CEDARVILLE BAPTIST COLLEGE HOLDS FIRST COMMENCEMENT ON CAMPUS

Urging that his listeners, particularly the students, heed the teachings of Paul to Timothy, the Rev. Raymond F. Hamilton, pastor of the Belden Ave. Baptist Church, Chicago, addressed the first commencement of Cedarville Baptist College and Bible Institute on Monday morning on the college campus.

Rev. Mr. Hamilton used the three portions of Timothy 4:7, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith," in presenting his arguments, and suggested that every graduate be given a printed copy of the two epistles to Timothy. They contain words of wisdom for each to follow and teach," he declared.

In discussing "I have fought a good fight," Mr. Hamilton said that one's personal life is a battle a conflict to resist the appeals of the world. He pleaded that the graduates not retire behind the lines and accept appeasement. "A person who turns and runs, never makes history."

Special awards went to two members of the class, William T. Carter of Warren who received the President's Trophy, a cup given on the basis of scholarship, leader and sportsmanship. Recipient of a newly established music award is Miss Gail E. Smith of Oberlin. She was given a certificate pending receipt of a suitable engraved cup. She has played the piano for choral rehearsals and concerts and was commended for her devotion to duty and service to the choir.

In behalf of the class, its president Bradley J. Wolcott of Wyoming, N.Y., presented the college a drinking fountain to be placed in the Administration Bldg. The gift was accepted by the presiding officer James T. Jeremiah, college vice president.

George S. Milner, chairman of the board of trustees, made several announcements and thanked the local merchants for their floral tributes which filled the platform on the campus. Mr. Milner said that college would reconvene September 10th. The board chairman promised a larger school and a larger student body next year.

The program was interspersed with musical selections under the direction of Prof. William Ambrose. John H. Stoll, Registrar, presented the candidates for degrees and academic awards were conferred as follows:

College Opens Farm Management Program

Wilmington College has announced a new program of farm manager training which is aimed at alleviating the great shortage in trained operators for the nation's farms.

Under the direction of Prof. Roy Joe Stuckey, director of agriculture, and his assistant, Donald Wert, the program of agricultural supervision is on a regular four-year college basis with students spending half of their days in classes, the other half in fulltime farm employment under one of the county's leading farmers.

Training in general farming, dairy farming, processing, livestock and shop—in addition to classroom teaching of feeds and feeding, meat animal production, economics, dairy production, grain crop production, forage crop production, accounting, marketing, farm management, farm organization and geography make up the student's on-a-day off-a-day schedule.

The cooperative program, designed to give a broad level of practical experience—one of the points seriously lacking in so many agriculture graduates, say employing farm directors—is worked out with leading farmers in the area. The students work in pairs on alternate days; each member of the team works 30 hours each week, including Sunday chore work on livestock farms. Each student, in addition, is responsible for one half of each summer period. Some students live on the farm on which they work; others live on campus at home or at the College Dairy Farm of interest areas or concentration in a specific area are permitted.

Upon graduation, students who have applied themselves seriously are well qualified for employment with professional farm management companies or for self-employment as farm operators. Next job assignment date is July 20, with applications being received throughout the year.

Robert Woods of Weber French Farm Displays New Crop Dryer

Robert Woods, of the Weber French farm, Route 1, New Holland displays a crop dryer which helps him to insure better crops by decreasing the risk of spoilage. Crops can usually be taken from the fields within 24 hours after cutting. The electrically-driven dryer removes the remaining moisture quickly while the crops are in storage.

The illustrations at the right show how moisture is removed when air is blown through hay, ear corn or smaller grain. Since much of the grain or food value of the hay can be lost when left in the fields to dry, farm experts say that the extra profits, which are gained by the mechanical drying method, will soon pay for the dryer.

FROM THE FIRING LINE

DEATH OF A NEWSPAPER AT YELLOW SPRINGS

When a newspaper editor who tries to expose subversion takes a beating at the hands of those of leftist sympathies, it's time for us to close ranks and go to his support. This is the story of Ralph Shupe who was until recently the editor of the now defunct Yellow Springs American, a weekly paper in Yellow Springs, Ohio.

