NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS, OHIO—The primary for selection of delegates to national conventions and delegates to state conventions, which will nominate Presidential Electors and draft state platforms of the respective parties, will be held Tuesday, April 24th. Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown stated today that at the same time electors will be given opportunity to express their choice for President. The primary of Congress and county officers will be held Tuesday, August 14th. Declarations of candidacy and certificates signed by five electors qualifying each candidate must be filed with Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown, for members of Congress and county officers with the Board of Elections in the county in which the candidate resides. Each candidate when filing will pay a fee of one-half of one per cent of the annual salary for the office for which he is a candidate, but the fee in no case shall be more than $25.00. The general election will be held on Tuesday, November 8th.

Widening of the National Road through Ohio is now under consideration by the State Highway Department, the improvement to begin at Columbus, the new width to be twenty-four feet. The highway, first known as "The Cumberland Road," was built by the Federal Government starting in 1811 and being completed to the Ohio River in 1818. It was extended through to the state capital in 1836 and on to Indianapolis in 1840. In that year Columbus had a population of 6,000, having increased from 700 in 1815. Following the latter year a subscription of $200,000 was taken to remove the stumps from the road and the town was incorporated. The road, also known as "The Old Pike," now is legally termed "The National Road and extends east to Washington, Atlantic City and Baltimore.

State House visitors to the Senate chamber or State Library at Columbus with a group of stationary near the head of the staff depicting the surrender of Vicksburg on July 4, 1863, by the Confederate General Pemberton to General Grant, in charge of the Union forces, each accompanied by his staff of officers. Near by mounted on a pedestal is a bust of Lincoln, of pure white Carrara marble, with the inscription "Care for him who shall borne the battle, and his widow and his orphans." The sculptor was Tom Jones, born in 1811, and who passed on in 1881, his resting place being the Welsh Hill burying ground, a short distance northeast of Granville, the seat of Denison University. He had legions of friends and was well known to many public men and while he had exceptional talent he died a poor man.

That the condition of the children of the Hocking Valley is fast showing improvement, due to the generosity of Ohio citizens in supporting the campaign for food, clothing and money, is attested in the following comment by one of the school teachers of the Valley in a letter to Adjutant General Henderson. The letter says: "The rosy color in now creeping back into the smiling faces of the little tots. The faces which were so languid and hollow-eyed are once more becoming bright and happy." To help restore and keep that healthy color in the cheeks of the kiddies is the purpose of the campaign throughout the state for food, clothing and money. All funds are deposited in the state treasury and disbursed as needed.

The State Auditor's Department has been kept quite busy the past few weeks receiving the first installment of the special levy of six-tenths of a mill, which was passed as an emergency measure by the late General Assembly, to make up the deficit of the last fiscal period. The levy covering all property, is for a period of one year only. The second installment will be due in June and will be paid into the State Auditor's office in August, each installment amounting to three and a half millions of dollars, a total of seven millions, the amount of the state's deficit.

Visitors are again permitted to pass through the Penitentiary after it had been quarantined for several weeks on account of an epidemic of diphtheria which prevailed at the institution. Much construction work is going on at the big prison, including the building of a new chapel, a new cell block nearing completion, another started on the west wing of the prison, each of which will house 816 men and a new dormitory on the east end of the main building which will house 550 men. The prison population this week is 4,150. It is stated that pen guards may soon be outfitted with uniforms and their working schedule changed from twelve to eight hours per day.

OTTERBEIN HOME GIVES UP LAND

The Otterbein home has rededed to Charles Persinger, wealthy land owner of this city, 687 acres of valuable Fayette county land which Persinger deeded to the institution in June, 1925, conditioned that the institution pay a certain amount each year during the lifetime of the donor. It is understood the Otterbein home turned the land back to Persinger because officials of the home deemed the arrangement unsatisfactory from a business standpoint.

Charles Clemans Died Wednesday

Mrs. Laura Burrell Clemans, aged 53, died Wednesday evening about eight o'clock at the McClellan hospital, Xenia, following an illness of complications that did not warrant an operation.

The deceased resided with her husband, Charles Clemans on the Yellow Springs pike about one mile northwest of town. She had not been in good health for some time.

Beside the husband she is survived by her father, Albert Burrell, who resides about five miles west of here, a brother Ohmer Burrell, Springfield; and five sisters; Mrs. Flora Charters of Cleveland; Misses Maud and Edna at home; Mrs. Carrie Winters of Fort Wayne, Ind.; and Mrs. Alberta Framé of Cedarville.

