Crowds Hear Rev. Atkinson Nightly. A Great Out-Pouring to Hear Messages From the Noted Evangelist == Community Thoroughly Aroused as the Result == Special Meetings Arranged For Young Folks and Men == Opera House to be Used Sabbath.

Inclement Weather Has Had Little Effect on the Attendance--Local Ministers are Ably Assisting.

The special gospel meetings this week in the R. P. church being conducted by Rev. Ralph Atkinson, have been largely attended. In fact the auditorium has been filled each night. The opening night, Sabbath, the Sabbath School room was necessary to accommodate the crowd.

The Bible Songs are being used and an extra supply of books were secured so that the praise service is one of the strong features of the meetings.

Rev. Atkinson is a powerful speaker and on the first night was able to control the assemblage. He is ably assisted by the other ministers of this place, and the meetings have been a success from the start. The business men close their places at 7 o'clock.

The last meeting in the R. P. church will be held to-night (Friday) at 7 o'clock. During the coming week the meetings will be held in the U. P. church. It has become necessary to hold the Sabbath meetings in the opera house, as neither of the churches will be able to accommodate the crowds.

The Sabbath Schools will meet in their respective churches Sabbath morning, while the morning sermon will be delivered by Rev. Atkinson in the opera house at 10:30.

In the afternoon at the opera house there will be a rally for young people that promises to be well attended. It has been specially urged that parents of all denominations have their children at this meeting to hear what Rev. Atkinson has for them. Again in the evening there will be the regular sermon at 6:30.

During the coming week, afternoon meetings will be held at 1:30 on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday in the U. P. church. On Sabbath February, 10, there will be a special meeting for men only at 2:30. It is specially urged that all be prompt at these meetings. All meetings are by Standard time.

THE PAPER MILL GHOST.

Have you heard the strange, strange story Of the ghost of Cedarville; How it caused such consternation In the Hager Paper Mill? This dreaded imp of darkness, Got the boys in such a hob With mysterious freaks of magic That they almost lost their job.

Now the boys at the revivider Have a little brush they use To paste the ends and labels That the rolls may not get loose. But much to their annoyance, Which later changed to fear The little brushes one by one Began to disappear.

Affairs went on from bad to worse, 'Till brushes half a score Were furnished, but to share the fate Of others gone before. "I tell yer," said a mountaineer From down in Dixie's land, "Them brushes never left this mill By any human hand."

It's one of them ar' plained haunts 'At swiped 'em, bet a horse; If I war yson I'd watch my chance An' explain it for the boss. They tuk Samantha Sprig's false teeth, Glass eye an' switch of hair Way back thru in Virginy, Whar I went a huntin' bar."

Now the sturdy overseer, a man Of mind and years mature Was just a little skeptical Of what they felt so sure "This carelessness he thundered That sit I plainly see. You must pay for those lost brushes Or get order "twenty three." The innocence of childhood played About that youthful face, As before his frate foreman He trembled in his place. The time had come when protests Wers as oil upon the flame. He must either plank his lucre Or draw out of the game.

He must sacrifice life's luxuries, Skates, french-harp, but and ball With candy, nuts and chewing gum "Big doin's" at the hall. For a paste brush he must purchase Or make good the expense. So he went down in his trousers For the hoarded fifteen cents. When working round the cutter though One day to their surprize Beneath spread out upon the floor Before their very eyes, Were clean, bright shining brushes In number, just the same As 'gainst their meager wages, The foreman filed his claim.

"Twas a relief to them to have Their losses reimbursed; But their mystery had deepened They in spectral dreams immersed. "Just 'pend upon it boys, them spoons Will do things on the squar' That had caused so much dismay In the mountains of Virginy Whar I went a huntin' bar."

At last the web unraveled; That had caused so much dismay The mystery unfolded And all was clear as day. This ghostly apparition That had played its part so pat, Was nothing gentle reader But a great big Norway rat.

STATEMENT OF LEAGUE FINANCES.

The high efficiency of the Anti-Saloon League in politics is explained in part by the publication to-day of its annual financial statement, which shows that in the year 1906 over $4,000 was handled, and that it closed its books with a credit of nearly $3,000. When it is understood that the Democratic State Committee usually has less than the tenth of that amount results will seem clear. Half of the total went for salaries, speakers' fees and field workers' traveling expenses and $10,000 for printing. The bulk of its receipts comes from the contribution of churches, the personal donations being slightly less than $2,000. There has been an oft-repeated charge going the rounds for years that John D. Rockefeller contributes $25,000 annually, but the figures do not bear this out. Its postage bill alone last year was over $4,000, while $7,100 was paid for stenographers and clerks at headquarters. It has been said of the League that it possesses a better organization than both of the great political parties for the reason that it carries no dead timber and is infinitely quicker in action.

