Vindication Is Wanted Before Gowdy Settles

Judge Smarts Under Request For a State Examiner - - Watt Refused To Sign Vindication Paper - New Action In Probate Court.

For several weeks the story has been put out by the Gowdy-Marshall "poison squad" that the Lytle estate had been settled and there was nothing to the report published weeks ago in the Herald. You no doubt have heard the denial. We have paid no attention to it knowing that such was not the case. Judge Gowdy has had control of this estate for seven years and James B. Watt has been trying to get possession of property due his family as heirs under the will.

Last week Mr. John A. McClain, recently retired farmer, wrote a letter to State Examiner Clifton asking for an examination of this case and another in which Judge Gowdy is interested. Then we began to hear criticism of Mr. McClain for "butting in" as one of the gang followers put it. It seemed to displease the Gowdy-Marshall followers because Mr. McClain wrote a simple letter requesting an examination in behalf of a friend.

Monday Judge Gowdy displayed signs of wanting to settle with Mr. Watt. Why the Judge should want to settle something his friends were telling had been settled made the situation the more perplexing.

Messrs. Watt and Gowdy met Monday, the first for some time. What all took place and what was said we are unable to report. It is known that before offer of settlement was talked Mr. Gowdy demanded that Mr. Watt sign a certain paper, which he did not get to read, nor was it read to him, giving Gowdy vindication. This was refused. The settlement was as far distant as ever, regardless of the reports put out by the "poison squad".

Ohio Farmer Conducts Farm Contest

The Ohio Farmer is conducting a "Master Farmer Contest" and over the state of Ohio 138 farms were nominated. The Editors of the Ohio Farmer cut this list down to 30 and only three Greene county farms are in that list: Ferndale Farm, owned by O. A. Dobbins, Whitehall farm, owned by E. S. Kelly, Yellow Springs, and the Beard farm near Osborn.

THEATRE NOTES

The "Regent Theatre," Springfield, has inaugurated its 1926-27 vaudeville season and some excellent vaudeville is being offered at this beautiful Springfield playhouse. Gus Sun, General Director, has given his lieutenant orders to secure the very best vaudeville that money can buy and some dandy shows are in store for Regent patrons this coming season. Special representatives are touring the country securing these acts and they are reviewed before they are booked, thereby assuring only a high standard of acts.

The finest of feature Photo Plays are also booked and they will be shown in conjunction with "High Class Vaudeville." The Regent Concert Orchestra, a standard feature of this play house, and the Regent Musical Pipe Organ will be used for the musical scores accompanying photo plays and vaudeville. All in all it is going to be a great lineup of entertainment for "Regent Patrons" this coming season, according to Mr. Sun's announcement.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church will serve a chicken dinner election night, Nov. 2.

Thursday another motion was filed in Probate Court demanding on the grounds that the former report was not a final settlement that he be required to file another.

The petition sets forth a denial of the last account filed. It says that assets belonging to the heirs are still in the hands of the executor, Judge Gowdy. That disbursements have been made since the last supposed account was filed and that additional funds have come into his possession since the 1921 account was filed. The filing of this petition will require a hearing in the Probate Court.

The estate has been under the control of Judge Gowdy for more than seven years and Mr. Watt had to move from Chicago to Xenia, his former home, to force action. While a resident of Chicago he sent many registered letters to Mr. Gowdy trying to get a settlement but could get no reply. Mr. Watt turned over a check to Mr. Gowdy for several hundred dollars to pay inheritance taxes and the check was cashed, but the inheritance tax was unpaid until a few months back, and then there was a penalty added as the law provided. It was nearly three years from the time Mr. Watt sent the check until the inheritance tax was paid.

Unless there is some hasty action some unusual movement will be started against Judge Gowdy for the way he has handled the Lytle estate. It is hinted that charges leading to disbarment will soon follow, if not on the part of Mr. Watt, by some of his friends.

Attorneys say the case is without precedent in Ohio. That a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas should comment not only in this county but in adjoining counties where the case has been discussed.