The funeral will be held from the M. E. church Saturday afternoon at 2 P. M., the deceased being a member of that congregation. Burial takes place at Woodland Cemetery, Xenia.

Hager Paper Plant Down For Repairs

The Hager Straw Board and Paper Co. plant has been closed down for the week during which time repairs are being made on one of the engines which has been used for a number of years. The company is also installing a new suction line from the creek to the boiler room as the old one had been in use for years. Other repairs are also being made and the employees all given work while the changes are being made. It is expected that everything will be completed and ready for operation next Monday.

NEW AUTOMOBILE FOR SHERIFF

Purchase of a new automobile at an estimated cost of between $1,000 and $1,500 for use of Sheriff Ohmer Tate and his deputies has been authorized in a resolution adopted by County Commissioners.

Under the resolution, the sheriff retains the privilege of trading in the Studebaker touring car now in use as part payment for the new machine.

WANTS COURT TO BAR WIFE FROM FUNDS

Alvin Wakley, E. F. D. S., Xenia, seeks in Common Pleas Court to have his wife, Corax M., Cincinnati, barred from a dower interest in a fund of $10,500 which he received from the Pennsylvania railroad in settlement of a suit for damages. Wakley also asks for a divorce.

Wakley was injured while working for the Pennsylvania lines and as he is unable to return to work due to the injuries says his wife left him last month and continues to demand $3,300 of this fund and the rest to be placed for a joint banking account, which he refuses to do. The couple was married August 7, 1926.

NEW COOLING SYSTEM BEING INSTALLED

EXAMS ANNOUNCED

County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Aultman announced, Monday, that the eighth grade examinations for entrance to high schools will take place April 16 for schools of the county having an eight-months term. The examinations for the nine-months term schools will take place May 14. The examinations will be held at central points to be announced later.

WILL REPRESENT FORD

It is reported that the Bryant Motor Co., Xenia, has taken over this territory as agent for the Ford. Mr. Jean Patton, will be the local representative.

HOOVER WILL CARRY SEVENTH CONG. DISTRICT

Ohio voters who cast their ballots for United States Senator Frank B. Willis for president at the preferential primary will be voting for an "unknown candidate," declared Harold Houston, Urbana, Hoover candidate for delegate at large from the Seventh Congressional District, at an enthusiastic rally of district Hoover Republican representatives at the Clark County Court House in Springfield Thursday afternoon.

Houston explained by charging supporters of Senator Willis are using the Ohio Senator's favorite son candidacy as a camouflage for the purpose of eventually bringing forth a "dark horse" candidate in opposition to Secretary of Commerce Herbert C. Hoover at the National Republican convention.

Thad H. Brown, former secretary of state, chairman of the Hoover campaign in Ohio, was present at the conference, which was also attended by 300 Hoover supporters from the district, comprising nine counties.

Paul H. Creswell, deputy Greene County auditor, district chairman of the Hoover campaign, presided over the meeting.

Brief talks were also made by Harry S. Kissell, Springfield, and Harold Houston, Urbana, Hoover candidates for district delegates.

Immediately following the public rally, the district representatives held an organization meeting behind closed doors. It was later announced that plans were outlined for holding Hoover rallies in every county in the district until primary election day.

After being introduced as the principal speaker by Chairman Creswell, Thad H. Brown complimented the effective work being accomplished by the Hoover organization in this district. He also predicted victory for Hoover over Willis providing the voters go to the polls April 24, acquainted with the ballot.

The talk by Houston was featured by the declaration that "as far as I can learn, Willis is just the rattle that his backers are going to reach the boat with, but we don't know whether it's a rattle that men and women who vote for Willis will be dedicating their votes to an unknown candidate."

Dr. E. W. B. Curry, Springfield, colored delegate at large for Hoover, spoke briefly and promised the support of 200,000 colored voters in Ohio. He asserted that he was the first colored delegate at large designated since 1872.

Among the delegates and speakers introduced were Frank L. Smith, Xenia, chairman of the Greene County "Hoover-For-President" Club, and Dr. Austin M. Patterson, Xenia.

PLANTATION SINGERS

Opening with a plantation scene, this male quartet, organized and coached by Robert Jackson of Kansas City, offers a musical production that is decidedly out of the ordinary. Stage settings and appropriate costumes are used to advantage in the first part of their program, while the latter half is devoted to negro spirituals, southern songs and plantation melodies. Many humorous diversions are introduced.

