RUBBER SITUATION A BALLOON AFFAIR

Much has been said about the rubber situation and much that the public knows is of little value because the real facts are not being discussed by those in authority or those who are directly and indirectly responsible for the rubber shortage in this country.

Regardless of what anyone says the rubber situation was just as critical thirty or sixty days before Pearl Harbor fell into the hands of the Japs. Those in government authority never mention anything about rubber before that date.

That the Japs did get a large amount of crude rubber there is no question, estimated at some 350,000 tons. Much of the two year supply had been laying at various ports awaiting shipment months before December 7th last.

Now there are that will discuss the actual rubber shortage and the why of it. A few questions can be asked: "Why did the administration make a trade agreement with England and her rubber trust that no American rubber could be shipped until all the English commercial rubber had been sold? Why did the administration have an agreement or permit such that the Pacific crude rubber must be shipped to this country only in British owned boats? Why could the rubber not have been shipped to American processors to our Pacific ports in American boats? It would be interesting to have New Deal supporters to enlighten the public on these questions.

The reason is obvious to every lay reader that much is being said and done today to cover up the actual situation and keep the public mind off the real facts as to what caused the rubber shortage. That we have a serious rubber situation today no one can deny. It has been up to the public to turn in all the old rubber possible that we have something for the future while the New Deal politicians argue and connive as to what kind of synthetic rubber must be made and what financial interest will control it.

The average automobile owner has a great stake in the rubber situation. No transportation such as the nation has been geared to can be changed without manufacturer and retailer of everyday needs suffering a great loss in the volume of business. The consumer by the millions will be faced with walking. The farmer residing five miles from town away from a bus route is just that many walking steps for reaching the nearest town to purchase the daily needs for his family. The church and the school will suffer alike. The public now questions the sincerity of government authorities on admitting the responsibility of the rubber shortage and the method of providing even synthetic rubber. The public is disgusted.

OHIO FARM BUREAU BETRAYS OHIO FARMERS

The long controversy in Congress over the sale of government owned wheat below parity, which is for no other purpose than to depress the wheat market to keep down the cost of living at the expense of the American farmer, came partially to a head a few days ago when Congress passed a temporary measure to give the Agricultural Department the meager sum of $56,000,000 to pay the salaries of some 85,000 New Dealers on the department and AAA payrolls for the month of July only.

Ohio farmers were thunderstruck last week when they read newspaper accounts that Murray D. Lincoln, secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau, had joined in with Wm. Green, head of the American Federation of Labor and Phillip Murray, head of the CIO, urging Roosevelt to force legislation to permit the sale of government owned wheat below so-called parity to satisfy radical labor leaders and the socialist and communistic element in the populated cities. The Ohio and National Grange, along with President O'Neal, American Farm Bureau Federation, fought the proposal and have been campaigning against it to uphold the price of wheat to farmers.

With O'Neal an Alabama Democrat opposing the plan to depress wheat prices to farmers, Greene county members of the Farm Bureau are at a quandary to know on what ground Lincoln could represent Ohio farmers as no referendum or even poll of local officials had ever been taken on the question.

We have interviewed some twenty farmers on this issue, many of them members of the Greene County Bureau, and not a single one approves the Lincoln idea. The president of the Ohio Farm Bureau is Perry L. Green, who served as head of the Ohio Department of Agriculture under appointment of former Governor Cooper. Farmers are interested in knowing his position or whether he is secretly backing Lincoln and the New Deal communistic plan to make a goat out of the American wheat producer.

The White House writes Secretary Lincoln a complimentary letter for his attitude in standing by the New Deal method of depressing wheat prices along with labor union leaders. Could it be possible that Mr. Lincoln is bidding for some eight or ten thousand dollar job as a reward for turning down his Ohio farmer friends?

Mr. O'Neal gives his reasons why he opposed the plan. Mr. Lincoln has not given in detail why lower wheat prices to farmers are necessary. Where does Mr. Green stand on the issue with his secretary being quoted as representing Ohio farmers on an issue they have not even been consulted about?

WHAT SOCIALIZATION MEANS

There can be no doubt but that many of the aggressive proponents of socialization of the electric industry are looking forward to the day when similar treatment can be applied to other enterprises in this country. If one man's business is destroyed the way is smoothly paved for destroying other men's business.