Next winter it will endeavor to meet in law the county option bill the nearest approach to complete prohibition that can be devised without submitting the question to the whole state. It might have done so last winter but for the fact that it declined to deviate from the policy of moving slowly. It started out to enact the search and seizure act to strengthen the local option laws and to provide for the ousting of saloons from residential sections in cities by petition instead of a direct vote. In both instances it was successful. Now comes the biggest play of the game.

There is in reserve the proposed bill to permit women to vote at local option elections. Needless to say this measure is the most feared of all by the liquor interests. Its enactment would mean the carrying of 90 out of 100 local option elections by the dry element and the remaining districts would be in doubt. The league has endorsed this bill, but whether it will appear upon next winter's legislative program remains to be seen. The main fight will, as stated, be upon the county unit bills.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

FAIRLY PLEASED AUDIENCE.

The "Booney Boys" at the opera house Tuesday evening were greeted by a good audience. The organization had been heralded as one of the finest on the road and the best on the course. Owing to the piano being pitched too high some of the numbers had to be dropped, and this may be the reason for the unsatisfactory program. A part of the program was enjoyed and the boys showed excellent training.

CHARGED WITH KILLING HORSE.

Xenia, O., Jan. 28.—John P. Ramsey, W. W. Cunningham were bound over to the grand jury at the conclusion of their preliminary hearing before Mayor Watson, of Bellbrook, Monday, on the charge of killing a horse belonging to Jason Gibbs of that village, last April. Their bond was fixed at $800 each. Bond was furnished for Cunningham by his wife and Judge H. L. Smith, of this city, but Ramsey did not seek bondmen and was brought here and placed in jail Monday afternoon. Application was made through his attorney, M. A. Broadstone, before the Probate Court Monday afternoon for a rehearing of the case. The application was granted, and the rehearing was set for Friday morning. There were about 20 witnesses present at the hearing Monday. John H. Lahniger, Clarence Lansing and Eugene Engle testified that they were fishing the night the horse was killed, and being hid by a thick fog, overheard Ramsey and Cunningham plotting to kill something. They watched they killed and saw the two men lead a horse out into the field and shoot it. Other witnesses said that they heard shots in the direction of the place where the horse was killed. The defense offered no testimony.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1907.

THE REVIVAL; ITS WORK.

The people of Cedarville and vicinity are now in the midst of a revival, which is no uncommon thing after all. Such meetings have been held here before and we must say have resulted in some men being brought closer to whom all are greatly indebted. Not only have men been made to realize the necessity of such a duty but they have been revived and made stronger in their beliefs.

The revival or special gospel meetings are being attended by large crowds each night and the community at large is well represented. Just a few weeks ago Dr. H. C. Middleton conducted a successful series of meetings and followed by Rev. Ralph Atkinson and his masterly preaching, the community is being thoroughly aroused.

The one feature of the Atkinson meetings is the harmony that exists between the congregations some thing essential and yet something that has not always existed in the past. Members of all denominations are attentive listeners and it is to be hoped in the future that there may be a closer relation between the denominations. The speaker has made strong statements touching this phase that have met the approval of the majority.

Of course there are some who do not sanction the revival methods, but something out of the ordinary has to be enforced to attract men to this work. In years gone by it has been the custom of the churches to patiently await the coming of men within its doors. But the day is past for such views, if results are obtained. The most successful churches of the day are the ones that seek men and use every honorable method to attract them.

Some object to the revival from the fact that oftentimes many that desire a change in their lives do so through more or less excitement and in the course of time "loose their grip" as Rev. Atkinson says. True some may back slide but it is not true that men who associate themselves with the church voluntarily often "loose their grip."

If one man has been influenced by such a meeting as Rev. Atkinson conducts and holds his "grip" for a year or even a month, hasn't he lived better for that time than if he had never had a "grip" at all?

The revival has been the means of bringing many a man into the fold that would never have realized the spiritual enlightenment. This is exemplified in the meetings of Dr. Torrey and other evangelists in the cities. At the present time Dr. Torrey is in Cleveland and thousands crowd the building to hear him. On Sabbath at one time there were 6000 heard his preaching and we are told 800 were stirred to lead a better life.

