SIXTIETH YEAR

NO. 27

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, JUNE 4, 1937

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS.—Indications are that 1937 will be marked down in history as one of the banner years for visitors to Ohio's historic Capital building, according to Mrs. Julia Cussins, who is the State House information clerk with headquarters in the rotunda. Large school groups from virtually all sections of the state have appeared almost daily for the past three months, and they have been augmented by an unusually large number of other Ohioans, by tourists from the forty-seven other states and by several guests from foreign countries, Mrs. Cussins said. The official register which was placed in the rotunda March 4 already contains nearly 5,000 signatures and, as a general rule, numerous Columbus summer conventions in the offing, the big Ohio State fair and five home football games for Ohio State university, we may anticipate a record visiting year," Mrs. Cussins asserted.

Preparations are completed for the dedication Sunday afternoon, June 13, of the home in Westerville, near here, where it was announced by Dr. Harold Lindley, secretary of the Ohio State Archaeological and Historical society. The home has been restored as a WPA project and converted into a museum. The campaign to save the structure, which stood for years in a run-down condition, was sponsored by the Hanby Memorial association, an organization of prominent Westerville business and civic leaders, which obtained the WPA backing. Spinning wheels and other furniture of the Civil war era, relics of the same period, and the desk where Hanby wrote his song have been collected for the museum which will be administered under the direction of the archaeological and historical society. Hanby composed "Darling Nellie Gray" in 1855 when he was 22 years of age. He was born in Rushville, Fairfield county, and died in 1867 at the age of 34.

Attorney General Herbert S. Duffly, in an opinion rendered at the request of the state division of building and loans, ruled that the constitutional abolishing stockholders' double liability, effective July 1, will have no effect upon stockholders in institutions now closed and in liquidation. Attorney General Duffly pointed out that the double liability in the closed institutions was in effect a contract and that contracts cannot be impaired under the constitution.

A slight preference for girls was shown in adoption statistics compiled by Miss T. Gertrude Fortune, superintendent of the state division of charities. Of the total children adopted last year, 673 were girls and 622 were boys. A ten per cent increase in Ohio adoptions was recorded in 1936 as compared to the 1935 total, Miss Fortune said. Cuyahoga led all other counties with 250 adoptions, while none was reported for either Highland or Wyandot counties.

The Ohio Conservation council, in session here, decided against any changes in the season for taking pheasants and rabbits which attract most of Ohio nimrods, Conservation Commissioner Lawrence Woodwell reported. However, the council established the squirrel season for September 25 to October 10. Previously the date was October 1 to 15. The action was taken on the basis of the returns of 2,200 questionnaires from sportsmen throughout the state and following a supplementary public hearing. The pheasant season will open at noon November 15 and will continue for ten days. Rabbits may be taken from noon November 15 through January 1.

Lowry Sproul Drops Into Town Tuesday

Lowry Sproul, former Cedarville boy that left these parts many years ago, gave his friends a surprise Tuesday when he dropped into town on a short visit, enroute to Pittsburgh, and Greensburg, Pa. Mr. Sproul will be remembered by older citizens as he is the eldest son of Rev. A. C. Sproul, aged 97, Pittsburgh, Pa., who was the Reformed Presbyterian minister, (O. S.) here for many years. Lowry is located in Atlanta, Ga., and is superintendent of Car Service for the Southern Railroad. He will be eligible to retirement in three years.
Mr. Sproul left St. Petersburg, Fla., Sunday noon driving a car through that belonged to an uncle who suffered a paralytic stroke in that city some months ago. Mrs. Sproul accompanied the uncle home by train.
Lowry says there are many people in St. Petersburg at this time on their summer vacation, the weather being much more delightful than the hot days we have been having. He is a strong booster for Florida weather, winter or summer, and says that he expects to make his final home in that state.

Cemetery Entrance Dedicated Monday

Memorial exercises were observed Monday at two of the local cemeteries, the summer weather bringing out a good crowd for the events. The graves in all cemeteries were decorated previous to the services.

The service honoring veterans of all wars was conducted this year at Massies Creek Cemetery, the American Legion accepting the invitation of the Board of Trustees of that cemetery.