With a wealth and variety of program material, the Plantation Singers immediately convince their hearers that they are genuine artists who thoroughly enjoy every phase of their work. Their apparently limitless repertoire includes many of the old favorites such as "Roll, Jordan, Roll" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," as well as scores of tuneful melodies that, although not generally familiar, are sure to linger long because of their rhythmic excellence. Many of their songs have been taken in crude state and harmonized by the best of modern composers.

The Plantation Singers, notable for their close harmony, are the result of the vision and training of Robert Jackson, one of the outstanding musicians of the colored race. Mr. Jackson is a graduate of the University of Kansas and is head of the music department and Dean of Western University in Kansas City, Kansas. He is a native Kentuckian and a nephew of the late John H. Jackson, President of Lincoln University at Jefferson City, Missouri. He is an authority on negro folk lore and negro music at its best. A man of education himself, it is only natural that he should select as Plantation Singers men of more than ordinary training. Each member of this company is either a high school or a college graduate. All have had valuable experience on the concert stage. Opera House, Friday, March 28.

The Y. P. C. U. of the United Presbyterian Church, Clifton, held a St. Patrick's Day social, Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Collins, near Clifton.

SAFE BLOWN BY THIEVES

About $50 was obtained by thieves who blew the safe in the office of the Osborn Lumber company at Osborn early Tuesday and escaped, according to a report made to Sheriff Ohmer. The safe was opened. It is believed that nitroglycerine was used.

Papers from the safe were found strewn about the streets this morning and it is supposed that they were carried away by the burglars and thrown from the automobile when they were found to be of no value to them.

The burglars entered the office by breaking a glass in the door and then unlocking it. The same place was burglarized about a year ago and the safe blown at that time.

Xenia's new Masonic Temple will be dedicated with appropriate exercises, Monday, April 2. The temple will be open for inspection Sunday and Monday afternoons. The O. S. & S. O. Home orchestra will play during the opening Sunday afternoon. Dr. Frank Thomas, Youngstown, grand master of the grand lodge of Ohio will be present for the dedication in Dayton and Xenia.

N. L. Ramsey Was Injured In Mishap

Mr. N. L. Ramsey sustained a broken rib over the heart, injured right shoulder and a bruise on the head Wednesday when the singletree caught on a large door of the barn and pulled it from the track.

The door struck Mr. Ramsey and pinned him against a seed box with the above results. He was able to reach home but apparently afterwards fainted. Drs. M. J. of Xenia and Harris was called and operated. While badly hurt, Mr. Ramsey suffered internal injury other than the broken rib.

WELL NAME 'EM

A Scientific Journal states that two new objects have been discovered. Heretofore the smallest was regarded as the atom. The Journal says two smaller have been found—in discussing the presidential situation. Both were found in Ohio and they are unnamed. They should be called Frank and Charley.

AGAINST SENATOR WILLIS

Senator Willis has been keen to attack Herbert Hoover as un-American but it remains for John McGraw of Dayton, to draw the fire that has set Willis at rest. Willis is the only man who was serving as a governor of any state in this country that publically justified the act of the Kaiser in sinking passenger vessels that cost the lives of thousands of American men, women and children who were innocent in every respect.

To the Editor of The Herald: Permit me to call the attention of the Republican voters, soon to be given a chance to express a choice as to the two aspirants now seeking the office of president in this state—Secretary Hoover and Senator Willis—to the disgraceful record of the latter, when he was governor in 1915.

That is the year a German submarine sank the Lusitania and murdered more than 1,500 American citizens in illegal warfare. Following that tragedy, the New York Times sent a query to the governor of every state in the union, asking for comments upon such unlawful warfare. The then governor of this great state, Frank B. Willis, is the only one of the 48 governors who justified that mad act of the German Kaiser. For that, if for no other reason, I will not vote for the senator for president. That act alone makes him unworthy to receive the vote of any honest, red-blooded American.

If, by any chance, the senator should be nominated by my party, I would lose by self-respect by supporting him at the polls, for I am a patriot before I am a Republican.

JOHN MCGRAW.

STIVERS WINS STATE HONORS IN BASKETBALL

Before 4000 cheering fans in the state fair grounds coliseum, Saturday night, Dayton Stivers and Marshall high school basketball quintets were proclaimed state Class A and B champions, respectively, for the season of 1928. Stivers won the title for the sixth time in history by defeating Canton McKinley in the final, 25 to 20, while Marshall nosed out Manchester, 20 to 17.

