mrs. Hester Townsley, widow of the late James Townsley.

His early training on the farm with a limited education in an old log school house were the basis of success of later years. About 1841 Mr. Barber moved to town and with his eldest brother Samuel G. purchased and operated a saw mill on what is now the site of the flour mill west of town. Later he purchased the Couden mill that was located in the heart of the village and was operated by water power, the dam being a few feet west of the Main Street bridge. This mill was operated for many years with a great degree of success owing to capable management. During the war part of the present Barber block was erected where Mr. Barber and C. M. Grouse started in the hardware business and which place still continues under the management of the latter.

During these years Mr. Barber was connected with the early development of not only the county, but the village as well and always stood for the betterment of the community. With his brother Samuel they contracted with the Miami railroad company to do the grading for the "deep fill" west of town, two years of labor being required for this work which cost the lives of many workmen due to cholera. They also had charge of the grading on the Springfield & Xenia branch when this line was constructed.

Mr. Barber was twice married. On February 9, 1848 he was joined in wedlock to Nancy Townsley, daughter of Enos Townsley but death terminated this union on May 4, 1855, and four children were left to mourn a mother's loss, Mrs. L. G. Bull, Mr. Henry M. Barber, Mrs. J. H. Andrew and Mrs. Josie M. Grouse, who died four years ago last February. On November 22, 1861, Mr. Barber took as his second wife Mary M. Mead of Granville, O., and of this union two daughters survive, Mrs. W. L. Marshall of Xenia and Miss Lulu at home.

At the time of the Civil War Mr. Barber was made a member of the Volunteer Company of Xenia and was stationed at Fort Chase at the time of the Morgan raid.

The deceased was the last surviving member of the original Neptune Fire Company. A company organized years ago to give the village fire protection. At that time Mr. Barber, with a number of others banded together and purchased the old hand engine, "Neptune" that for many years did valiant service and won fame for the village in many a

INDICTMENTS ON FIRST DEGREE.

The special grand jury drawn to consider the cases of Charles Justice and John Dugger on charges of first degree murder returned indictments last Friday afternoon after a two day session.

Indictments were returned against each for murder in the first degree for the killing of John Shoup, while attempting to steal chickens. Both men were indicted also on a charge of shooting with intent to kill of William Shoup. The jury examined forty-five witnesses.

The jury was composed of the following men: J. S. McClure, Milton Shaw, C. K. Wolf, Charles Hook, Omer Parker, Matt Kump, John Lloyd, William Tibb, A. D. Kyles, W. A. Spahr, John Hamston, Shem McDonald, J. E. Jones, C. F. Logan and Wm. Grotendiek.

Justice and Dugger were brought back to Xenia Friday night from Dayton where Sheriff Applegate took the men on the Monday evening following the shooting. At that time it was feared that trouble might break out in Xenia and the men lynched.

Under the law neither of the men can plead guilty to a charge of first degree murder. The trial must come at a regular term of court which will be after October 15.

Death Of Dr. James Bell.

Dr. James R. Bell died Saturday September 24 at 6:15 a. m. lacking seventeen days of being 81 years old. His services were held at the home of his son, O. V. Bell, 28 Erie Ave. Dayton, Ohio, Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The interment was at Cedarville, O., Tuesday morning.

Dr. Bell was born in Washington county, Pa., October 12, 1824. He was united in marriage to Miss S. L. Van Emmanus, April 1st 1850. In April 1851 they united in profession of faith with the Presbyterian church at Antrim, Ohio. At the time of his death he was a member of the Second U. P. church at Dayton. Dr. Bell served as physician and surgeon in the U. S. Army from June 1861 to June 1864.

Dr. Bell used to visit at Cedarville with his daughter Mrs. Ella Bell Prantz. Here he made friends by his cheerful disposition. His conversation was always chaste, he despised the vulgar, he loved the pure.

The friends at Cedarville extend their sympathy to the bereaved children and grand children.

He was laid to rest by the side of his wife in the beautiful Massies creek cemetery. Rev. W. E. Pott officiated at the burial.

The following are the pallbearers: W. M. Harbison, T. V. Hill, R. F. Kerr, J. R. Orr, C. W. Grouse and I. G. Bull.

KARLM BULL - Editor

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1910

The recent state election down in Maine has brought out many statements why the Democrats were victorious after being out of office thirty years. The explanations offered vary in the widest scope. For years Maine has been under a strict prohibition law as to the sale of liquors and every effort has been made to resubmit the question to the people. The Republicans have in a manner been supported by the prohibition followers while the Democrats have attempted to gain the support of the liquor element. The Democrats having won the Republicans now charge their defeat to the liquor issue in that the people are tired of the manner in which the laws are violated. The anti-saloon forces deny the charge and lay the blame of the defeat of the Republican ticket to the high cost of living under the new tariff law. The Democrats have now dropped the liquor question and of course give credit for their success to the high tariff and the bossism in the Republican party. Nevertheless there will be a little surprise if the newly elected governor and legislature will take steps to repeal the present anti-liquor laws.

