CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress,
Seventh Ohio District

The famous Townsend Plan, which has attracted national attention for nearly five years, finally reached a vote in the House of Representatives last Thursday. The bill voted upon was a substitute for the original Townsend measure, H. R. No. 2, and provided for transaction taxes ranging from one-half of one percent to two percent, and gross income taxes of two percent. The measure, which was also known as "The General Welfare Act," provided for the payment of pensions of up to two hundred dollars a month to all persons over sixty years of age, required them to spend the pension received each month, and was claimed to bring the return of prosperity. The bill was reported out by the Ways and Means Committee without recommendation, and, at the behest of the Administration was placed on the calendar under a rule which would prevent any amendment or change whatsoever in the measure. Such a move was undoubtedly made for the purpose of aiding and bringing about the defeat of the measure; as the latest substitute bill was hastily drawn, contained many questionable provisions, and defeated by a vote of three hundred and two to ninety-seven. During the debate the proponents of the bill stated the measure would permit pensions of somewhere around fifty dollars a month. Opponents claimed fifteen dollars per month would be the average pension under the bill; while disinterested statisticians estimated the average pension would be about thirty dollars per month. Proponents claimed the enactment of the bill would materially aid business. The opponents argued directly the opposite, pointing out that the pyramid taxes possible under the measure, the taxing of workmen's wages, rents, farm and food products, clothing, etc., as well as all other business transactions, would materially injure, if not completely wreck, our present business and industrial structures. The Townsend Plan is unquestionably dead for this session of Congress. However, it is thought that the present old age pension laws will be liberalized so as to permit pensions of forty dollars a month, or more, to be paid to the aged through Federal and State cooperation.

Preparations for the visit of the King and Queen of England to Washington this week are being completed as this is written. All Federal employees will be dismissed from service to join in the reception to be extended to the first ruling monarch of England ever to visit the United States. Many thousands of soldiers, sailors, and marines will participate in the great parade that will conduct their Majesties from Union Station to the White House. The city is being elaborately decorated and last minute arrangements are being made to care for the tens of thousands of visitors expected to throng the Capital City in the hope of obtaining a glimpse of the royal pair. A formal state dinner at the White House, a garden party at the British Embassy, and a reception for the Members of Congress and their families in the Capitol rotunda, will be high lights of the royal visit.

Much discussion and "clank-iron gossip" is going on these days behind the scenes regarding the drive being made by ardent New Dealers to bring about the re-nomination of President Roosevelt for a third term. Mr. Roosevelt has said nothing definite as to his intentions, one way or the other. However, the very fact that he has failed to state definitely that he will not seek a third term rather gives credence to the belief held by many observers that he is hoping and expecting some situation to develop whereby he will again be his party's standard bearer. Naturally, the more radical New Deal leaders are the most active in the campaign for a Roosevelt third term nomination, for it can be easily understood that many of them would immediately lose their connections and soft berths with the Federal government upon the assumption of the presidency by any person — Democrat or Republican — other than Mr. Roosevelt.

SEEK INJURY DAMAGE
A hog-feeder jolted off a truck and landed in the middle of a highway last Feb. 11, causing an automobile collision made the basis of personal injury suits demanded a total of $11,180 damages, filed in common pleas court by two of the five persons who were injured.
Plaintiffs are Carey Cook, Jamestown, seeking $10,150, and his son, Raymond, requesting $1,030 from Dr. W. H. Henry, Jamestown, and the Fairmont Creamery Co., 239 Spring St., Columbus.
A Xenia-bound truck owned by Dr. Henry and driven by Earl Pummell, Jamestown, contained the hog house, which became detached and fell on route 35, six miles east of Xenia, in the path of a Fairmont dairy truck, operated by C. O. Hickerson, Columbus.
Hickerson reportedly severed to avoid the obstacle on the highway and collided with an eastbound auto driven by Samuel Whited, Springfield, and occupied by his wife, Carey and Raymond Cook.
The damage actions charged negligence in failure to remove the hog-feeder from the road and negligent driving on the part of the dairy truck operator.