Both winners figured in last year's title play, Marshall having been beaten in the second round by Kent State which later copped the Class B championship. Stivers was eliminated by Salem last year in the opening round of play. It is the second title for Stivers in four years, the "Gem City" aggregation having breezed through to victory in 1924. As a result of their victory, Stivers will probably be invited to compete in the national high school championships, scheduled for Loyola university, Chicago, early in April.

Ohio Ranked Seventh In Ton-Litter List

Ohio ranked seventh among 29 states in 1917 ton-litter contests, it is announced by the United States Department of Agriculture. Thirty-nine ton-litters were produced in Ohio last year. Pennsylvania led with 126. Wisconsin, with only 34 litters, was first in the weight column, with a litter of 12 pigs which weighed 3598 pounds at 180 days of age. The highest average weight of the ton litters, 2648 pounds, was reported from Idaho.

Indiana was second both in the number of litters produced, 80, and in the weight of the heaviest litter, 3540 pounds. Wisconsin had the highest average number of pigs in the ton litters, 11.2 each.

The average weight of ton litters in all 29 states was 2313 pounds; the average of the Ohio litters was 2210 pounds. The average number of pigs in all ton litters was 10.42; in Ohio the was 10.5. The average weight of the heaviest litter from Ohio weighed 2680 pounds.

"This year's results again demonstrated the value of well-bred hogs for pork production," says the announcement of the figures. "No litter in which pure breeding did not predominate, reached the goal. The selection of sows having the ability to farrow large litters, as well as the application of improved practices to save every pig farrowed, was also a factor in the production of these ton litters, most of which consisted of 10 pigs or more."

LARGE OATS AVERAGE

The prospects for a light wheat crop in this section due to the wheat freezing out indicates a much larger oat acreage than usual. Manager Harry Lewis of the Farmers' Grain Company reports one of the largest sales of seed oats this spring the company has ever had. Many farmers will sow barley in place of the wheat.

The building is owned by Dilver Delden and the loss is placed at $15,000. The Hatchery lost 15,000 baby chicks, four large incubators, and two cars of chick feed.

The upper floors were used to store household goods and a number of persons lost all their belongings.

COMMANDMENTS FOR TEACHERS

The Federal Bureau of Education holds that heredity and even temperament have much to do with the teacher's ability to maintain her position. Ten commandments have been laid down as a guide.

"Thou shalt have other interests besides thy school room."

"Thou shalt not try to make of thy children little images for they are a live little bunch, visiting the wriggling of their capitivity upon you, their teacher, unto the last weary moment of the day; and showing interest and co-operation unto those who can give them reasonable freedom in working."

"Thou shalt not scream the names of thy children in irritation, for they will not hold thee in respect if thou screamest their names in vain."

"Remember the last day of the week, to keep it happy."

"Honor the feelings of thy children that their good-will may speak well for thee in the little domain over which thou rulest."

"Thou shalt not kill one breath of stirring endeavor in the heart of a little child."

"Thou shalt not utter any unkind words, for the children are sensitive to the drudgery of many papers the precious hours that should be given to recreation, that they strongly and happily may appear unto all that come within thy presence."

"Thou shalt not bear witness to too many schemes of work; for much scattered effort is a weariness to the soul and a stumbling block to weary fingers."

"Thou shalt laugh—when it rains and wees, woolly ones muddy the floor; when it blows and doors bang, when little angels conceal their wrings and wriggle; when Tommy spills ink and Mary flops a tray of trailing letters; when visitors appear at the precise moment when all small heads have forgotten everything you thought they knew. And again I say unto you, laugh, for upon all these commandments hangs all the law and the profits in thy schoolroom."

Songs of Plain Folks

By James Lewis Hays

Farm Boy

He lies dreaming on a hill,
Tanned, barefoot, in clover,
In a deep sky, blue and still,
Stupe are falling over,
I've a proud ship of my own,
Such as he is dreaming of;
I would trade it for his throne,
For his youth and clouds above.

Farm boy, dreaming in the sun,
You will sail a ship to sea,
And, when youth's delight is done,
Turn your heart again, like me,
To the dreamy meadow hills
Where the lark sings high and free,
Where the buttercup dials
Honey for the pirate bee.

AN INSULT TO INTELLIGENT PEOPLE

If ever insult was flaunted in the faces of intelligent men and women, it has come from Senator Frank Willis and Congressman Charles Brand. The charge of pro-British and un-American against Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover sounds more like the statement of a demagogue than from a member of congress.