The Cleveland Leader speaks editorially of the meeting as follows.

"Those who value revivals least and make light of wholesale professions of conversion from irreligious or anti-religious ways must admit the importance and significance of such meetings as those held yesterday in this city. When nearly 6000 persons make explicit declarations that their lives have come to a radical change for the better, it is no ordinary incident in a city. It means, at the least, a stirring of the depths of human nature and an impulse in the direction of purity and right living which must have its effect, for a time, upon hundreds and will doubtless influence scores to the end of their days.

Any manifestation of strong desire for higher living and nobler purposes is a good sign, whether it effects one man or a thousand. The more numerous such outcroppings of the inner aspirations of human nature are, whatever the circumstances and influences which bring them into ascendancy, the more good and the less evil. The mere knowledge that many hundred fellow citizens have publicly declared their desire to live better lives and have become confident that they will be able to do this, by divine help, must encourage high-minded men and women to work harder than ever for the moral betterment of Cleveland.

Beyond doubt the Torrey meetings have been worth while, from the viewpoint of the coldest materialism. They have been an impulse toward good citizenship as well as personal piety. They will help those who are striving to make Cleveland as clean and square as it is prosperous and progressive."

POPULAR DANCES.

The Origin and the Significance of Their Names.

The names of popular dances have in most cases a very interesting origin or signification.

The position taken up by the dancers gave the name to the quadrille, which is literal French for "a little square," while country dance has no connection with rustic gymnastics, but is simply a corruption of the French contre danse, which has reference to the position of the couples opposite to each other during the dance.

The lancers derived its name from the fact that this variation of the quadrille was originally improvised by a company of lancers for their own amusement while seated in their saddles.

The polka is a Polish dance, and its name comes from the Bohemian word polka, meaning half, and refers to the half step which occurs in this lively measure, of which the more graceful schottish is a variation, both names, like that of the national dance of Poland—the mazurka—being native terms.

The short steps peculiar to the old time favorite, the minuet, gave the dance its name, the Latin for "small" being minutus.

The waltz, again, owes its name to its characteristic movement, the German waltzen, meaning to revolve, expressing the circling motion of the dancers.

The Roger de Coverley is named after its originator, while the less familiar dance known as the tarantella is so called because its vigorous movements were supposed to be a certain antidote to the poison of a noxious spider at Taranto, in Italy, where the dance is highly popular.

The evolutions of the dancer sufficiently explain the term reel. Jig is from the French gigue, and breakdown is a term from across the Atlantic and refers to the final rout before the breakup of a free and easy dancing party.—London Telegraph.

Conclusive Reasoning.

A little elderly German who keeps a stationer's shop amuses and interests himself by making up stories about his customers and telling them to his family.

"Dat young lady who has de pink cheeks, she be married soon, I tink," he announced one night.

"Now, my Carl, you know nothings of her whitefeffer. Is it not so?" And his wife tried to look as if she did not think him a wonderfully clever man.

"It is like dis," said the stationer solemnly: "I observe, and I know. At first she buy paper and envelopes de same, later she buy twice as more paper and den five times as more paper as envelopes. So I know she is become betrothed."

"And today," he said, beaming with pleasure; "today she buy only one-half dozen envelopes and five times as more paper, and when I tell her she get dem cheaper if she buy many she say to me, 'I have no need of more, thank you.' So I know de friend he comes soon, and so comes de marriage on quickly."

Proved the Forgery.

"When Lincoln was practicing law," said a retired judge, "he had a case involving a disputed will. The opposition claimed that the will was genuine and for several hours adduced proof of this. For Lincoln, who had to prove the will a forgery, things looked black.

"Lincoln, however, called only one witness, a retired paper manufacturer renowned the country over for his health and probity.

"Mr. Dash," Lincoln said to the witness, handing him the disputed will, "please hold the paper up to the light and tell us what is the watermark on it."

"The watermark of my own firm, Blank & Co.," the witness answered.

"When did your firm begin to manufacture paper?"

"In 1841."

"And what's the date of the document in your hands?"

"Aug. 11, 1836."

"That is enough, Gentlemen of the jury, our case is closed."—Los Angeles Times.

The Primitive Fishhook.

The first implement used by man for catching fish with a line was not a hook. It was a pointed piece of bone or flint, a simple bait holder, and the line, possibly a length or so of some dried vine or grass, was tied to the middle of the piece. The fish swallowed the whole bait, bone and all, and so the first implement was what we would call a gorgo hook today. In time bronze was substituted for bone, but the form of the first implement was retained. Untold ages passed before the first fishhook was made, and, strangely enough, when a prong was fashioned on the hook the prong turned outward and not inward.