Governor Harmon has a petition filed with him signed by several thousand citizens of Columbus asking for the removal of Mayor Marshall of that city. Affidavits have been filed also as proof of the charges of incompetency and it is expected that a hearing will be had in a short time. For weeks there have been rumors that the Governor will be asked to remove Marshall. The anti-saloon forces in that city claim that the liquor people are behind the movement from the fact that Marshall has closed the saloons on Sabbath. However it is claimed that not a liquor dealer has signed a petition and probably they were not permitted to. Since the street car strike the Mayor has sided with the strikers and has gained the sympathy of the union men much to the disappointment of the citizens in general. To enforce the liquor laws and then not make better out at protecting the lives of thousands of people and much property, the Mayor finds himself in a close position. Marshall is quoted as saying that he believes he was "divinely" inspired to handle the strike situation. Many other office holders get the same kind of "inspiration" in that they side with the majority to insure re-election.

The political fight in New York state this week between the "old guard" and Ex-President Roosevelt leading the "progressive" wing of the party, has attracted the attention of the entire country. The fight in that state has become a personal affair between the leaders of the various factions and much sarcastic speech-making was heard at the convention. The humiliation that was thrust upon Vice President Sherman, whom Roosevelt defeated by 123 votes as temporary chairman of the convention, must be gauling not only to Sherman himself, but to his entire faction. Such a defeat, with the other criticism that has been laid at the Vice President's door, will evidently defeat him for a nomination for a second term. The platform as adopted in the convention was of course made to suit the "progressive" wing. The "old guard" during the last session of the New York legislature defeated a direct primary bill and the Roosevelt people were making their fight on this issue and the party will again advocate such a measure. The fight for control of the convention has been spectacular in that

INTERNATIONAL LIVE STOCK EXPOSITION.

Nothing is ever too good for Chicago. The fact, therefore, that Richard A. Carden, Ireland's greatest authority on Short horns and one of the best known judges of these cattle living, will be the judge to pass sentence upon this breed at the International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago this year is assuring.

It is a fact that Mr. Carden has promised to make the trip to Chicago and that he would be accompanied by Mr. Richard O'Malley of Woodlawn, Sentry County, Dublin, one of the best known authorities on farming and Clydesdale horses in Ireland, has given great pleasure to the International Live Stock show officials.

Mr. Carden's fame as an arbiter at Live Stock Shows, extends throughout the British Isles, for not only has he made the principal awards at the Irish Fairs, but he has judged Aberdeen Angus cattle at Perth, Scotland, and hackney horses and hunters in England, while his home at Fishmoyle, Templemore, County Tipperary, is regarded as one of the most complete gentleman's agricultural estates in Great Britain. As a deputy lieutenant of County Tipperary, Honorary Secretary of the Royal Dublin Society, a member of the council of the Royal Agricultural Society of England, and the Short horn Society as well as President of the Hunters' Improvement Society of England, Mr. Carden continues to be active in the affairs of the Agricultural Committee of the Royal Dublin Society, of which he has been for two terms, the chairman.

With Messrs. Carden and O'Malley each representative of all that is best in cattle and Clydesdale breeding in the British Islands, available for conference and exchange of opinions with our best and most representative breeders, it is very clear that the visit of these authorities will do an immense amount of good.

Mr. Carden is eager to make a trip through Canada in the interest of cattle breeding, and plans an early sailing from Queenstown to that country before coming to Chicago. After the Chicago Exposition, he will return to Ireland in time to judge at the Dublin Show in December.

B. H. Heide, Secretary of the International Live Stock Exposition, announced that there will be an increase in the cash prize list this year, several of the breeding Associations having offered added prizes in some of the classes. The prize list will aggregate $75,000.

The Board of Directors of the Association will hold a meeting to announce the names of judges who are to officiate in the various departments. As usual the names submitted by the various breeding Associations will be given consideration, and will be approved because of the recognized ability of the men selected by these Associations, to act in a judging capacity.

The individual classes, this year will bring out stocks of excellent quality if the entries at the various State Fairs, which afterwards are shown at the International, may be taken as a criterion. The entries for these classes will close on November 1st and for the car lots on November 10th.

For the first time in the history of the Show, the National French Draft Horse Association of America is offering a list of special prizes which will exceed $500.00 in value.

The International Live Stock Exposition this year, benefitting thru the experience of the ten shows which have preceded it, will be greater and better than ever, and will offer an educational opportunity for studying Live Stock condition such as never before been available.