Born of poor parents, left an orphan, reared under the guidance of a Quaker family, Herbert Hoover worked his way through school and later graduated from a university. His ability as an engineer was recognized not only at home but in England and China. His many years of honored service abroad made him one of the consultant engineers of the world. Such a service now brands him un-American in the eyes of Willis and Brand, but thank goodness the American public has another view.

We have two sons of his township now in a worthy service in a foreign country under British control. Under the Willis and Brand idea both can be charged as being pro-British. Who could believe such slush?

Hoover has never found it necessary to parade his accomplishments to win public favor. His work speaks for itself. He has made the best of his talents which the public admires. World success has not swelled Hoover's head, but its wonderful what a little honor will do for some others, merited or otherwise.

THE MAN FROM THE COUNTRY

Why do so many men from "the country" wind up in the chief executive positions in industry and in public office?

Probably because they develop a stronger physical constitution and a broader education on many and varied lines of human endeavor and activity. The average man raised in the city does not have the same opportunity for mental and physical growth.

The man who gained his early training away from the great centers of population generally has a broader vision of human affairs, and a better mental "yardstick" with which to see and measure the possibilities of the future.

WHO WILL PAY FOR SHORTER WEEK?

It has been announced that a determined demand will be made this year for a five-day working week. This means the sacrifice of older men, less keenly alert men, victims of past industrial accidents, everybody who could not stand the swifter pace. It means a few hours more leisure for the swift, though they pay at a greater nerve sacrifice and an earlier breaking point; but it means fewer jobs, with the slower worker a jobless derelict on every labor market.

To maintain present production on a shorter work week, is to make no new jobs; it only throws out men who cannot get jobs under harder competition. To cut production along with the cut in hours, in order to give new jobs, is to increase costs to everybody; a desperate hazard, almost certain to destroy any industry that tries it.

FIRE WASTE OUR OWN FAULT

Commenting on Our Country's appalling annual fire waste, the Washington Post says:

"The average American will not take fire seriously. He lets inflammable matter collect in out-of-the-way corners. He stores combustible materials in flimsy containers. He throws lighted matches out of the window or into dry leaves in the forest. He shakes ashes from his cigar or cigarette into the waste basket. Consequently the nation is called upon to pay a fire bill of $560,000,000 in a single year, and during the past 49 years has dug down into its pockets for some $10,000,000,000, almost the amount owed to the United States in war debts by the allied nations, to pay for conflagrations.

"Not all fires are preventable. The majority, however, are. If Americans will take time to take care in this connection, it will mean millions of dollars saved every year."

ARTERIES OF THE NATION

One hundred years ago the first American railroad system, the Baltimore and Ohio was inaugurated. Staid citizens of the time used to gasp at the "comic-strip" engine followed by a few cars traveling slowly over its brief length of track. Today, monster locomotives hauling many heavy, comfortable cars, equal to the finest palace in their conveniences and sleeping accommodations, speed over 420,000 miles of track, in every section of the United States.

In this 100-year period practically all American progress has been made. There could have been no satisfactory settling of our great stretches of isolated country without a means of communication better than the ox-cart, or ships that came around the Horn. The railroad provided the necessity and brought the supplies for the extension of civilization on a large scale. In short, they brought development and prosperity.

America as we know it could no more grow and prosper without healthy railroad arteries of transportation to carry our products to the remotest districts, than could the human body thrive without a perfect arterial system to carry the life-giving blood from the heart to the farthest finger tip.

SCHOOL DAYS

We are now well along in the second half of the school year and everywhere the teacher and pupil are looking toward those strenuous Spring weeks which will tell the story of promotion or failure. Most boys and girls in this happy day have realized in their experience that school days no longer represent a blur of gray monotony, a more or less torturous experience, an affliction to be borne with whatever fortitude and endurance one may possess.

Away back in the days when the little red schoolhouse was serving its immortal purposes, things were very different than at present. In those days getting to school was many times a problem of serious proportions, and getting an education was reckoned among the most arduous achievements in life. There were no special features of diversion to make learning loved in those days; there were many hardships and handicaps. Even in the cities the school year was more or less a drab affair. Time has changed all of that. Splendid school buildings, both in country and town, now offer haven to all who care to learn. Proper heating, sanitation, comfortable furniture, excellent textbooks, efficient teachers have replaced crude and uncomfortable structures, the menacing conditions and the inadequate textbooks of other days. Today schoolwork is made interesting. Today the schoolteacher is an important personage, and indispensable factor in the life of the community. Today the pupil, if he takes advantage of his opportunities, when he leaves the public school is prepared to enter, well equipped, the struggle of existence. And then there are the normal schools, seminaries, academies, colleges and universities—all far in the forefront of educational progress, each adding its contribution to the development of the nation's education.