Mr. McClain has asked State Examiner Clifton to investigate the trust fund of David Poague. The last account filed by Judge Gowdy who has this fund in charge was May 29, 1910. At that time the fund amounted to $567.38. No report has been made since and under the Ohio law if all or any heirs cannot be found, the fund must be turned over to the General funds of the county. This Judge Gowdy has not done and ten years has passed and he is still, or should be, in custody of the money.

BOARD OF VISITORS INSPECT VILLAGE JAIL LAST WEEK

The members of the Greene County Board of Visitors made an inspection of the local jail last week and pronounce it a fit place for man to abide. Recently the quarters were renovated and redecorated and some new equipment added. With all this change and the healthy appearance and fine recommendation of the board gives, there seems to be few that care to take up even temporary quarters.

MRS. PETERSON HURT IN FALL

Mrs. Lee Peterson of the Columbus pike suffered an unusual accident last Sabbath evening when she fell from the bank near approach at the barn on the W. C. Hill farm. She suffered intense pain following the accident and when an x-ray examination was made it was discovered that she had dislocated her hip and that it had slipped back in place but the ligaments were badly torn. She has improved somewhat but it will take some time before recovery is complete.

The M. B. Saum household goods will be sold at public sale Saturday afternoon at the residence on North Main street. M. G. Nagley will have charge of the sale.

Mrs. Edna Dodds was one of the winner among exhibitors at the Edward Wren art exhibit on display at that store in Springfield. Mrs. Dodds won prizes on two different entries of her own needle work.

Postmaster Emery of London died this week following an illness of several weeks.

W. L. Clemans last week sold the W. H. Evans business property, formerly the location of the Exchange Bank and where the cream station is, to the O. C. F. lodge for $4,700. The lodge a few years sold its property to R. C. Ritenour.

Xenia Police Land Liquor Delivery Truck

Xenia police landed two bootleggers Sunday morning that were delivering booze from a tank under the body of a Ford truck. A chicken coop on top was used as a blind. The tank would hold about fifty gallons and is said to have had about 40 gallons of liquor in it.

COLLEGE TEAM PLAYED IN TOUGH LUCK SURE

Cedarville College football team had tough luck at Bowling Green last Saturday. It was hard enough to beat the Bowling Green team but when it came to handling the team had the referees, there was no chance.

Jacob O. Spahr Found Dead In His Chair

Jacob O. Spahr, 75, one of the well known farmers in the eastern part of the county was found dead Sabbath evening at the home of his son, Roy, on the Spahr farm between Cedarville and Jamestown. The son and family were not at home at the time and on their return, after a short absence, found the father dead in his chair. Death was due to apoplexy.

Nat Hunter Lost Valuable Young Colt

N. N. Hunter, well known horseman and Jamestown businessman, lost a valuable colt, Oliver Strong, a yearling by Oliver Evans, and sired by Guy Axworthy, the only horse that ever stood two-minute trotters. The colt died of pneumonia at the stables on the Greene County fair grounds. The colt had trotted an eighth of a mile in 17 1/4 seconds and was considered a fast prospect. He was entered in all the futurities and the Hamiltonian stake that is said to be worth $75,000 to the winner.

Osborn Will Hold Fall Festival

Osborn, the incorporated town, has emerged from its village days and will celebrate its birthday on October 29th. The Osborn Commercial Club is arranging a grand affair to celebrate the occasion. Everything will be done with the exception of the moving picture show. The athletic contest will be a success.

Columbus Man Bound Over To Grand Jury

W. M. Apple, 35, 118 W. Oakland street, Columbus, O., is being held in the county jail under a $1,000 bond on a serious charge. The affidavit was filed by Mrs. Bertha Walters of this place in behalf of her son, Robert, 14. Apple was bound over by R. O. Cooney, justice of peace in Xenia.