The American had been started a year ago by a few patriotic citizens who were fed up with the left wing editorials that had been published in that area. Two editors tried to put out the American, which also published the nearby Jamestown Journal and Cedarville Herald. The two failed. Then the backers found Ralph Shupe, newscaster at Radio WRON, Roncoveerta, West Virginia.

"Shupe inherited financial chases at the three little weekly papers and he worked day and night with virtually no editorial help to publish them. He stayed away from too much controversy in order to get the papers on their feet first. But one day something happened that forced his hand.

"One of the Antioch faculty was considered as leader for the Boy Scouts of Greene County. Shupe, saw red. This was no way to give Greene County youth a good start. He began slugging the Antioch pinks and built up a story he said justified a congressional investigation. (See Cincinnati Inquirer, May 2, 1954, P. 10.)

"Antioch College A Threat To National Security" read the headline. To justify his assertions, Shupe began a series of articles designed to point out that Antioch co-op students worked in numerous top secret defense plants and reported back to their professors after each work period on what they learned. In a college long suspected of being loaded with leftist, this was a real espionage threat, Shupe maintained.

"Shupe pointed out that one former Antioch College professor already had been accused of being a member of the notorious Canadian espionage ring. And the faculty had been heavy with suspected Reds. The former President had admitted that more than 40 students belonged to what amounted to a Young Communist League. (See Report of the Un-American Activities Commission, State of Ohio, 1951-52, P. 351) And the college was a center for considerable research of national defense interest. (See Yellow Springs American, April 15, 1954, P. 1.)

"On the faculty of Antioch College as an Associate Professor of Genetics from 1946-48 was one Dr. Arthur Gerald Steinberg. Dr. Steinberg had received his B. Sc. degree at City College of New York in 1933, his M. A. at Columbia University in 1934 and his Ph. D. in Zoology from Columbia in 1941. He had been employed as a Lecturer in Genetics at McGill University from 1940-44. This same Dr. Steinberg was reported as a member of the Operation Research Group, office of Scientific Research and Development of the U. S. Government, 1944-46. (See American Men of Science by Jacques Cattell, Science Press, Lancaster, Pa., 1949, P. 2382.)

"The Report of the Royal Commission in its investigation of atomic espionage in Canada indicates that Dr. Raymond of McGill University and member of the Soviet espionage ring had delivered to Fred Rose, a Communist member of the Canadian Parliament, the secret of the then new RDX explosive for transmittal to the Soviet Union. Both Boyer and Rose were convicted and imprisoned for violation of the Official Secrets Act of Canada.

Evidence unearthed by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police implicated an Associate of Dr. Boyer and member of the espionage net, one Arthur Steinberg. Professor Boyer was questioned concerning Arthur Steinberg as follows:

"Q. Who is Arthur Steinberg?"

"A. He is an American geneticist who came to Montreal to teach genetics. I think in 1940 or 41. However, I did not meet him until 1942, when we became close friends. We moved to where he and his wife lived. He left Canada in June 1944, and went to a job with the American Navy, a research job, and he has been in Washington ever since." (See The Report of the Royal Commission, Ottawa 1946, P. 493.)

Igor Gouzenko, the Russian code clerk who fled the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa in 1951 testified concerning Steinberg as follows: "A. In the telegrams which Colonel Zabolotni sent to Moscow he described him (Steinberg) as a scientist who was a friend of Debouze (the cover name of Fred Rose).

"Q. Do you know if Debouze went to Washington or was it his friend who made the contact with Steinberg?"

"A. In later telegrams that were sent it was pointed out that Debouze's man had handled over Steinberg to the Military Intelligence in Washington.

"Q. That is the Russian Military Intelligence in Washington?"

"A. Yes.

"Q. And the contact was to be made in Washington?"

"A. Yes Sir." (see The Report of the Royal Commission, Ottawa, 1946, P. 492.)

IS THERE ANY EVIDENCE OF COMMUNIST INFLUENCE ON THE ANTIOCH CAMPUS?

