COVID-19 Pandemic Shifts Bookstore Sales Online

CEDARVILLE, OHIO -- The Cedarville University bookstore is now online.

The bookstore was in process of developing an online presence for its customers. But when the coronavirus pandemic hit last month, bookstore manager Tammy Slone began to immediately shift to the online store. The totally online bookstore went live Monday, April 20.

"We have wanted to provide a way for our alumni and friends from all over the United States and around the world to connect with the university," said Slone. "Through the online bookstore, they now have access to all the merchandise they would find during an in-person visit to campus."

Through the online bookstore, visitors can purchase books, Bibles, Cedarville University branded apparel and gifts, such as coffee mugs and diploma frames. They can also purchase gift cards from the site for friends and family.

Textbooks and graduation items are also available for current students.

To visit the Cedarville bookstore online, go to bookstore.cedarville.edu.
