TANGIBLES - INTANGIBLES

At the coming election you will be given a ballot which will require a vote on three different amendments to the constitution. The most important one will be that one which if given a majority vote will enable the legislature to do away with the uniform tax law that has been in use since 1851 or adopt a new law providing for classification of property. That is a low rate for money, credits, intangibles, including stocks, bonds, money in building and loan associations, etc. Tangible property in farms residence property and business property.

There are many that do not understand the difference in tangible property and intangible property. Property that cannot be hid like real estate, capital and surplus in corporations, are held to be tangibles. Any kind of property that can be hid or moved to escape taxation is intangible. Those favoring the amendment are pointing out that we have millions of dollars in banks and building and loan associations that are not taxed. The honesty of the taxpayer in filling out his own return is not questioned. But when the money returned for taxation is placed against the deposits in the banks and building and loan associations there are many millions never returned. It is rather sad at this date to make such a comparison when Gov. Frank B. Willis had so much faith in the honesty of the taxpayer that he had the Warner law repealed and one of his own kind passed.

Another purpose of this new law is to make it easy for the tax officials to investigate bank and building and loan deposits or let those institutions pay on the deposits. The bank and building and loan associations absorb it themselves or charge it back to their depositors.

The proposed amendment is a good thing in a way. It may add several million to the tax duplicate but it will never make people poorer. The general public has its own way of handling tax matters we find and no legislature can change it.

The dangerous thing about the proposal is that each successive legislature can fix the tax rate on money or any intangible and the public must stand for it. We are told that other states having classification of property have fixed rates but the tax spenders and the lobbyists that are responsible for the bill to be voted upon left that part open so that any time in the future the rate could be increased. Over in Pennsylvania if you have a farm valued at $5000 you will pay as much tax as the man that has $70,000 in money in bank, building and loan or in stocks or bonds.

We might be inclined to recommend this amendment if the rate had been fixed but when an Ohio legislature can change it over night we think every one is taking considerable of a chance. The legislature will also have the power to say what is tangible and what intangible. But residence, business and farm property can never be anything but tangible property.

Each property owner must decide the question for himself.

A COMMON INTEREST

A statement a few days ago says the western farmers are much opposed to the present tariff. That may be so but what would they say if there was no tariff. The tariff enables many lines of agriculture and manufacturing to exist in the United States which could not exist without it. It enables American workmen to maintain wage scales that would be impossible if industries which employ them were competing with foreign products produced with cheap labor which could enter this country duty free.

With business much lower today than it was a few years ago if it were it not for the protective tariff we would sing the blues evently more loudly than we hear it today.

TWO BALL PLAYERS

The world series the past few days brought before the public two men, Walter Johnson and "Babe" Adams, as examples of athletes that have had more than their share of attention from the public, but none more than is rightly deserved. These two men come from opposing teams in the two major leagues. Both have been playing base ball for more than twenty years. Both have clean records in the world of sport. Both have lived clean lives and have always cared for their health. Few ball players can say such a thing or show a record of 30 years in the big leagues. What these two men have done, others can do.

PAY AS YOU GO

One of our leading business men said to us the other day, "I wish you would get after the young men of this town who do not pay their debts. I know of a case where a young man from one of the best families bought several articles a year ago on credit. He has paid just half the bill in the twelve months and the other day he sold one of the articles at one-fourth the price he agreed to pay for it." Of course, this is all wrong. That young man is headed toward trouble. He will have to mend his ways or he will never amount to anything and is on his way to earn the reputation of being a dead beat and a crook. There is nothing nowadays that so sets a man back as to be rated as poor pay. You can attend your church, do what many other people do, but you can never get very high in the estimation of the public if you do not pay your debts. Misfortune and sickness may be an excuse in a few cases but in the vast majority of cases there is no excuse for having it said that you are "poor pay."

The outside of the package only has been altered. To facilitate packing and reduce breakage in shipping, the paper wrapper which has identified the Peruna bottle for many years has been displaced by a substantial pasteboard carton.

Peruna cannot be made any better. Three generations of users testify that Peruna is the best remedy in the world for catarrh and diseases of catarrhal origin.

The remedy our fathers and grandfathers used with so much satisfaction is still the standby for the fits of everyday in thousands of American homes.

 One like Riddle, a member of a special play group, was written in 1790 by James Thomson. The line "O'er the hills and through the vale" was "immediately parodied everywhere," O' Jenny Thomson, Jenny Thomson O."

The Better Buick is a Man-sized Motor Car
 People appreciate a smart-driving, easily-handled, but full-sized, man-sized car. The Better Buick for instance.
 Each Buick model seats its capacity of full-grown people—in relaxed ease—without cramped legs or necks. Tall people, especially, enjoy its extra head-room and leg-room.
 American men and women are above the average stature. And a smaller car than Buick is apt to be tight-fitting, low-ceilinged, crowded!
 Drop in and try the ample, comfortable of a car that is right in size. Bring some of your six-footer friends. You will find another big reason why Buick is so widely considered a better motor car—another reason why there are a million and more enthusiastic Buick owners.
 Or telephone, and we will send a Better Buick to your home or office for you to try.