Dr. W. R. McChesney was the speaker of the day and gave a fine address backed with a historical review that led up to the event of the day. Concluding he dedicated the new entrance to the cemetery in a very impressive service. Mr. J. E. Kyle, chairman of the improvement committee presided and gave a short history of the cemetery that covered a period of 127 years. Mr. Fred Townsley represented the American Legion on the program. The invocation was presented by Rev. R. A. Jamieson. At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees the treasurer was authorized to present Dr. McChesney a deed to a lot adjoining that of his father-in-law, Dr. James F. Morton, in recognition of his service in so many ways.

Following this service the Cedar Cliff Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution had charge of the service at the Massies Creek or Stevenson Cemetery near Wilberforce. The speakers were W. W. Galloway and Fred Townsley.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. C. E. Hill; Dr. D. E. Guthrie, Springfield, read the scripture and the benediction was by Rev. R. A. Jamieson.

WHO ARE THE WEALTHY TAX EVADERS?

Franklin D. Roosevelt, the New York Fifth Avenue socialite, who holds down the fort at the White House as dictator under Communist leadership, drags a red herring across the public prints the past few days to hide the true financial condition of the nation and his utter failure to balance the budget.

Roosevelt lays the blame on failure to raise sufficient taxes from incomes to meet his spending heresy on the so-called rich of the nation. Who are these rich? In as much as the Roosevelt clan has lived for more than fifty years in the restricted social circles in New York where the family bank account counts more than even moral habits, it should be no trouble for him to publically name who the traitors are.

In view of the fact that the family fortune, although entailed in control of a trust company, is invested in one of the largest electrical industrial concerns in the world, we wonder if any of the stockholders in this hundred million dollar concern could be guilty as Roosevelt charges. Could it be possible that Owen Young, millionaire Democrat, backer of Roosevelt, could be guilty of holding out on Uncle Sam? There are the Boston millionaire merchant of Hebrew accent, the millionaire family represented in the treasury department, there is the U. S. Treasurer, a prominent millionaire Democrat from Cincinnati, millionaire diplomats of the Democratic faith and scores of wealthy Democratic manufacturers and bankers, are there any tax-income slackers in this group? Roosevelt should purge his own political house before trying to throw dust to blind the real issue before the nation.

IF DEMOCRATS ARE PROPERTY OWNERS—WHAT?

Last week the John L. Lewis C.I.O. union, Pontiac, Mich., composed largely of automobile workers, voted to put the union behind a plan in that city to dominate just what all rent should be. The Communist crowd, that has had and still has the open backing of Roosevelt, Frankenstein, Tugwell, and a score of Russian followers, is determined to confiscate residence property for the benefit of union members.

The plan is to have the union place a valuation on the property occupied by its members. It was voted to allow the owner but one per cent a month as rent. If the owner refused to accept that amount or resorted to eviction suits in court, then the union member and his family would refuse to pay any rent.

The plans are somewhat undermined just what will follow if the owner of the house should take other steps. It is likely that the old Communist rule will be enforced that if the tenant is forced to move then the house is to be damaged, probably blown up or set on fire. This would be the logical method of procedure under the Communist so-called New Deal. No doubt the flag on the capitol would be hoisted a few inches higher to be followed by another of those home-warming affairs best termed as a speech on the "state of the nation."

We sincerely hope that a reasonable number of Democrats in Pontiac are renting property to the Roosevelt-Lewis union auto employees where the plan can be tried out first. Detroit is next and the union claims 50,000 property owners will feel the force of the Communist movement. Let's hope some of our Democratic property owners in Greene county get a taste of the Lewis New Deal.

George Galloway

WHAT PAUL SAYS

The death of George Galloway, former Xenia druggist, and a lifelong Democrat, recalls some very interesting chats we have had with him the past three or four years, after an intimate acquaintance of thirty-five years. No one could question the sincerity of Mr. Galloway's choice between the two dominant political parties. He was grounded in the Democratic faith such as Jefferson, Cleveland and Wilson represented. He had little use for the present day tendencies of his party and questioned more than once to the writer just what the future had in store for the party of his choice. He had no use for Communism but was convinced that the present administration was surrounded by leaders that did not have the future of this country at heart.