The Antioch College Record for May 7, 1954 supported Shupe's charges of Communist influence at Antioch when it reported Scott Nearing "author and lecturer" as being the speaker at a meeting sponsored by the Young Progressives of America which was attended by some 70 people. Nearing told his audience:

"European bourgeoisie is despair and it will not be long before the pro-American bourgeoisie will be separated out and the rest will follow their countries into Communism. Italy, he predicted, will be first to go and France second, followed by the rest of Europe. This process, he went on, will leave 'capitalism in one country,' - the U. S.

"Contrasting the bourgeoisie with Communists, he described young Communists who recently attended a youth conference in Bucharest. "These young people came back with the light I was going to say a revelation-the light of an experience," he said.

"The bourgeoisie represents an outmoded culture, a disintegrated culture, a disappearing culture," while the Communists represent 'an emerging culture . . . a new world order,' according to Dr. Nearing. "Four things doom 'this house of cards that we call Western civilization,' Nearing also predicted: (1) each inevitable crisis in capitalism is more drastic than the one before, (2) power has shifted from Europe to the U. S., U. S. S. R. and China, and 'Europe is on the dole,' (3) the 'subjugated . . . humiliated . . . and bullied' colonial countries are in revolt, and (4) the social revolution brought about by technological advances has put 'the nails in the coffin of bourgeois Europe' and the historical processes at work have 'given the new world the right of way, the green light.'"

WHO ARE THE YOUNG PROGRESSIVES?

The organization "Young Progressives," which Mr. Nearing addressed has been identified as "the direct successor to the functions and activities of American Youth for Democracy," which went underground early in 1949. American Youth for Democracy, in turn, was direct successor to the Young Communist League. All of these organizations, and a group of new fronts to be spawned by the youth division of the Communist Party, are devoted to important and basic strategic and tactical work in the United States in the Communist Seventh Period of Strategy which follows the Anti-Imperialist War line of the Communist Party." (See California Committee of Un-American Activities, Report, 1949, P. 563.)

WHO IS SCOTT NEARING

Scott Nearing was the leader of a "Research Study Group" which began the Communist infiltration of the New York Teachers Union as early as 1924. He was identified as a Communist by Benjamin Gitlow, former head of the Communist Party. (See Subversive Influence in The Educational Process, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, 1952, P. 343.) Later, Nearing was the official Communist Party Candidate for Governor of the State of New Jersey. Although now supposedly expelled from the Communist Party, Nearing has never recanted and has continued to affiliate with numerous Communist Front organizations. A complete record is available at the National Americanism Division.

OTHER INFLUENCES AT ANTIOCH COLLEGE

Dr. Oliver S. Loud, a professor at Antioch has a lengthy record of affiliation with pro-Communist and subversive organizations. Undoubtedly he has had a certain amount of influence over the thinking of students at Antioch.

Still another influence on the campus is a member of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Becks Atkinson. Mr. Atkinson likewise has a lengthy record of affiliations with left wing organizations. Records of both the above individuals are available at the National Americanism Division of the American Legion.

RETALIATION

Despite the fact that there existed ample evidence to back up Shupe's demand for a Congressional investigation, he soon experienced the retaliatory power of those who oppose such an investigation. Advertisers suddenly deserted the Yellow Springs American.

The two biggest advertisers in the Yellow Springs American were the Miami Deposit Bank and the C. and L. Service, Inc., both of Yellow Springs. President of the Bank, Russell B. Stewart is also a member of the Board of Trustees of Antioch College and an alumnus of that school. In cancelling out the bank's advertisement, Mr. Stewart is quoted as stating, "Your present editorial policy is not following your original creed. The net effect of these editorials is to make the paper a smear sheet instead of a newspaper." (See the Columbus Citizen, April 27, 1954.)

Chet Lee of the C. and L. Service, Inc. is quoted as saying, "I cancelled my ad because people told me they would quit doing business with me if I kept on advertising in the American. It wasn't the college, but it was that group of people at the college that put the pressure on." (See the Columbus Citizen, April 27, 1954.)