Sheep Dipping Provided For Greene County

A portable sheep dipping service has been provided for Greene County shepherds for the control of ticks, lice and scab according to county agent E. A. Drake.
The project is sponsored by the county livestock committee of which Wilbur Board of Bowersville is chairman. James Cushing of Fayetteville who has a portable dipping outfit has been engaged for the week of June 12, and will dip flocks for external parasites and treat for internal parasites if the owner wishes. The schedule for the week is as follows:
Monday, June 12—Bath and Miami Townships.
Tuesday, June 13—Cedarville and Ross Townships.
Wednesday, June 14—Silvercreek and Jefferson Townships.
Thursday, June 15—Xenia and New Jasper Townships.
Friday, June 16—Beavercreek and Sugarcreek Townships.
Saturday, June 17—Spring Valley and Caesar Creek Townships.
Cooper's dipping powder, which is preferred by most shepherds will be used as it not only kills the parasites but will protect the animal from further infestation until the wool is removed by shearing. The cost of dipping is from 10 to 15 cents per head depending on the number. It is pointed out by Mr. Drake that one-half pound of wool will pay for the cost of dipping and that the parasites which are particularly bad this year will reduce the wool clip many times that amount. They also make for unthrifty lambs as the majority of the ticks move to the lambs at shearing time. Farmers who wish to have their flocks dipped should notify the county agent.

Sheriff Locates Stolen Silverware

Sheriff Henkel's office was called upon Monday to aid in locating a lady's watch and some silverware, valued at $90, according to Carl Minser, the owner.
It was claimed the Minser home was searched and the goods taken by local people, Saturday night. Minser claimed to have been attacked and had suffered a black eye.
The Sheriff's office had no trouble in finding the silverware but the watch could not be found. The search was in a second floor apartment in what one of the good old ladies referred to as the "hoity-toity" district.
Minser refused to sign an affidavit charging theft after the Sheriff had located the stolen goods.

Prospects Are Good For Local Crop

With the recent showers crops in this section have taken on new life and promise to be ahead of schedule as compared with recent years. Most corn is ahead of last year and it makes no difference whether you travel east or west, north or south, you will find the crop in this section on the average much ahead of other sections of Ohio.
There is prospect for a full wheat crop unless storms do it damage. Most wheat will be cut by the Fourth of July. The oats crop has suffered most from the dry spell and the hay crop will be short.
If the acreage of soy beans turns out to be a normal crop there will be a shortage of storage space. Hundreds of acres of soy beans have been planted this year to probably ten of other years.

Oppose Parole For Slayer Of Wilmington Man

June 6.—Louis Vandervort, convicted killer of Night Patrolman Emery McCreight, of Wilmington, 17 years ago, has again applied for a parole and Prosecutor George L. Schilling, Wilmington, has announced he will again oppose freedom for him.
Vandervort, an inmate of the London prison farm, had been granted a parole in December, 1936, effective in June, 1938, but when Schilling learned of it a year ago, he immediately raised strong objections.
Petitions protesting the move also were filed with the parole board by aroused residents of Clinton and Greene counties, and after an inquiry the board revoked the parole and Vandervort was remanded to prison.
In addition to being convicted of McCreight's murder, Vandervort is accused of slaying Patrolman Elvis Matthews of Xenia.

DEDICATION OF SWIMMING POOL SUNDAY, JUNE 11

Thousands of visitors who attend the dedication of the 4-H Boy Scout Swimming Pool on June 11th, will have an opportunity to view the many, unusual, natural and splendid features of Edward Orton Memorial Park on June 11th, at 2:00 p. m.

This park which adjoins John Bryan State Park was given to the State of Ohio through the generosity of Hugh Taylor Birch and contains a granite spire to the memory of Edward Orton, the great educator. This granite spire stands in a beautiful grove of maple trees not far from Ferndale.

Ferndale which for many years has attracted state wide attention for its beauty is now a part of the Park. Practically all of the beautiful gorge of the little Miami is now State controlled and its beauty is preserved for the generations to come.
The Park is being developed by the CCC and enrollees under the guidance of the National Park Service. Aside from the swimming pool and bath-houses, a system of roads and trails give convenient entry to all of its beauty. Thousands of trees have been planted to reforest sections of the park. Through the cooperation of the National Park Service, the State of Ohio, Mr. Hugh Taylor Birch, the Civilian Conservation Corps, State Forestry Department, and the many people interested in the 4-H Clubs and the Boy Scout movement, this natural beauty spot is being developed into a Recreational Center for the people of Ohio.