School days, even under the most trying circumstances, live forever in the memory, hallowed by the truest, tenderest and finest experience of life. They indeed are those "dear old Golden Rule days." With these memories are entwined humanity's purest emotions; school days know the clean ambitions of the youth that come to us but once, meeting all too soon into the fabric of life, whose warp and woof is composed of the threads of joy and pain, sorrow and sacrifice, the responsibilities and burdens inseparable from mature realization.

HOOVER ORGANIZATION

FOUNDED IN CHARLESTON

Frank Crothers and N. W. Leman of Springfield were in town Wednesday afternoon, in the interests of a township "Hoover for president" club. Several names were obtained here, it is said, although they reported finding considerable sentiment for Vice-President Dawes, and some for Lowden. Willis sentiment is weak, they declared.

Thursday afternoon a "Hoover for president" rally was held at the assembly room in the courthouse. Among the 200 in attendance were a number of men from the vicinity.

According to a local follower of the Commerce Secretary, the meeting indicated a strength for Hoover beyond all expectations. Little time was given to preparation for the rally, which brought together representatives of all the nine counties of the district.

The local man was especially bitter against Congressman Charles Brand, who carried the Willis-Hoover fight to the floor of Congress this week. Brand's talk would have been all right in Ohio, he said, but contended it was out of place to make it before Congress.

It was intimated that Brand might have opposition for the nomination for Congress this year. —South Charleston Sentinel.

DON'T AGREE WITH BRAND

While Representative Brand of Ohio was assailing Herbert Hoover with bitter invective on Tuesday the Republican citizens of New Hampshire were voting at the primaries.

You see, they did not know Brand—does anyone outside his own Ohio? But they did know Hoover. And so they elected a strong set of delegates who will proceed to Kansas City and vote for him.

The braying of a Brand and of no consequence by the side of the splendid services that Hoover for years has rendered the United States, especially as the services are real and the braying are based upon malicious misrepresentation.

The Willis campaign in Ohio, for which Brand is a spokesman, is becoming thoroughly nauseating. —Philadelphia Inquirer.

A. S. L. TREASURER GOES TO HOOVER

While Senator Frank Willis is raking Hoover on the prohibition question, Robert L. Dickey, banker, treasurer of the Ohio Anti Saloon League announces that he will support Hoover, and has asked to be enrolled in a Hoover organization in Columbus. Frank never mentions the Remus bribery to get liquor permits for the withdrawal of liquor from a department headed by a Willis appointee.

MUSKINGUM STRAW VOTE

The presidential straw vote taken at Muskingum College among 645 students gave Hoover 489 votes, Willis 73, Lowden, 73 Dawes 34, Hughes 1, and Coolidge 4.

$315 More Profit from Each Acre of Potatoes

The combination of larger yields and better quality makes real potato profits. Before last season Mr. J. U. Shutt, of Strasburg, Tuscarawas Co., Ohio, averaged 200 bushels of potatoes per acre. Last season Mr. Shutt used "AA QUALITY" Fertilizer. His yield was 375 bushels of top-quality potatoes per acre. Note this significant fact, Mr. Shutt not only got a fine yield but he got exceptionally fine quality. He sold his potatoes for $1.80 a bushel, which meant that his income was $675 from each acre of potatoes—an increased profit of $315 per acre.

Thousands of other successful growers have found that "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers produce extra yields, better quality, and larger profits. There is nothing accidental about such splendid results. "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers are painstakingly and scientifically made for each crop and each locality.

"AA QUALITY" goods are guaranteed by the largest fertilizer company in the world. They have back of them over sixty years of fertilizer experience—and, what is more, over sixty years of successful crop production. Three generations of farmers have obtained top-quality crops with "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers.

Use "AA QUALITY" Fertilizers this season and get maximum yields of top-quality crops—and maximum profits too.

POTATO YIELD INCREASED FIFTY PER CENT—Mr. Arthur Lane, of Marietta, Washington Co., Ohio, says: "By using 'AA QUALITY' Fertilizer this year I have grown 50% more potatoes than I did last year on same piece of ground. The potatoes were larger and smoother than any others I ever raised on my farm. I never had any fertilizer give such results. I shall always use your 'AA QUALITY' Fertilizer."—October 7, 1927.