The Yellow Springs News of May 20, 1954 carried an announcement of the organization of a local chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union. The editorial page of that same edition devoted a considerable space to the praising of the newly-formed ACLU. Nowhere in the paper is there any discussion of mention of the local unit of the American Civil Liberties Union (coming to the defense of the Yellow Springs American. This is just another example of what the American Legion has maintained for many years that the American Civil Liberties Union never defends right wing cases to the same extent that it aids left wing causes. A detailed report covering this incident is being prepared. Copies may be obtained when completed from the National Americanism Commission of the American Legion.

The above article was taken verbatim from the June 1, 1954, issue of the "Firing Line", a bi-weekly American Legion paper published by The National Americanism Commission of the American Legion, 700 No. Pennsylvania St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

WE NEED CONSERVATIVES

W. C. Mullendorff, president of Southern California Edison Company, recently spoke on the importance of the true conservative. His remarks are refreshing in an era when office holders of all parties at every political level are scrambling to be identified as liberals, which generally means being liberal with the taxpayer's money.

In describing the "perspective of a conservative" Mr. Mullendorff praised the "type of conservative mind and thought which has both breadth and depth, which is neither nearsighted nor narrow-minded, but is aware of the past and has dispassionately studied the lessons of experience, which sees the present as the fruit of the past and the seed of the future, and respects the relationship of cause and effect."

He then touched upon some of the things that are causing conservatives such grave concern in our country today: the expansion of credit; subsidized production and consumption at home and abroad; stimulation of capital investment--all under government mandate, with purchasing power secured through inflation and a vast expansion of debt for non-productive purposes. For example, the increase in private debt alone just since 1950 has been about $100,000,000,000. The non-farm home mortgage debt in this country in 1952 totaled $12,000,000,000--today it is approximately $60,000,000,000. Since the end of World War II other consumer debt has increased from less than $5,000,000,000 to more than $28,000,000,000, or between 500 and 600 per cent, and so far as the federal government is concerned, spending beyond income has become habitual. During the four last fiscal years, (1950 to 1953) authorized expenditures exceeded actual revenues by over $19,000,000,000.

Nowadays it is up to conservatives with a perspective to keep hammering at the false brand of liberalism that leads nations to ruin and bankruptcy. Again quoting Mr. Mullendorff: "A review of the history of the past two decades should suggest . . . that we should make an honest inquiry into present practices and their meaning. If we will fearlessly and honestly make such an examination, we cannot but see that the sources of much of our present prosperity are destructive spendthrift policies . . . not only the freedom of the American people but the fate of a civilization is involved."

With a Buckeye In Congress...

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress, 7th Ohio District

According to Government reports released last week, there was another sharp drop in unemployment during May, with the total unemployed the first of June standing slightly more than three million, and the number of Americans gainfully employed at nearly 61 million. Most economists now say the bottom of the post-Korean recession or readjustment was reached in March; and that business and industrial activity will remain on a high level for the balance of this year, surpassed only by the boom year of 1953.

The House last Friday passed a bill reported from the Ways and Means Committee to extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, scheduled to expire June 12th, "as is" for another year. Originally the President had requested a three-year extension of the Act, with amendments to permit the reduction of import duties on foreign goods by five per cent a year for the 3-year period.

Being unable to agree on a single site, the special Air Force Academy Site Selection Board last week submitted three locations to Secretary of the Air Force Talbot, from which to select the site for the new Air Force Academy-Lake Geneva, Wisconsin; Alton, Illinois; and Colorado Springs, Colorado. Seemingly, the Miami Valley area, recommended by your humble servant and Representative Schenck, of Dayton, as a location for the new Academy, was given little consideration by the Site Board--probably because Secretary Talbot is a native of Dayton. Most observers expect the new Air Force Academy to go to Colorado Springs, which is said to have been selected as the site for the Academy just before the Korean War forced calling off of the project temporarily.

The Defense Department has asked the House Armed Services Committee to authorize construction of 25,000 family housing units on Army, Navy, and Air Force bases at home and abroad, at a cost of some $350 million. An item of $1,633,500 was included to construct 121 housing units at Clinton County Air Base, Wilmington, Ohio. It is probable the Congress will postpone action on the Defense Department request until next year.