To find out for a certainty whether or not your heart is affected. One person in four has a weak heart; it may be you. If so, you should know it now, and save serious consequences. If you have short breath, fluttering, palpitation, hungry spells, hot flushes; if you cannot lie on left side; if you have fainting or smothering spells, pain around heart, in side and arms, your heart is weak, and perhaps diseased. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will relieve you. Try a bottle, and see how quickly your condition will improve.

"About a year ago I wrote to the Miles Medical Co., asking advice, as I was suffering with heart trouble, and had been for two years. I had pain in my heart, back and left side, and had not been able to draw a deep breath for two years. My little exertion would cause palpitation, and I could not lie on my left side without suffering. They advised me to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine, which I did with the result that I am in better health than I ever was before, having gained 14 pounds since I commenced taking it. I took about thirteen bottles of the two medicines, and haven't been bothered with my heart since."

MRS. LILLIE THOMAS,
Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails he will refund your money.

Represent Cosmopolitan

COSMOPOLITAN MAGAZINE wants a representative in every community to collect "renewals" and to solicit new subscriptions.

Many COSMOPOLITAN agents today have gradually built up a business that actually nets from $1,500, $2,000, and in one or two cases, $5,000 yearly.

These agents have got such remarkable returns by offering subscribers what is known as the "magazine club."

And by magazine "club," we mean an offer by which the various publications taken by a subscriber are combined and offered by COSMOPOLITAN agents in the form of a "club" at 40 per cent to 50 per cent less than he has been paying for the various publications singly.

Now, COSMOPOLITAN'S Clubbing Department, which handles this business, is this year more perfectly developed than ever before.

COSMOPOLITAN, therefore, is exceptionally well fitted to offer the energetic agent the opportunity of building up and renewing from year to year a business which will in time prove not only permanent but remarkably resultful.

THEATRE NOTES.

The Fairbanks Theatre will offer on Wednesday, February 6th, one of the most popular comedians of the stage, Francis Wilson. Mr. Wilson is known the entire country over for his skill in creating laughter. He is one of the stage celebrities with whom the public is most intimately acquainted, for biographical and character sketches regarding him have appeared in almost all the periodicals. He occupies a very prominent place in the affections of the public. All of this because of his charming personality which shines through his comedy creations. In the farce he is enacting this year, "The Mountain Climber" he has one of the most amusing roles which have ever fallen to his lot. He appears in the role of a husband who, to mislead his wife while he is in Paris, has written home explaining that he is in the Alps accomplishing wonderful feats in mountain climbing. His wife proud of her husband's achievement, publishes these exploits in book form. When he returns home amusing situations arise through his efforts to keep up his reputation. His company is a very efficient one and a most pleasant evening can be assured to all who witness the performance.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 7th, 8th, and 9th, the Fairbanks Theatre will offer Wright Loomer in "The Shepherd," "The Shepherd King." It will be recalled was one of the most pronounced successes of the year, drawing capacity audiences after the opening performances. The rich stage pictures crowded with the presence of several hundred supernumeraries all costumed correctly and the magnificent settings made a splendid background, for Wright Loomer's vivid and impressive interpretation of the Shepherd King David. This piece, it will be recalled, is founded upon the biblical account of the life of King David. It is historically accurate in costume, settings and manners and sentiment. For this reason alone it is an attraction which appeals to all interested in educational matters, to all children and to every person interested in, or acquainted with biblical history. It is, however, in itself and apart from any of these considerations a moving drama, which would stand on its own merit without its association with a religious theme. Its theme is really a thoroughly human one, pervaded by characters of religious history. The production is one which last season drew the heaviest out-of-town patronage of any of the year. Keeping this in mind especial facilities have been arranged with the traction and railroad companies to provide adequate facilities for the out-of-town patronage, during the engagement of this attraction. A matinee performance will be given on Saturday.

THIS IS WORTH SAVING.

The following simple home-made mixture is said to relieve any form of Rheumatism or backache, also cleanse and strengthen the Kidneys and bladder, overcoming all urinary disorders, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime.

A well-known authority states that these ingredients are mainly of vegetable extraction and harmless to use, and can be obtained at small cost from any good subscription pharmacy. Those who think they have kidney trouble or suffer with lame back or weak bladder or Rheumatism, should give this prescription a trial, as no harm can possibly follow its use, and it is said to do wonders for some people.