GIVES BEST RESULTS—Mr. Albert Sommer, of Mt. Hope, Holmes Co., Ohio, says: "I have used quite a number of different kinds of fertilizers, but never used any that gave me the results that 'AA QUALITY' Fertilizer for potatoes has given me this fall. I will plow two acres this spring, and of course it will be 'AA QUALITY' that goes on them."—September 18, 1927.

GOOD RESULTS FOR 40 YEARS—Mr. T. J. Williamson, Portland, Sumner Co., Tenn., says: "I have been using Homestead Fertilizer ('AA QUALITY') for over forty years and it has always given the best of satisfaction. All that I have used was in the best condition."—October 14, 1927.

CAN'T AFFORD TO FARM WITHOUT FERTILIZERS—Mr. E. N. Myers, of Circle, Sandusky Co., Ohio, says: "I have been using 300 lbs. of 'AA QUALITY' Fertilizer on my sweet corn for market and find it better materially so that I can get it on the market earlier and command a better price. I also used 300 lbs. per acre on my sugar beets, and find it pays highly. So many farmers say they can't afford to use fertilizer. I for one can't afford to farm without it. Plants are like animals and respond to good feeding. I use plenty of 'AA QUALITY' Fertilizer on my plants so I have a bounteous crop to feed my animals."—October 10, 1927.

Molasses Has Value On Corn In Ration

Makes Home Lay and Chicks Grow When Substituted For Corn in Feed

Corn molasses in the poultry ration possesses certain distinct advantages over corn, when substituted for that grain in quantities up to 10 per cent of the ration. This has been established by two years of experimental work by the poultry husbandry department of the Ohio State University. The molasses has replaced corn on a pound-for-pound basis. "It has given equally good results in rations for starting and growing chickens, laying hens and fattening birds," says Prof. A. R. Winter of the poultry department, in discussing the results of the tests.

In a test with laying hens, those fed on a ration containing 5 per cent of molasses laid 16.98 per cent more eggs than a group fed with corn and no molasses. At the same time the mortality among them was only 5 per cent as compared to 12.5 per cent among the hens which got no molasses. The test was carried on during the fall and winter months.

Growing chicks, at eight weeks of age, weighed 17.7 per cent more when fed a 5 per cent molasses ration, and suffered a mortality of only 7.32 per cent as against 12.39 per cent for the chicks which received corn instead of molasses. When fed 10 per cent molasses the chicks weighed only 16.5 per cent more, but the mortality had been reduced to 4.88 per cent.

"The cane molasses carries some Vitamin B. and furnishes carbohydrates in easily available form," says Professor Winter. "The potassium salts in the product serve as a mild laxative. It is believed that the carbohydrates create a condition in the intestine unfavorable to the development of coccidiosis and other harmful bacteria. This theory is under investigation at the present time."

Herbert Hoover a Grandson of Ohio---Old Records Show Four Generations of Ancestors in Miami County

West Milton, Ohio, (Special)—Herbert Hoover is a grandson of Ohio. Four generations of Hoover's paternal ancestors lived, as man or boy, on the old Hoover farm located about one mile southwest of this Ohio village in Union township, Miami county.

Two generations of them—his father and grandfather—were both born here. Two generations—great grandfather and great great grandfather—died here and rest in the burial ground of the old West Branch Quaker church, the church where Hoover's grandmother used to preach to the women's sessions of the Friends' meetings.

The Hoovers came to Ohio in 1802, when John Hoover, great great grandfather of the present Secretary of Commerce, left North Carolina, because of objections to slavery, and sought a home in the new Quaker colony that was being established in Miami county. He obtained from President Jefferson a patent to a section of land and settled down to establish his home and rear his family.

With John Hoover came his son Jesse, then a mere boy. Jesse grew up, married, and among his children was a son Eli, who, when he married, established his home on an eight-acre plot of the original section that had been entered by his grandfather. Here, on Sept. 2, 1847, Jesse Clark Hoover, father of Herbert Clark Hoover, was born.

Grandmother Dies in Ohio. To Eli Hoover and his wife, who had been Mary Davis, were born here four children—Alan, Eunice, Henry and Rebecca. In the early 50's, Mrs. Hoover fell into a decline. The country doctor said she had a "pulmonary disease," but doctors today probably would diagnose her ailment as consumption. A change of climate was decided upon and on Oct. 1, 1858, the little farm was sold. Before a change could be made, however, Mrs. Hoover's condition became worse. She could not travel. For her, the decision to move had come too late and she died early in 1864. Within a few weeks her daughter, Eunice, also died of "a congestion of the lungs."