At times on certain issues he openly spoke against the Roosevelt policy and just a few weeks ago predicted that the fight between labor leaders with Roosevelt siding with the Communist group, Lewis union, meant serious trouble not only for the party but the entire nation. It was Mr. Galloway that gave us the hint some weeks ago that the Democratic party had forgotten the ideals of Grover Cleveland during the days of the panic that "economic planning should provide that the lowest class of citizenship could have a little of everything" rather than excessively high prices that make it impossible for the poorer class to enjoy even good clothes. The Democratic party lost a true and loyal supporter in his death but the party as it is being used today by questionable forces that concerns the loyalty of the people to the government, had an open critic.

Herbert Mengert, Columbus correspondent for the Cincinnati Enquirer has made a state-wide survey of the relief situation, reporting on each county. The result certainly vindicates the legislature in refusing to pass legislation to continue what had turned out to be a Democratic party racket. Counties with large cities have set up the cry that more relief was necessary but according to Mengert every county can best take care of its own unfortunate when the political chislers are cut off the list. John Fisher, who represented the Cox New League, in his daily letter lets the water in on the grafting politicians that have been using the relief situation to keep the Democratic organization in good working order but at the expense of the state and counties.

What Mengert and Fisher have brought to light is just what can be found in most counties, including Greene. It is nothing short of a scandal. We have been getting interesting reports from various parts of the county since the publication of the bills approved and paid for coal, groceries, clothing, physicians, etc. One prominent Democrat said to the writer that the relief scandal is enough to damn the party for fifty years, and yet it is the first time we have ever heard him express himself against the New Deal both in Washington and in Columbus. As he puts it the Democrats for fifty years fought against the high cost of government and the waste laid at the door of various Republican administrations. Now he says with Roosevelt spending the nation into prosperity with a debt that staggers the world, few of the old time Democrats even have time to make one complaint of what is going on. He predicts the whole New Deal program will lead the nation into the greatest and the most damaging depression, panic, or what you want to call it, that was ever known.

The legislature probably acted wiser than it thought in refusing to pass relief laws. It is said that 85,000 people were on relief in Cleveland and Cuyahoga county, two-thirds of whom were connected with the Democratic organization. Hamilton county this week cut off 25,000 relievers at one stroke of the pen. Franklin county left it to the township trustees to make the cuts and one township cut its list from 241 to 5 families.

Down in Washington even Congress has got the spirit of the day for Tuesday, Congress over-rode a veto of Roosevelt on federal relief legislation. Such a step with the rubber-stamp congress is very unusual. Democratic congressmen are hearing from home and then an election is not so far away.

We asked a prominent county Democrat his opinion of the Roosevelt proposal to force a minimum wage and hour law on all labor, including farm labor. As the proposal carried 40c an hour for not to exceed 35 or 40 hours a week, we find even New Deal farmers are not so much taken with the Communist movement. This Democratic friend answered if the proposed hours and wage were made into law it would not be long until the Lewis crowd would ask for a six hour day at fifty or sixty cents an hour. What of the outcome we asked? "Farmers will do all they can themselves and let the rest go," which would leave labor out in the cold. That's what hundreds of small restaurants are doing just now owing to the social security taxes and the Ohio fixed wage for restaurant help. Meantime you do not hear much praise of the New Deal from behind the counter.

Red Coral Always Prized. It is red coral that is used always has been prized, not solely for jewelry and buttons, but as a charm to bring safety, health and secrets not revealed to the ordinary person. As ancient Gauls rushed headlong into battle, they trusted their safety to their swords, strength and the "magic" coral imbedded in their shields or helmets. Many Italians and Indians regard coral as protection against the "evil eye." The world's red coral comes from the reefs of the Mediterranean coast of Africa, says the Washington Post, and is obtained chiefly by Italians.

JONES-REED NUPTIALS
TUESDAY MORNING

The marriage of Mr. Leo W. Reed to Miss Helen Louise Jones, took place Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Jones, Beaver Creek Twp.

Fourteen guests, members of the immediate families and two friends, were bidden to the nuptials for which Rev. A. C. Renoll, pastor of Beaver Reformed Church, officiated, using the single ring service.

The vows were exchanged before an altar of garden flowers arranged before the fireplace in the living room. Other rooms of the home were decorated with baskets of summer flowers.