The swimming pool is one of the most commodious in this part of the State, being 45 feet by 180 feet, with a pool area of 5,400 square feet. The pool is the latest word in engineering, skill and ingenuity, not only in design, but sanitary as well. A complete reconditioning and treatment of the water (212,010 gallons) every eight hours conforms to the highest standards set by the American Public Health Association and the most progressive Federal and State recommendations. The promenade deck at the pool will accommodate hundreds of persons at one time. The bath house, which is nearing completion, provides accommodations for both men and women, lounge and restrooms and modern locker arrangements for clothing. This swimming pool and bath house with appurtenances, which incidentally includes a sewage disposal plant, provide a facility where youth and adults alike may come for recreational experiences under auspices that are good, wholesome, constructive and bound to contribute to the general welfare.

More than a quarter of a million persons reside within a radius of twenty miles of this unusual development. In the development of this project, the Planning Division of the National Park Service has tried to project the needs of the community far into the future. The 4-H club camp is just south of the swimming pool across the Little Miami River. A foot bridge has been constructed to accommodate the 4-H boys and girls in coming and going to the pool from their camp. The Hugh Taylor Birch Boy Scout Camp is located in a wooded tract a little more than a quarter of a mile west of the swimming pool. This assures these two youth serving agencies of swimming accommodations to fill their needs. Landscape architects of the National Park Service have planned reforestation program, some of which has already been done.
The project is developing far beyond the fondest dreams of those who originally saw the possibilities, largely due to the expert and technical help of the National Park Service, under whose supervision the CCC boys experience their work opportunities.

AS TO RETIREMENT OF DR. McCHESNEY

The announcement of Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College, that he desires to retire two years hence, to be relieved of some of the administrative burden of the institution, causes no surprise among his many friends who have been intimate and fully realized the burden he had assumed.

To one who has given nearly a quarter of a century of his life and efforts in behalf of the college as president, and as a member of the faculty previously for more than twenty years, there is no cause for surprise at the recent request for retirement when he has assumed the age of 70 years. He also served as vice president for four years.

The College and the community owe Dr. McChesney more than it can ever repay for what service he has rendered and during much of the time at a personal sacrifice for more than once he has declined places of honor and distinction with greater financial remuneration than he was receiving in his present position. His life was dedicated to Cedarville College and his loyalty to the institution will always remain in what ever capacity he may have in the years to come.

INEXCUSABLE DESTRUCTION VIRGIN CYPRESS

We all know that government has gone heavily into the electric business, using as its chief competitive weapon tax-freedom and public subsidies, at the expense of the private electric industry, which now faces gradual, ruthless destruction if this socialistic program continues. Not so well known is the tragic fact that, in some instances at least these government projects are destroying natural resources which can never be replaced.

Writing in Field and Stream, J. N. Darling, President of the National Wildlife Federation, recently said: "If, within the next five years, several thousand families of commercial fishermen along the south Atlantic Coast suddenly find their business gone and their fishing waters barren... they may justly blame the present Federal 'spending program' and would have a perfect right to demand permanent 'emergency relief'."

A $51,000,000 hydro-electric project is now being started on the headwaters of the Santee and Cooper rivers which will turn 500 square miles of the most perfect and prolific spawning grounds of aquatic food species into a barren waste as unproductive as the Kansas dust bowl. This magnificent contribution of nature, intended for man's permanent benefit, is one of the last great reproducing areas left intact on the Atlantic seaboard.

"Nor is fishing the only thing to be given the needle by the Santee-Cooper project. Second on the list is one of the last great stands of virgin cypress timber in the country... The cypress will die; another of the few remaining natural monuments in these United States will be relegated to the ash heap."

Perhaps this destruction of irreplaceable resources could be partially justified if the government hydro project filled a burning public need. But, as Mr. Darling also observes, "The Santee-Cooper project will serve no social or economic purpose. There are already in existence in that section of South Carolina so many power plants that they succeed in marketing only half-time production from their generators, and that at the lowest kilowatt rate in the country."