Death Last Thursday Of Mrs. McCampbell

Mrs. Rebecca A. McCampbell, 77, formerly a resident of Cedarville township, died last Thursday at the Espey hospital in Xenia, where she had been in a critical condition for four weeks. She was the widow of the late William McCampbell, who died seven years ago. The deceased was the daughter of John and Mary George. She has no near relatives other than a niece and nephew: Mrs. J. E. Snyder, North Bend, Ore., and Walter Lee, Vancouver, Wash.

Presbyterians Hear Speakers In Springfield

Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Harriman, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton McMillan, and Miss Alberta Creswell, attended the National Missions Conference, which was held in the Covenant Presbyterian church, Springfield, on Tuesday evening. The ladies of the church served 225 at supper. Every church in the district was represented, the largest number in attendance from any church outside of Springfield was from Yellow Springs. The meeting was in charge of Dr. Charles L. Plymate, who in a brief address outlined the organization and the work of the National Missions Board. Dr. Warren H. Wilson, of New York, the outstanding authority on the work of the rural church, and Miss Clara Louise Smith, who is engaged in home mission work among the forest speaking population of Southern Ohio, were the speakers of the evening.

Radio Is Making Whole World Akin

If the winter atmosphere is anything like this fall we are to have a fine radio winter. Millions of homes in United States and Canada will only be glad to know that such is true. The old home fireside is coming back to its own and no single influence will play a more important part in this change as the radio.

The programs announced for the winter months are more than interesting. A number of companies have engaged talent that will enable the radio listener to hear that probably could not afford a seat at the opera if he or she was in the city where the star appears.

It is hard to realize the thrill you get when a program is broken while an S. O. S. signal goes out. You know something unusual is happening. It was during the recent Florida storm that thousands heard the call for aid over the air. One fan reports hearing Pensacola during the storm and the announcement that the barometer had dropped to 29.

In the home you could hear the crack of "Babe" Ruth's bat when he hit one of those famous home runs in the World Series. When the great prize fight was on you could hear every sound of the gong.

You get the gentle voice of President Coolidge every few weeks. Only a few nights ago we listened to Lady Astor speaking in New York. Then we must not fail to mention the pleasant one gets from hearing the United States Marine band at Washington. The roar of the football crowds and the game play by play. Is it any wonder more people are staying home and listening in?

Last Saturday night we heard the name of Cedarville called out of a Chicago station and in an instant the announcer changed to Selma, O. It was an orchestra playing request numbers of old tunes and E. W. Tindall of Selma had sent in a request. How you feel when mention is made of your own home town or the names of those you know personally.

Sabbath evening last Dr. Alvin Orr was broadcasting from Pittsburgh. During the summer season was not so far from home. You could get every word of Dr. Orr's sermon perfect. It seemed to us he was at his best although we always find his sermons interesting.

The radio brings you in touch with the whole world. For entertainment nothing in the home can take its place. From an educational standpoint you can get a farm lecture or hear some scientific subject discussed.

EARL REED FOUND DEAD IN CORN FIELD

Earl Reed, 45, was found dead in a corn field on his farm near Yellow Springs, about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. The body was found by the wife who became worried when he did not return as soon as expected.

He had not been well for some time and was a sufferer from heart trouble. He had gone to the field to bring feed for his cattle.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Doris Phlangner, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William Reed, Clifton, one son, Thomas, by a former marriage; three brothers, Arthur, Clifton, Lester and Stanley, Cedarville; and one sister, Mrs. Aden Barlow, Cedarville.

The funeral services were held from the residence Thursday afternoon. Interment took place at the Clifton Cemetery.

Dr. Bickler Makes An Interesting Address

About one hundred and fifty persons attended the National Missions meeting which was held in the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday night.

A splendid covered dish supper was served. Dr. Chas. Ryan Adams, of the Covenant Presbyterian church of Springfield, presided. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Harry S. Bickler, who is engaged in a special, and unique piece of home mission work in the State of Wyoming. With two assistants, he ministers to over half a county, an area 100 miles long by 45 miles broad, which centers at Lingle, a town of 300 inhabitants. The speaker said that by far the larger portion of the population of the entire section are ex-service men and their families who, after the war took the land offered by the government to those who would undertake the difficult task of cultivating it. The entire section was under irrigation.