The bride, who was unattended, wore the wedding gown in which her mother was married on June 16, 1908. The gown, of sheer white material, was fashioned along princess lines, with short puffed sleeves, with tiny hand tucks and sheer lace as the trimming. She wore white accessories and her corsage was of roses and valley lilies.

For the wedding breakfast following the ceremony the guests were seated at a large table, with a wedding cake as the centerpiece, and decorated with white tapers and summer flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed left by motor Tuesday noon for the East to spend several weeks with Mrs. Reed's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. The open saloon in Michigan is definitely and finally through. Liquor interests ought to be realistic enough to see that. Whenever they begin to foin the old saloon upon the state as a whole, with all its attendant abuses of politics, vice and bloated profits, they are simply begging for bigger and better Prohibition. — Grand Rapids Press.

UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson
Lesson for June 8
JOSEPH'S READINESS FOR SERVICE
LESSON TEXT—Genesis 41:1-44
GOLDEN TEXT—God will make a man before he makes a nation.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Joseph's Service
JUNIOR TOPIC—Joseph's God-Fearing
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Readiness to Serve
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Preparation for Public Service

Public service—that position of opportunity and responsibility—merits far better treatment than is commonly accorded to it, for we know only too well how often it is nothing but a political football carried hither and yon for the distasteful purposes of party leaders.

Scripture holds a very exalted view of the public servant. Paul tells us to "be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God (Rom. 13:1). The Bible teaches that every governmental agency and every public servant from the policeman on the beat to the President in the White House, is only permitted to exercise authority over his fellow men because God has ordained that there should be such government. Clear it is that every right-thinking official of state and nation should be humble, teachable, discreet, and wise in the exercise of his power, and God-fearing in the discharge of his responsibility.

Joseph, the one in the procession of the patriarchs of Genesis who passes before us in the lesson today is interesting from many angles. His personal history is a chronicle of a man who was a model of appealing biography. He is a marvelous type of Christ, and one could devote hours to such a study of his life. But our lesson subject presents him as one ready for public service, and we may well profit by the lesson. He is an example of what men who serve their country should be.

I. Before God—Humble and Teachable (vv. 1-34)
The background of our lesson is found in the four preceding chapters. Joseph, the boy with dreams and aspirations, has been a student of discipline, humility, purity, and many other useful lessons in the hard school of experience. It has been said that the tuition of that school is high, but the lessons are well learned.

Now he stands before the king to interpret a double dream, sent as a warning to the nation. The wise men who knew not the true God had vainly sought to answer the king's riddles. Joseph, however, and as an example, he receives instructions and guidance from God, and speaks wise words because taught of him. Would that all those who stand as counselors before kings and presidents in our country would listen for the voice of God before they speak.

II. Before Men—Spiritual, Discreet, and Wise (vv. 35-44)
Pharaoh recognized that the spirit of God was in Joseph. That is a great testimony for Joseph, and at the same time it reflects credit upon the king. Who would be the result if our government officials were chosen for their spirituality?

Spirituality is not the only qualification, however, for such service. The Christian who supports a man to favor him because he is Christian, even though he be cunning and incompetent, finds no comfort in the study of Joseph. He was discreet and wise. The follower of Christ should distinguish himself by diligent and intelligent application of all his powers to his work. The man will honor both him and his God.

III. In Service—Responsible and Powerful (vv. 40-44)
He who had humbled himself under the mighty hand of God was exalted in due time. (Gal. 6:7-8.) Joseph was willing to wait God's time, and did not run ahead of him as did his father, Jacob.

The record shows that he used his place of honor and privilege to perform a difficult and arduous task and to do it well. Right-minded men do not glory in positions of power, but in the opportunity to serve themselves in sacrificial service to God and their fellow-men. Someone has aptly said that a politician is one who has his eye on the next election while a statesman has his eye on the next generation and his welfare. God give us more statesmen.

Never Despair
Let no man despair of himself. We may be regarded as full of God's powers; but Christ is the resurrection and the life, to him we are made full of living, seeing, soaring, rejoicing thoughts and passions.—Dr. W. L. Watkinson.

Advantages of Flow
Without fact you can think nothing. Fact teaches you what to be silent. Inquiries who are always inquiring never learn anything.—D. Russell.