The Senate has adopted a resolution to submit to the Senate a Constitutional Amendment to permit State Governors to fill vacancies in the House of Representatives should a national disaster create 145 vacancies or more in the House. The resolution must still be adopted by the House and ratified by 36 States before it becomes a part of the Constitution. Governors can now fill vacancies in the Senate, but not in the House.

The House last Thursday passed the $1,943,627,761 appropriation bill for the Labor and Health, Education, and Welfare Departments for the coming fiscal year, starting July 1st. Before doing so, the House increased funds for vocational rehabilitation and work of the President's Committee on Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

The people of the United States will no longer celebrate Armistice Day on November 11th. Instead, under a bill signed into law last week by the President, November 11th will be known as Veterans' Day in honor of American veterans of all wars.

More On Soviet Living Standards

A number of analyses have been made of living standards in Soviet Russia. One of the most thorough and authoritative was conducted at Columbia University, and its conclusions have just been released.

The researchers studied the prices Soviet citizens pay for goods in the state stores and relate them to income, and thus arrived at these citizens' "real wages." The conditions obtaining in various periods, beginning with 1926, were compared. Here is a summation of what was learned: "According to our calculations, the Soviet worker after the five-year plans has never been as well off in terms of real wages as he was in 1928. One of our calculations, perhaps theoretically the more defensible, shows he is still far worse off than in 1928."

Many reasons can be advanced why this should be so. One of the most important, certainly, lies in the very nature of the communist economic philosophy. The state owns or controls all the agencies of production and distribution. It sets by fiat the price the shopper must pay, and it normally includes a huge profit in order to siphon off purchasing power. There is no competition in any reasonable sense of the word.

That is a sure way to hold down living standards. By contrast, the highest living standards exist here in America where all enterprise, starting with producers and winding up with retailers, is in everlasting competition for consumer favor.

SPORTING NEWS

According to The Sporting News there is no truth to the report totes are to be stocked for the benefit of those players, managers, coaches, umpires and reporters who duck out of sight when the National Anthem is being played, rather than bare their shamelessly bald heads to the crowds.

Secrets of success as The Sporting News sees them: Pitchers can't get careless with the Yankees. Yankee pitchers can't get careless and continue being Yankees.

Larry Gilbert, operating the Nashville club of the Southern Association, had his eye on a rookie early this year, reports The Sporting News, and wanted to find out what kind of a hitter the lad was . . . He finally asked one of the rookie's 1953 teammates . . . "Well, he hits three ways," answered the teammate. "Right hand, left hand and seldom."

The Sporting News points out that Rube Walker of the Dodgers is probably top galloper for slowness of foot in the majors. But he holds the all-time Nashville record for three stolen bases in an inning.

Billy Herman gets a chuckle out of relating this story on Stan Hack, says The Sporting News: Burleigh Grimes was pitching for the Cubs with Stan playing third. Hack made a boo-boo on a grounder and snapped his fingers in disgust. Grimes might have gotten out of the inning except for another error by Hack, who again snapped his fingers to show his chagrin. Charlie Grimm, managing the Cubs, yanked Grimes. But Burleigh, bellowing, snarled: "Why take me out? Why not the guy who is only snapping his fingers at the ball?"

If nothing else, says The Sporting News, the Pirates can claim players who are members of two of the largest families in the major leagues. Pitcher George O'Donnell comes from a healthy group of eight girls and five boys, while outfielder Jerry Lynch is one of 12 children.

Gabe Paul of the Cincinnati Redlegs comes up with this bit of wisdom: "The hard part of making good is that you have to do it every day."

LETTER TO EDITOR

The American Legion Auxiliary Thomas Edwin Bailey Unit 657 is supporting its Legion in asking for an investigation of the American Civil Liberties Union. A branch has recently been organized in Yellow Springs.

December 1, 1953 Firing Line states "at its last two national conventions in 1952 and 1953, The American Legion has demanded an investigation of the activities of the American Civil Liberties Union to determine on the basis of its record whether it is a Communist-front or subversive organization."