Thus does politics needlessly despoil our dwindling natural heritage, as well as existing private business. Going are the nesting grounds of wildfowl and animals, going the breeding waters of fish, going the stands of superb timber. And in their place will be left great electric plants, paid for at tremendous cost to taxpayers of today and tomorrow, and serving little purpose save political ambition.

While the King and Queen are with us they should meet Sen. Wagner, New Dealer, who can think of more way to waste public or private funds than FDR.

Our own Sen. Vic Donahey and wife will not attend the social event honoring the Royal guests. Having to serve under one king, Franklin D., the Great, has taken all the desire out of the Ohio Senator to meet and greet England's monarchs.

Not so long ago it was the cold weather. Now it is the hot weather we mourn over.

Every once in a while we hear someone say Ohio should have a legislature of only one house, that is do away with what we now call the senate. Nebraska is one state that has the fabled method of legislative machinery. The adoption was purely economical according to the sponsors that the two house method was costly. We read that the Nebraska legislature is still in session. To date it has passed bills calling for more new taxes. It has cost the state more to date than the old two-house method. The latest is a bill that legalizes the minimum price for hair cutting and shaves. The Governor used his veto axe, and killed the measure. Indiana only had one important law passed and that was to legalize the higher price for hair cutting. After all Nebraska, that followed the course of her Socialist Senator Norris, who sponsored the one-house plan, has made no progress over other states and has new taxes.

Vice President John Garner will be a candidate for president regardless of what Roosevelt does. Secretary Wallace dips his ear in the Democratic pond but the Secretary cannot and will not be regarded a Democrat. He left the Republican party in Iowa to become a New Dealer and get a cabinet post. He thinks he might be a candidate. We think he will not be if Roosevelt looks cross-eyed upon hearing of the announcement. FDR cannot bluff Garner. The Democrats, mostly southern states and a few northern states, will back Garner in preference to Roosevelt and be known as the Constitutional Democratic party. If the southern states hold for Garner as the Democratic party candidate, the delegates to the party convention will have their names there. This will force Roosevelt delegates to run on a New Deal ticket. Garner will be a real contender for not only the nomination but the presidency if nominated. The Republicans have not yet centered on their candidate but they have hopes that Roosevelt will be a new Deal candidate.

Murphy the Torch Bearer! It is hard to believe that Frank Murphy, the CIO governor of Michigan who was elected by the voters of that state to be elevated to Attorney General by "DR, should be so much engrossed in law enforcement at this time. Murphy a few days ago issued a press statement that if states and cities did not clean up their own government, they might expect the Federal government to take a hand. It makes no difference to Murphy, nor does it to FDR as to the law governing states rights. Roosevelt did not insist on Murphy enforcing the law of property rights when he gave silent consent to "sit down strikes." Just what is behind the recent statement that indicates Murphy is concerned about protecting the political virtue of states and municipalities? A peep on the part of the Attorney General as to WPA operations and the fact that costs in Ohio have been as high as nine per cent for overhead when the federal law has a limit of five per cent, should give the New Dealer plenty to do in his own camp.

A ship load of 900 German Jews looking for a homeland were not permitted to land on Cuban soil. These refugees are doomed to land in a concentration camp if they return to Germany, where they must eventually land. Cuba said "No." England is much concerned about the democracy of the world yet she refuses to turn over a foot of land to the Jews. The Palestine Jews have been slaves for England for a hundred years and not even permitted to enjoy democracy. Last week the English government placed the Palestine Jews under control of their worst enemy, the Arabs. A little less interest in either England or France until they pay their World War loans to this country should be our attitude rather than we should spend billions under the New Deal for war craft to save either England or France, or both of them from Germany and Italy.

There have been any witty statements about WPA but it was the McClave, Colo., high school last year that gave this one as their class motto: "WPA, here we come." This year the class had this motto: "We got plenty of nothin'!"