There is a larger percent of college and university graduates in the section than in any section in the country, unless it be in a college or university town.

Dr. Bickler, with his associates, have charge of five organized congregations, and eight Sunday School fields. He told of how, without a dollar's worth of paid labor, he and the men and women of the community, laid a concrete foundation for their community house - being combined auditorium, gymnasium, club and hand-work school, and gathering place for the entire surrounding country - 80 feet long and 45 feet wide and eight feet deep, in five and one half days.

He also told of the results of this type of work in the saving of souls and the increase of the membership of his churches. Altogether it was a most interesting and inspiring address for which the local congregation is grateful to the National Board, and to Dr. Myranda, the Executive Secretary of the Dayton Presbytery, who was responsible for sending Dr. Bickler to us. This is his only speaking engagement in this district.

REV. IGMIR CHOSEN

ONCE WAS BAD NOW GOOD

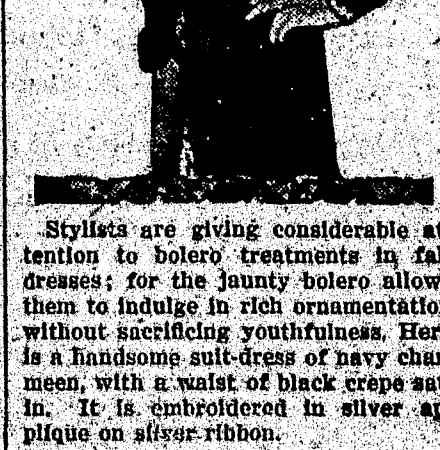

It has not been so many months ago, events go nowadays, that we heard loud lamentations from the Gowdy - Marshall crowd about how terribly corrupt H. E. Schmidt and Marcus Shoup were and how things would be cleaned up if the self-styled reformers were put in place. Most every organization in the county was appealed to by the Gowdy-Marshall leaders and aid was extended. Greene county has had six years of what is more than enough for a trial. Results speak for themselves. Conditions are no better, far worse. The recent primary election was a mandate for another change and a house cleaning. This crowd that has waxed fat off the county was given a rear seat in county management and party affairs. There never was a more selfish party management in the history of the county. The political bosses have worked everything to their own political and financial profit by hogging all the paying jobs they could get their hands on, even at the displeasure of many of their own followers, who were told to keep quiet. Judge Gowdy has been no outstanding figure on the Common Pleas bench. He has been lax in more than one instance in handling justice. When the Lattimer-murder case was before the public, Prosecutor Kenneth Williamson resigned rather than be a party to petty politics in the administration of justice. The Lattimer case was notable in that one venetian stated in court he had been approached and did not consider himself qualified to sit as a juror. In that case, this one act should have prompted Judge Gowdy to action but he smoothed the trouble over rather than have a political associate brought into court. The Frank Stutch case was another that was a disgrace to the county. Stutch was regarded as a bad man when intoxicated. He had no value on his own life, nor that of any officer that attempted to arrest him. He had once kidnapped Chief of Police Graham at the point of a revolver. Stutch was before Judge Gowdy on a serious charge, and without taking into consideration his record, gave the fellow a parole after being found guilty. While under this parole this same man went on a tear in Xenia last summer and while intoxicated attacked his wife with a large butcher knife. He has defied any officer to arrest him. Although out of the county now, he did not make his escape for a day or so after the attack on his wife. He is still at large. For months farmers were being raided by chicken thieves. Two farmers south of Xenia laid in wait and landed Harry Davis. He was tried in Common Pleas court and sentenced from one to fifteen years. After about thirteen months he was paroled and such paroles are not given out without the consent of the Judge hearing the case or the Prosecuting Attorney, or both. Gowdy now asks reflection on such a record. Six years ago H. E. Schmidt and Marcus Shoup were Satan's own representatives in this county. But how about today. Judge Gowdy calls Marcus Shoup to his office for a conference. What all took place at that conference we do not know. What promises were made or agreement entered into of course has not been given the public. We know of no favor-the Common Pleas court could grant Mr. Shoup as an attorney, that would not be unfair to some other attorney or his client. It is known that Judge Gowdy wants the support of Schmidt and Shoup. He is trying to strengthen his forces - since the storm of ballots wrecked the Gowdy-Marshall political machine last August. The public has a right to know what took place at the conference between Gowdy and Shoup, particularly in view of the fact that in times past they have been sworn political enemies and one could say nothing good of the other. Now the question is "How can Marcus Shoup be so good, when he has been so bad?" The public can see the inside of the political attempt of Judge Gowdy to land the support of Judge Shoup. It could hardly be believed that Judge Shoup would endorse Gowdy or even lend him passing support without Gowdy making it interesting. Time only will tell. John Baughm in his candidacy for sheriff tried to double with H. E. Schmidt but failed and we believe the public should and will oppose the Shoup-Gowdy deal. Frank H. Dean is the