The Firing Line goes on to say the A. C. L. U. is the outgrowth of an organization first set up to defend World War 1 draft dodgers.

In 1920 the A. C. L. U. went to the defense of the World War 1 assassins of four Legionnaires.

In 1935 Baldwin in his official capacity as A. C. L. U. director appeared on American College campuses and led students in taking the "Oxford" pledge not to bear arms in defense of the United States.

Under the guidance of Baldwin 90 per cent of the A. C. L. U.'s time efforts; and funds have been expended in behalf of Communist radicals, subversive aliens and other disloyal elements who have come into conflict with the law.

We hope that the citizens of Yellow Springs will be cautious in lending their names and support to the newly formed branch of the A. C. L. U. until its patriotic status is no longer in question.

Edmund Burke said more than 200 years ago: "For evil to triumph it is only necessary for good men to do nothing about it."

The American Legion and its auxiliary feel they are justified as patriotic organizations in asking all readers to demand that Congress and the government investigate the activities of the A. C. L. U.

Don't Aid The Fireworks Bootlegger

Charles R. Scott, State Fire Marshal, today called upon all Ohio parents to aid in the enforcement of the Ohio Fireworks Law by refusing to allow their children to order fireworks by mail.

The Fireworks Bootlegger is completely unscrupulous, Scott said. He is now resorting to selling fireworks to unsuspecting children who are sending their money to out of state fireworks companies which are flooding school children with fireworks catalogues. The children's money will be lost for these companies will only ship fireworks if cash or check is received and the express company will not release the fireworks to anyone unless they have a permit for their use, signed by the fire chief or sheriff.

Fireworks companies refuse to refund any moneys received. These are the instructions of one company:

- (1) Order early-Order plenty
 - (2) Send money order or check with order- No C. O. D. orders accepted.
 - (3) All orders shipped by express or freight.
 - (4) No refunds unless order not shipped by us.
 - (5) After shipment is made our responsibility ceases.
 - (6) Order extra assortments and case lots. Sell to your friends and make money.
- Parents, Scott appealed, don't let your child be victimized or become a law breaker. Don't allow him to order fireworks by mail.

Question and Answers On Scout Program

The following question and answers is the last article in the series on the campaign by Tecumseh Council of Boy Scouts to raise $215,000 for expansion of Scout Birch. Mr. Tom Harner is serving as local representative in the campaign.

Q. Why is there so much on camping in the Scouting program? A. Because camping is the very heart of Scouting. All the techniques and character building traits learned throughout the year assume real meaning and importance during camping experiences. Camp is the dream of every Scout and the testing ground for all he has learned.

Scout Camp is the extension of the services of the Scout Office Headquarters into the outdoors. It is essential that camps be regarded as Scouting Educational Centers warranting the same basic financial support accorded to all other elements of the program.

Q. Isn't $215,000 more than is needed for this program? A. No. The costs of this program have received very careful consideration and analysis. The $215,000 goal is the minimum amount necessary for this indispensable expansion and is really very modest in terms of the more than 9,500 present members who will be able to enjoy these facilities . . . and in terms of the thousands of additional Scouts who will use it in the future.

Even with this Expansion Program the facilities at camp will be taxed to capacity in the next few years in view of the ever-increasing boy population.

Q. Why must all this money be raised now? A. Because this urgently needed expansion has been delayed longer than it should have been. We cannot delay providing these facilities any longer. The job should be done in one, single campaign because the cost in terms of time and money is less.

Q. My son is only a Cub Scout and does not participate in week-long camping trips. Why should I pay for someone else's boy? A. Cub Scouts and their families do use the camp for daytime outings and derive much experience and learning from this use. It is possible for packs to arrange for father and son overnight trips to the camp. The new buildings can be used for sleeping accommodations for such Cub Scout activities. However, their greatest use will come within the next few years when they will enter the program as a Scout. Q. I have no children in Scouting. Why should I give? A. Anything which strengthens our community deserves the support and financial help of every member of our community. Scouting is one of our greatest single factors in developing traits of self-reliance, honesty, civic conscious and all other traits which make a good citizen. This movement deserves our sincere support.