The Republicans in this state will soon settle down to reorganization of many departments under laws passed by the legislature. More interest in being taken in the shakeup that will come in the Civil Service Commission. Under the Davey administration it was the habit of that administration to put Democrats on the pay roll for a ninety day appointment. When that time was up they were then certified under the law as Civil Service applicants. In most cases the Democratic employees never had a written examination as was required under the law. If the Davey method stands a court test the Republicans can do the same thing. If not then all applicants including those now on the payroll that were certified by the short-cut method, will be compelled to take a written examination. The CIO organization in Ohio is much concerned over what is to happen to Democrats now on the payroll that have never taken a written examination.

The lower house of Congress defeated the Townsend Old Age pension plan. This was to be expected as the Democrats were almost solid against the measure. If every Republican had voted for it it could not have carried. Adoption of such a pension plan would kill Social Security, which after all is not for employees but for the half million Democrats that have been named at fancy salaries to administer the law. It is nothing but a laboring man's income tax. The Townsend plan may not be sound but it is no worse than the Social Security. The New Deal cannot today pay labor what it has promised for the money from employees and employers is spent as fast as it comes into the treasury.

There have been many family picnics with the big Smith, Jones, and other families, but it takes the Lilly families down in West-Virginia to hold a reunion. Notices have gone out for the tenth annual gathering August 19 and 20 at Charleston, W. Va. It takes two days for the affair due to the fact that 70,000 relatives by that name, including those married into the clan. Senator Robert A. Taft, Ohio, has been invited to address the Lilly family. The report does not say but evidently the family must have Republican inclinations, or else some one is trying to convert the Democrat Lilly families. Gov. Bricker will attend the celebration and dedication of the Ohio building and the New York fair. The unusual statement with this announcement is that he will go without military escort not even an Ohio highway officer to blast the motorcycle horn and that he will pay his own expenses as will his secretary, Don Powers, if he goes. The Gov. will also visit the San Francisco fair later in the season with other state executives and as in the New York case he will not ask the state to pay a single cent of the expense. What a contrast to the Davey administration when all the state's brassware was placed on display. Even FDR can get a hint after having spent more than a million dollars of the people's money on his many joy rides over land and water.

Arthur Evans informs us that the meeting of Hampshire breeders in Illinois some days ago, was attended by some five hundred stockmen, the object being to determine on the best type of 200 pound Hampshire hog for the market. There was a lot of fine type hogs there for inspection and it is expected that breeders will center along one line in the future. Breeders present determined to make such a meeting an annual affair.

PRETTY CEREMONY WHEN YOUNG COUPLE IS JOINED IN WEDLOCK, SATURDAY

A charming marriage under candlelight was solemnized last Saturday evening at the Methodist Church when Miss Elinor Hughes, daughter of Mr. Marion Hughes, became the bride of Mr. Merwin Eidemiller of New Carlisle, in the presence of some two hundred guests. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Eidemiller, father of the groom, assisted by Rev. David H. Markle, pastor of the Methodist church.

Single tapers in four tall brass candlesticks were arranged to form a semi-circle about the altar which was flanked by burning tapers in seven-branch candelabra. Baskets of pink and white peonies were placed among the greenery and single tapers burned in each of the windows.

Preceding the service, Miss Mildred Trumbo, church organist, played a program of nuptial music her numbers including "Venetian Love Song," "Neving," "Liebestraum," "Lizzi," "At Dawning," and "To a Wild Rose," MacDowell. Mr. Paul Berkebile, of Piqua, sang "Because" and "O Promise Me," and Miss Doris Hartman, of Cedarville, sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "I Love You Truly." Miss Trumbo played the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" as the wedding party proceeded down the left aisle of the church to the altar.

Walking first were the ushers, Messrs. Paul Orr, Cedarville, brother-in-law of the bride, and Eldon Stuebaker, of Toledo, the bride groom's cousin.

The bridesmaids, Miss Christina Jones and Miss Cleis Jacobs, walked next, followed by Miss Wanda Hughes, sister of the bride, who was aid of honor.

The bride's three attendants were dressed alike in gowns of net, fashioned with long, full skirts and tight bodices with short puffed sleeves. A tiny ruffle at the neck and three ruffles on the skirt through which ribbon of a contrasting color was drawn, was the gowns' only trimming. Miss Jacobs was in aqua net with pink bows, Miss Jones wore yellow net with fuchsia ribbon and Miss Hughes, peach net with blue ribbon. They wore wide velvet bows in their hair in a shade to correspond with the trimming on their gowns. They wore white satin footwear and carried colonial bouquets of roses and snapdragons in pastel shades.