independent candidate for Common Pleas Judge at the November election. He has the ability, the training and the temperament for a good judge. He was born in this county and has been a life-long resident. His public and private acts have never been brought into question. He has always been a Republican and was recently honored by being chosen chairman of the County Central Committee, without solicitation on his part. Mr. Dean was one of the first professors in Cedarville College and he has a wide acquaintance in the county. Greene county wants no collective bargaining in or about her courts. Mr. Dean is making his own campaign and soliciting the active support of his friends. If elected as Common Pleas Judge he will be under no obligation to either faction. THE DAUGHERTY TRIAL Disagreement among the jurors of the charges against Harry Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller was no surprise to the public. From the day the government started to prosecute those in connection with war graft cases, it has been hard, almost impossible to convict on a charge of conspiracy. In a liquor case it only requires long enough to open and close court to bring in such a verdict. But let the government be robbed of a few million and conviction is next to an impossibility. This is a sorry state of affairs. A situation the politician approves for it gives him greater chance to get his graft. This trial lasted five weeks and the jury was out 65 hours. District Attorney Buckner wove a wonderful chain of evidence against these two men having to combat politicians and "inside" influence. Records very necessary were burned. Important papers belonging to the government were missing. But the evidence from the surface was convincing to the public, regardless of the jury verdict. The public knows little of how the big politician indicted on such a charge can defend himself in and out of a jury room. One juror complained to the court during the deliberations that the language used in the jury room was terrible and that if a verdict was rendered it would be by force, against one's own conviction. It cannot be said that the government was resorting to such a charge or that any member of the jury was using such tactics. Reports indicate the jury stood seven to five for conviction of Daugherty and ten to two for conviction of Miller. During the trial Daugherty used every means to put the brand of guilt on his former dead friend, Jesse Smith. He went farther than that and brought in the name of the late President Harding, whom the public well knows died of a broken heart when the Daugherty-O'Neil gang revelations began to reach the public. Harding had trusted Daugherty too far. It is also known that after Harding was convinced of what was taking place was true he denied the Whitehouse to Smith and other members of the Ohio plunderbund that were hanging on to jobs that had been secured by the influence of Daugherty. Harding's health broke and he never was able to clean his own house. The situation now remains a question. Miller and Daugherty can be tried again but District Attorney Buckner has not said what he will do. He of course is under direction of the Department of Justice in Washington. It is intimated that the Senate Committee will open the case for more investigation. There should be a second trial to prove that the government does not give up on losing such an important case on a broken chain in the evidence, the burning of the Midland National Bank records, an institution under the control of Mel Daugherty, a brother of Harry. It was Mel who on the witness stand admitted that Harry burned the ledger sheets showing the money transaction the government needed. As the Cincinnati Times-Star stated Tuesday evening, the spectacle of a former attorney general in court on such a charge was startling to the public. It was more so when it was admitted that the defendant had destroyed records wanted by the government. And last that the defendant did not go on the witness stand in an attempt to clear his own name. The government should bring some charge against Richard Merton, the German who paid the $441,000 fee for what Daugherty says was an honest act. Merton says the deal was made with Miller at a liquor party in a New York hotel. It is not denied that Daugherty was not a member of that party at that time. This foreign citizen should be made to pay part of the price for his conduct if there is any law violated. The statute of limitation for bribery charges against Daugherty and Miller had expired and the government was forced to bring up the conspiracy charge. The cases should not be dropped. More over there should be more evidence uncovered as to the supposed suicide of Jesse Smith, who shot himself, or was shot, in Daugherty's apartment in Washington. NOTICE TO ELECTORS There will be submitted to the electors of Cedarville Township Rural School District, Greene County, Ohio, under Section 5348-4 of the General Code, Ohio, at the November election, the question of an additional levy of two (2) mills for five years, as an emergency, to meet outstanding obligations, and properly operate the Public Schools of said district. By order of the Board of Education Andrew Jackson, Clerk Investigate the Herald Travel Accident Insurance Agency.