Leaving wife and daughter in the old West Branch burial ground, where his father and grandfather already rested, Eli Hoover with his four remaining children moved west—to Iowa.

Ohio's Grandmother Was Famous. There Jesse Hoover grew up and married and to them—at West Branch, Iowa—on Oct. 15, 1874,

The country doctor said she had a "pulmonary disease," but doctors today probably would diagnose her ailment as consumption. A change of climate was decided upon and on Oct. 1, 1858, the little farm was sold. Before a change could be made, however, Mrs. Hoover's condition became worse. She could not travel. For her, the decision to move had come too late and she died early in 1864. Within a few weeks her daughter, Eunice, also died of "a congestion of the lungs."

Leaving wife and daughter in the old West Branch burial ground, where his father and grandfather already rested, Eli Hoover with his four remaining children moved west—to Iowa.

Ohio's Grandmother Was Famous. There Jesse Hoover grew up and married and to them—at West Branch, Iowa—on Oct. 15, 1874, was born a son whom they named Herbert Clark.

That son, grown to manhood and having won fame and fortune in his profession as engineer, caught the attention and fired the imagination of America in the early days of the World War by the initiative and resourcefulness with which he plunged into the problem of assisting Americans stranded abroad and, this done, turned to the labor of feeding and housing the destitute noncombatants in Belgium and Northern France, left in the wake of the German war machine.

Today, that son, with a record of accomplishment in public service equalled by few men in so short a span of years, a tried and proven executive in the cabinets of two presidents, has been placed by his friends and admirers in the race for the presidency.

Should he win out, Ohio will be able to place yet another feather in her cap. For she would have, this time, a grandson in the White House.

Old Records Tell Story.

This story of Hoover as a grandson of Ohio is disclosed by a search of the land records of Miami county, Ohio, filed in the recorder's office at Troy, and by the records of the West Branch Friends church, now in possession of Mrs. Frances Thomas, near here.

The home in which Jesse Hoover—Herbert Hoover's father—was born, is still standing. It is located on old Butler Road, a short mile from West Milton and about 18 miles north of Dayton.

On Pig Eye Road, another mile to the south, is the old West Branch Meeting House, where Herbert Hoover's grandmother, at monthly meetings, preached to the women's sessions. The old church, dilapidated and in disrepair and now used for drying tobacco, still shows, however, the remnants of the old partition that divided the men from the women in their religious services.

Across the road from the church is the cemetery where Hoover's great great grandfather and great grandfather are buried. There, too, rest his grandmother and the aunt, Eunice, who died in childhood.

The stones to these graves as so worn that only a few of the names clearly will disclose which graves is which, but it is believed two worn sandstone slabs, standing close together at one end of the Hoover plot, mark the graves of Eunice Hoover and her mother Mary.

Transfer to Iowa.

The transfer of Eli Hoover and his four children from the West Branch church to the Red Cedar Monthly Meeting of Friends, Iowa, is fully recounted in the carefully kept church records under late of March 16, 1854 in this entry: "Eli Hoover requests a certificate of removal for himself and our minor children to Red Cedar Monthly Meeting of Friends, Iowa. Luke S. Mote and Riley Davis are appointed to make the necessary inquiry and if they find nothing to hinder to prepare and produce one to the next meeting."

On the following page the transfer is shown duly approved and signed.

While his father and grandfather quit Ohio at that time, they remained behind in the Buckeye state a host of relatives who, with heir descendants, may now claim and establish kinship with Herbert Hoover.

Host of Relatives in State

There had come into Ohio with great great grandfather John Hoover, four brothers—Anewe, Jacob, Daniel and David. Of these and their off-spring it is estimated some 300 Quaker inhabitants of Miami, Darke, Preble and Montgomery counties can trace heir ancestry to a common parent with the Secretary of Commerce.

Relationship by direct descent, or through marriage, can be established by many of the key families of these thrifty, thriving Quaker counties. Among the families known to be so related are the Coates, Coppenke, Halls, Layworths, Brandons, Jones, Hoel and Hoies.

So if Herbert Hoover, perhaps as President Hoover, ever undertakes to stage a family reunion for his Ohio relatives at the White House, even the spacious East Room will not suffice. He'll have to hire the Washington Auditorium.