The bride entered with her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown was of white net, fashioned the same as those of her attendants, except that it had white ribbon trimming. She wore a shoulder length veil of tulle, held in place with a small lace cap, and she wore white lace mitts. Her flowers were white roses and baby breath, fashioned into a colonial bouquet, with shower effect.

The wedding party was met at the altar by the bridegroom, has brother, Mr. Dan Eidemiller, of Dayton, who served as best man.

Following the service an informal reception was held in the church parlors. Eight of the bride's friends, wearing summer frocks with corsages of Marechal Niel roses, assisted in receiving the guests. They were Misses Geneva Clemens, Virginia Townsley, Gretchen Tindall, Eleanor Cooley, Jane Frame, Frances Kimble, Dorothy Nelson and Rebecca Galloway.

An ice course was served from a buffet table, decorated with spring flowers in silver vases.

Mrs. Paul Orr, sister of the bride, appeared in a black hostess skirt, with a white lace blouse and wore a corsage of red roses. Mrs. J. H. Eidemiller, the groom's mother, wore a blue chiffon gown and a corsage of snapdragons.

Mr. and Mrs. Eidemiller left Saturday night on a motor trip to Saturday to spend several weeks. The bride's going-away costume consisted of a navy tweed suit with navy accessories. They plan to establish their home in Greene County upon their return.

Mrs. Eidemiller, a graduate of Cedarville College, has taught at Beaver-creek Twp. Consolidated School for the last two years. Mr. Eidemiller, who teaches in Beaver-creek Twp. High School was graduated from Manchester College.

Guests were present at the wedding from Cleveland, Dayton, New Carlisle, Xenia and Cedarville.

IMPROVED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for June 11

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, Inc. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

PAUL SOLVES CHURCH PROBLEMS

LESSON TEXT—1 Corinthians 1:1-3, 10, 11; 2:1-5. THESIS—1:1-3, 10, 11; 2:1-5. GOLDEN TEXT—Only let your conversation be as it becomes the gospel of Christ.—Philippians 1:27.

Victory over the destructive powers of sickness is achieved by an orderly attack of the problem. The doctor first makes a study of the condition of his patient, observing not only the outward symptoms, but the general condition of the body. He proceeds to isolate and identify the evil forces which are causing the disease, and then he is ready to apply his curative remedies and procedures.

The Church is sick today even as it was Paul's day. We are in need of the same medicine and the effective example of "Doctor Paul" and therefore do well to apply to ourselves and to our churches the lesson of today. As we do this honestly we may find ourselves that which is making our own church weak and ineffective. Let us apply the cure even though the process of healing may be a painful one.

I. The Condition. What's wrong with the Church? The excerpts from the letters of Paul which make up our lesson reveal three fundamental difficulties which exist in essentially the same form today.

1. False Teachers (Gal. 3). This passage is a part of our lesson although not included in the printed portion. It tells us of Paul's mastery dealing with false teachers. Erroneous teaching and the substitution of the philosophies of men for the Word of God are responsible for much of the trouble in the Church. It is decidedly not a matter of indifference what your pastor teaches, what your Sunday School lesson helps teach, and what your Sunday School teachers present to their classes.

2. Divisions (1 Cor. 1:10). Sometimes these occur over doctrine, sometimes over church procedure, but all too often over the most insignificant things. Frequently they center around personal likes and dislikes. Cliques and little closed groups have no place in the Church. Man-worship in place of the worship of God will also wreck a church.

3. Contentions (1 Cor. 1:11). For some unexplainable reason the people who love a fight seem to want to do their fighting in the Church.

II. The Cause. The internal troubles of the Church cannot be blamed on its testimony or on its responsibility in the world, and certainly not on its text. The real cause of the Church's problems will be found in men and women who are not living as they should.