Socialist leaders themselves have pointed to that fact. For example, Eugene V. Debs once said: "I am solid for government ownership because it is the first road to Socialism. I am for state and municipal ownership because it is an easy way to get what we want." And Norman Thomas, the ablest living Socialist, has said: "To begin with, the Socialists seek first the key industries."

If the American people want Socialism they are entitled to have it. But let the American people thoroughly realize what Socialism involves. It means the complete and unquestioned control by politicians over the nation's instruments of production, to the exclusion of private enterprise. It means that all would work for the government, and that all men's jobs would be at the mercy of the officials in power. It means the absolute elimination of State's Rights and local control and regulation of local resources. Don't think that Socialism here would be basically different from Socialism in Europe.

So far as the war effort is concerned, socialization of the power industry would in all likelihood decrease power output. As a writer to the Spokane, Washington, Spokesman-Review points out, "Political control is efficient only in placing inexperienced and unqualified persons in positions where experience and qualifications are essential. Political management will not increase our power or war production."

Will we permit free enterprise to be destroyed at home while we fight against its enemies abroad? The future of the nation is at stake from within as well as without.

WHAT TO DO IN AN AIR RAID

4. LIE DOWN

If bombs start to fall near you, lie down. You will feel the blast least that way, except fragments or splinters. The safest place is under a good stout table—the stronger the legs the better.

A mattress under a table combines comfort with safety. The enemy may use explosive or incendiary bombs, or both. If incendiaries are used it's more important to deal with them than to be safe from blast. So defeat the incendiary with a spray (never a splash or stream) of water then go back to safety under a table in a refuge room.

Most raids will likely be over in your immediate neighborhood in a short time. However stay under cover till the "all clear" is sounded. Know your raid alarms. Know the all clear. Official news of these will come to you from your Air Raid Warden. Don't believe rumors. Watch this paper for air raid alarm description. Ask the warden when he comes.

Should your home be hit, keep cool. Answer tapings from rescue crews if you are trapped. (You most likely won't be either hit or trapped, but if you are, you can depend on rescue squads to go after you). Again—keep cool, and wait. Don't yell after you hear them coming to you, unless they tell you to. Keep cool!

Just keeping cool hurts the enemy more than anything else you can do. Keep calm. Stay at home. Put out lights. Lie down.

"Drummer Boy of Shiloh" was still drawing two salaries. When informed he had been made a "major" along with Capt. Smith (G. H.) our friend commented: "How can we lose this war?"

Four Head Cattle Killed By Lightning

Four head of feeding cattle weighing about 700 pounds were killed instantly early Monday morning during an electrical storm on the Ralph Townsley farm. The animals had taken shelter in a small barn near the tenant house. Lightning struck the building with little damage and no fire. The cattle loss was covered by insurance.

Sugar ration stamp No. 7 will be good for two pounds of sugar beginning today and will be good until August 22.

Mrs. Lucy Barber is a patient at the McClellan Hospital, Xenia. Being in her 88th year progress of her malady has been slow.

Mr. Edward Baas, music instructor in the local schools has resigned to accept a similar position with the public schools in Ashland, O. Another resignation report at press time, but unconfirmed, is that of Mr. Ralph Moon.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The giant four-motored Navy Patrol Bombers are the world's most powerful planes. They cost approximately $700,000 each. The Navy also has a lighter Bomber called the Scout Bomber which costs about $145,000 apiece.

The battle for Britain was almost lost because England had none of these giant four-motored planes with which to fight back. We need thousands of them and they are coming off the assembly lines in our production plants at a high rate of speed today. You can help buy these for your Navy by purchasing War Bonds and Stamps every pay day. Put at least ten percent into Bonds or Stamps and help your country go over its quota.

How to Display Ceiling Prices

A single poster may show the ceiling prices for a group of related items—such as cigarettes, tobacco and razor blades. The list should be located near the place where the merchandise is sold and should be printed in letters large enough to be clearly readable from the point of purchase.

Washington Letter

(Continued from first page) ten days—or until midnight July 10th—by order of the President. The extension of the campaign came in an effort to increase the two hundred and nineteen thousand tons of scrap rubber reported at the end of the original collection campaign. In the meantime War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson announces that a new salvage campaign will be started on July 13th for the collection of all vital scrap materials including rubber, steel, iron, tin and fats. Housewives will be asked to save waste kitchen fats—such as bacon and other meat drippings—and sell to meat dealers, who in turn will send them through appropriate channels for use in the production of glycerine needed in making explosives.