Temperance Notes
Cedarville W. O. T. U.

Now that the Virginia Islands are floating under the American flag, the Demon Rum will be impounded after by your Uncle Sam.—Advertising Age.

It would be interesting indeed were we able to estimate the thousands or millions of years that people of this generation are taping off from the sum of their appointed lives, by this huge consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Alcohol Claims For 54 Percent of Prison Population

"In some of the foreign countries they have never known the power of alcohol," said Judge J. H. Smith, of the Boston Municipal Court, in a lecture recently given at the Military Institute of Police, under the auspices of the Social Hygiene Committee of the Boston City Hospital and the Advisory Committee for the study of Alcoholism.

In a report of the Grand Jury in Cleveland this month, it was stated that in every case that came to the jury's attention, testimony indicated that liquor was "an important element, if not the chief factor, leading to the crime."

This report also stated the beer parlor is the place of origin of many crimes.

"Repeal," says a college president, "has settled nothing but the capacity of the American people to make fools of themselves."

Let us be fair and consider whether there be any justification for such a statement.

Many towns in New Hampshire chalked up decisive dry victories at a liquor referendum November 3, although larger cities were in the wet column. Salem, New Hampshire, site of Rockingham race track, rejected liquor 456 to 401.

Are those who have poured this mighty flood of intoxicants down their throats in any way better for having done so? Or have they been robbing their afterlives of a portion of their rightful heritage of health, wealth, character, reputation and good prospects by so doing?

We do not know whether or not Lot was ever intoxicated before he moved to Sodom, but we do know that after he left Sodom he drank himself into insensibility two nights in succession (Gen. 19: 25-35). How much did Lot lose in being a drunkard?

Auto Insurance Rates Lowered
For Abstemious
It is reported that the premium rates of "Varde," the Norwegian abstemious motor insurance company, have been lowered because so much success has come to the organization since its establishment in 1934. The business was started in April of that year for the express purpose of giving to total abstemious in Norway their own insurance company, and as well to furnish proof that non-drinking motorists are safer than those who drink. The report for the first year of its existence proved its worth, for the premium income was $2,481,000, while the amount paid out in damages was 1,284,000. It is said that the percentage of accidents with other companies is about 65 per cent of those insured, while with "Varde" it is between 10 and 20 per cent.

THE TOPIC FOR TODAY IS Grain Shortage

There seems to be no doubt now that there is a shortage of grain in and around Cedarville. A little now and then is released as some feeder sees he has set aside a little more than he needs to feed out. The price has been variable but mostly high.

Just this week Allied Mills has offered what they call "GRAIN SUBSTITUTES," a cereal feed to replace corn, and made up of the following ingredients: GROUND CORN, HOMINY FEED, FINE GROUND OATS, STANDARD MIDDINGS, GROUND BARLEY, LIMESTONE, CANE MOLASSES and SALT. Protein content is that of highest grade corn, 10 per cent minimum, with fibre only 7 per cent. It is priced considerably under local corn and less than hominy while offering a better feed. This feed is a general substitute and can replace corn for hog, stock or chicken feeding.

This looks like the answer to many local feeding problems where grain is short. Come in, look it over, try it and forget about the local grain shortage.

FAIRBANKS THEATRE
Lovers of western movies will travel to Springfield, next Tuesday, June 8, to meet and see the famous singing cowboy from Hollywood, Gene Autry, who will appear in person on the Fairbanks theatre stage with a troupe of his movie cowboys and his famous movie horse, "Champion."

Autry, who is now on a personal appearance tour, has one of the finest stage presentations of the season. The popular cowboy movie star sings all the favorite old-time cowboy songs, presents his famous horse "Champion" on the stage in a series of clever tricks, and introduces Frankie Marvin, celebrated cowboy movie comedian, and some nifty fiddle playing by cowboy Art Davis.

A complete screen program will be shown in conjunction with Autry's personal appearances at the Fairbanks, Springfield, next Tuesday, June 8. Popular low prices will prevail at the box office.

Autry's June 8 appearance in Springfield will be a return engagement, the popular cowboy having played there in person two weeks ago at which time hundreds of people were turned away when the theatre was jammed to capacity at all performances. His return is to accommodate the many who were unable to get in and see him before.