YOUR BIRTHDAY Is It This Week? If your birthday is this week you are persistent and brave, and while not of an obstinate nature, you are not easily turned aside from your chosen course. You are a clear reasoner, and have much useful intelligence and keen foresight. Your judgment is accurate, careful and sound. You are capable and energetic, and have much executive ability. You are methodical, careful and conservative, and while not in the least dictatorial, you have strong convictions, and have a faculty for convincing others that you are right—which pleases you very much. AS TO THE PRIMARY The voters of Ohio will have an opportunity at the November election of expressing themselves on the primary system in use in this state. A movement is afoot to return indirectly to the old convention plan. The voters will vote for delegates to the convention and the bosses will do the rest. Under the present law, which is not perfect, the voter makes his own choice. The cry has been set up about two states where nonites purchased the nominations, Pennsylvania and Illinois. The primary was taken advantage of in these two states because the electorate, the majority that took the trouble to vote, fell under the

Dr. Frank Crane Says SELECTIVE AFFECTION IS BEST The old dispute between true love and any other kind of love dates back as far as Wagner's operas, and further. Lord Lytton said something somewhere to the effect that if a man truly loves a woman all other women are slightly distasteful to him. There are two kinds of love in the world - selective affection, and the other kind. They can be distinguished as much as anything else, by their associates. Selective affection is the companion of all the virtues. It goes with honesty, honor, loyalty, and every commendable characteristic. That affection that is felt for just anybody is a law breaker. It makes nothing but trouble. Of course the greater includes the less, and selective affection may include all manner of desire. But there is something characteristic of true love that is essentially different from any old sort of love. It is true love, that inspires and actuates the greatest achievements, not miscellaneous attractions. The human race has experienced a good many hundred years with various kinds of affections, and it is selective affinity that has stood the test. It is that which every young man or woman feels with the advent of the right mate. There is something about it that excludes all other affections. It is not enough to ask yourself whether you are affectionate or not. It is also necessary to inquire of yourself whether this affection is confined to one person. Is it not any sort of love that is the basis of the right marriage, but it is loyal love, and the most loyal one is the greater his love becomes. There is the same difference between true love and other kinds of love that there is between a flower and weeds. One is a cultivated plant, and it is that for which the garden was made. The other is an invader and does nothing but drain the resources. One is an inspiration constantly, but the other does nothing but leave us bankrupt of desire.

Fall Utility Coats Adopt Sports Styles

This fall's utility coats, enlivened by a strong flavor of sports styles and expressive of luxurious comfort, are not outdone in smartness by any other type. They are ample and soft looking, made of spirited plaids and cross-bars or fancy weaves in cloths that seem as cozy as fur. Shaded plaids and stripes in two, three or even four colors, that blend well, show the importance of color and the selection of soft fur collars that harmonize with the cloths, emphasize it.

You can get season tickets for the Lyceum Course at Masters' Grocery or at the Farmers' Grain Co.