1. The Contentious (1 Cor. 1:11). These are the fighters.

2. The Divisive (1 Cor. 1:10). They have an exaggerated idea of their own importance.

3. The Disorderly (1 Thess. 4:14). Unruly and erratic folk trouble the Church.

4. The Fear-Hearted (1 Thess. 5: 14, R. V.). Timid and uncertain individuals limit and hinder God's work.

5. The Weak (1 Thess. 5:14). They are feeble in spiritual insight and power.

III. The Cure. Diagnosis and location of the cause of a disease is practically useless unless a course of treatment is carried out. Consider the steps in the treatment of the sickness of the Church and then apply the remedy.

1. Remember that it is a "church of God" (1 Cor. 1:2).

2. Recall and follow the true teaching of God's Word (1 Cor. 4: 17).

3. Receive grace and peace from the Father and the Son (1 Cor. 1:3).

4. Recognize those appointed by the Lord to be over the church as leaders and teachers (1 Thess. 5:12-16).

5. Be ashamed of ungodly misbehavior (1 Cor. 4:14).

6. Do plainly with sin and disorder (1 Cor. 4:21). The knife of the surgeon may cause pain but it is often the way to healing.

7. Warn those who are unruly (1 Thess. 5:14). The word of spiritual admonition is too often lacking in the church.

8. Comfort and encourage the faint-hearted (1 Thess. 5:14). Unregenerate man has no patience with such folk, but God does. A note of encouragement needs to be stressed in these trying days.

9. Be patient toward all men (1 Thess. 5:16). If you feel that you must be impatient, be impatient with your own faults. Patience is a Christian virtue which has almost been lost in the dizzy, high-pressure life in which we live. Let us cultivate it both in the church and in the hearts of believers.

Great Fortune To be reconciled unto God, to possess God's favor and friendship, to be at peace with God, is the greatest fortune, bliss and happiness a human being can find on earth.

Poison May Be Using Custard As Hideout

Biting into luscious cream puffs may be a delightful pastime, but it can also be dangerous. Norma Aschbacher, extension nutritionist, Ohio State University, warns housewives of the danger lurking especially in cream puffs, custards, sauces, or leftovers that are not used immediately.

Sometimes these foods do not have a detectable sour odor, but nevertheless they make people ill. Spoilage may occur at home as well as in the store or bakery, and it may happen at any time of the year. Miss Aschbacher says when custards are made at home, they should be properly refrigerated until used, served as soon as possible and never exposed to the heat of the kitchen or any other warm room.

Desserts in which custard is used should be kept chilled from the time they are cooked until they appear on the table. It is possible they should be eaten the day they are made. It might be well not to combine the custard part and the cake or pastry part until just before serving.

The Food and Drug Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture is often called on to ascertain of food-poisoning outbreaks. Time and again it is found that the trouble is due to some moist food like a custard or custard pastry, a gravy or sauce, or some leftover meat or fish that has not been properly kept before it was eaten.

Ground meat and fish leftovers are frequently served as hash, croquettes, salads, or in sandwich fillings, mixed with mayonnaise. Any leftover should be kept properly cold, not over 50 degrees Fahrenheit at the highest. However, the fewer leftovers, the better.

Arrangements for 13 special trains to the World's Poultry Congress in Cleveland, July 28 to August 7, already have been made by groups for the convenience of people in Ohio areas.

The ability of hogs to lift mortgages becomes more doubtful since the records show that China is the only nation with more of these animals than the United States. Reports of poverty from the Orient must be exaggerated or else the financial returns from hogs must depend upon some factor other than mere numbers.

Lumber dealers claim that the present rate of gain in residential building will cause such an increased demand for lumber that the total used in the next decade will be 78 billion board feet, as compared to 46 billion board feet used for home building in the period 1930-1939.

Milk profits next winter may be affected by the time when the hay is cut this summer. Early-cut hay has the highest feeding value, and feed costs are reduced if the herd gets a good portion of their proteins from forage instead of from more costly concentrates.

Ohio livestock requires the most water in the months when the natural supply in ponds and streams is the smallest.

Estimates of strawberry production indicates a crop about one-fifth greater than in 1938 except in eight states which market their crop after mid-June. Ohio and Indiana are expected to market 50 per cent more berries than last year.