Lesson for October 17

MOSES HONORED IN HIS DEATH

LESSON TEXT—Deut. 34:1-12.

SCENARIO TEXT—Fruitful in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Moses sees the Promised Land.

SECONDARY TOPIC—The Death of Moses.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Lessons from the Life of Moses.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What the World Owe Moses.

1. Moses Views the Promised Land From Mount Pisgah (vv. 1-4).

At the Lord's bidding Moses ascended the mountain from which he got a view of the promised land. He obeyed, though he knew that he was to die there (Deut. 32:50). He greatly desired to go into the land (Deut. 3:25), but graciously submitted to the will of the Lord. Though he was not permitted to enter the land, God gave him a view in its fullest dimensions of the land which was to be the inheritance of the people which he had delivered and led for forty years. The reason given by the Lord for refusing an entrance into the land was Moses' failure to sanctify the Lord at Meribah (Deut. 32:51, cf. Num. 20:1-13). This was too glaring a sin for the Lord to pass over, though Moses had served Him faithfully for many years.

2. The Death and Burial of Moses (vv. 5-9).

1. His death (v. 5).

Though he died in the vigor of manhood, his work was done. He did not die before his time. God hid him into the world for a purpose, and as soon as that work was done He called him home. Though Moses was a great man he was not exempt from death.

2. The burial of Moses (v. 6).

God buried him. Most likely this service was performed by the angels. Likely July is the time and circumstance when the devil contended with Michael, the archangel, over the body of Moses (Jude 9).

3. The time of mourning for Moses (v. 8).

They mourned for thirty days. It is not wrong to lay away earthly friends even with tears, but as Christians we should not mourn as those who have no hope. Indeed, it is much better to express our appreciation and love for our friends by showing the proper courtesy and respect while they are alive, than to mourn over them when they are dead.

4. The Successor of Moses (v. 9).

Joshua, who had been the military leader of the Israelites, now became the military leader of the Israelites. That Joshua was a fit man as a leader of the Israelites is seen.

1. By the fact that he was full of the spirit of wisdom.

2. While the Lord is not dependent upon human wisdom. He does select as His representatives men whom He has endowed with the proper wisdom.

3. He was divinely ordained for the work at the hand of Moses. "for Moses had laid his hands upon him."

4. This he had done at the command of God (Num. 27:18-21).

5. The people owned him as their leader. "The children of Israel hearkened unto him, and did as the Lord commanded Moses."

In order for successful leadership a ruler must have the individual affection and allegiance of the people.

1. Encomium Upon Moses (vv. 10-12).

In this eulogy Moses is given a place at the head of the Old Testament prophets. With the exception of the Greater Prophet (Deut. 18:15-18), of whom Moses was a type, he stands as the greatest prophet of Israel.

1. He was great because of his intimacy with God (v. 10), "whom the Lord knew face to face."

2. He was great in that he gave to the world a code of laws unequalled in the world's history.

3. He was great as a general in that he liberated the Israelitish nation from the oppression of the greatest nation of the earth.

4. He was great because he led two or three million Israelites through the desert for forty years.

5. He was great because he gave to us in the book of Deuteronomy three orations which, according to the judgment of competent critics stand at the head of the world's literature.

Faith

What a wonderful ship is faith. She discovers worlds beyond anything found by Columbus. What a freight she carries. Riches beyond the treasures of Solomon's ships of gold. To what a glorious realm she transports.—W. L. Watkinson.

Looking Into the Future

When we look into the long avenue of the future and see the good there is for each one of us to do, we realize after all what a beautiful thing it is to work, and to live to be happy.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Shining and Singing

You may sing, "O for the wings of a dove!" but it is better to shine in the ways of God. Shining is the best kind of singing, and makes the slogan sing to purpose.—Prophetic News.

Advice for Youngsters

Might I give counsel to any young hearer, I would say to him, Try to frequent the company of your betters. In books and life that is the most wholesome society; learn to think rightly; the great pleasure of life is that.—Prophetic News.

Chance for Hidden Men
