FIFTY-FIFTH YEAR NO. 4.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY JANUARY 1, 1932.

PRICE, $1.50 A YEAR

NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS—Reports filed by the Probate Courts of Ohio with Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown, show that in the last statistical year 289 girls, averaging 14 years and nine months of age were sent to the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware. The youngest two were 11 years old, while there were 40 in the oldest group aged 17 to 18. During the same period of time, 903 boys, averaging 14 years and nine months of age were sent to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster. The youngest boy was nine, while 84 were in the oldest group aged 17 to 19. It is to be noted that the average of those committed was the same for both sexes, 1,192 minors being committed during the year.

Proposed highway improvements for contract letting on December 29 are announced by Director O. W. Mergel, totaling 56 projects, the engineer's estimates for which amount to $748,088.39. The largest contract will be for a concrete bridge in Guernsey county, on the Cambridge-Coshocton road, the estimate for same being $56,019.00. The major part of the contracts will be for new bridges, all of which are to be completed by the first of March and first of April. Brick approaches to a few of the bridges will not be completed until some time in May.

State Auditor Jos. T. Tracy says that it has become necessary during the last half of 1931, to borrow, in accordance with the law, large sums of money to maintain the general revenue fund on a cash basis. It is the duty of the State Auditor to restore the sums borrowed and this has been done in full to the extent of $4,000,000, namely $2,000,000 to the Highway fund, $1,500,000 to the State Debt fund and $500,000 to the gasoline tax fund. In no instance has there been any need to meet the obligations of the said funds. There was a balance in the general revenue fund just before Christmas holiday of $469,744.72, scarcely enough to meet the pay roll.

The registration record in the records of the State House, installed June 18, 1929, contains the names of thousands of visitors who have called to inspect the Capitol. Every state in the United States is represented as well as a number of foreign countries. The record is in charge of a clerk from the Board of Public Works, who also acts as an information official and his services are in demand frequently each day.

State Treasurer Harry S. Day reports revenue from the cigarette tax still flows into the state coffers with continued regularity. The first month after the tax went into effect, September, $546,125.16, was received by Treasurer Day. In October $314,440.94 was paid by cigarette dealers, November, $267,533 and up until December 22nd, $251,489.88, a total of $1,379,578.12. This indicates in all probability that the total sum for the first year of operation will amount to five and a half million dollars.

Governor George White issued an executive order granting all state employees an extra half holiday Saturday following Christmas. As the offices close at noon Saturday following Christmas. As the offices close at noon on that day it enabled all men and women employed by the state to spend three days at home, Christmas, Saturday and Sunday. The Governor enjoyed a turkey dinner at the mansion, the goblet, chestnut and milk-fed being the gift of an admirer from Licking county.

'PRIVATE LIVES' TO OPEN AT REGENT THEATRE, FRIDAY

The screen version of "Private Lives", Noel Coward's smart comedy which delighted Manhattan audiences during the past theatrical season, will open Friday, January first at the Regent Theatre, Springfield for five days. Norma Shearer and Robert Montgomery are co-stars in the production in the roles played by the Broadway version by Noel Coward and Gertrude Lawrence. Prominent supporting roles are filled by Reginald Denny, Una Merkel, Jean Hersholt and George Davis.

This delicious farce, which depends almost as much for its humor on its amusing dialogue as its riotous action concerns the diverting complications which arise when a divorced couple make another try at marriage with fresh partners and find themselves sharing adjoining suites on their second honeymoons.

Mrs. Lila Watt entertained a number of relatives and friends at dinner, Wednesday.

Slow Sale Reported On License Tags

There has been no rush for auto license or dog tags during the month of December and reports indicate the same situation in all parts of Ohio. The fee for motor cars and trucks has been increased on all classes of motor vehicles. No doubt many owners of motor cars and trucks not having immediate use for them will wait until April when the tags can be taken out for three quarters of the year at a saving of one fourth the cost.

Want State To Take Over Bullskin Road

The county commissioners have requested the State Highway Department to take over the Bull-skin road between New Burlington and Xenia. The road is one of historical importance. It originally was a buffalo trail to the salt licks in Kentucky. During the days of the Indians it was a prominent trail and has been marked by civic organizations. The improvement of the road would give a needed highway from the Ohio river north to Detroit. The state cannot take over part of the road each year and the county commissioners wish to be relieved of the care of the road.

1931 WAS HOT YEAR; WEATHER BUREAU REPORTS

The year 1931 was a hot one in a number of ways. To the business banker and farmer, there were many hot days worrying more about business and low prices than the weather. But the official records in Washington at the Weather Bureau show that we really had a warm year, new records in this respect being set for most every state in the union.

While generally there was an excess of high temperatures, there also was a noticeable lack of disturbing weather phenomena, such as the great droughts of 1909, tropical storms and tornadoes that swept over the land.

The department gives account of the unusual winter average temperature as due to low pressure areas in the North and high pressure areas in the south, which permitted warm currents of air to flow almost constantly from Southern waters.

Ten years ago we had a rather warm year and in that time none cold enough to touch the cold record set in the winter of 1917-1918.

Two years ago there were many sections of the country damaged by the hot weather and continued dry weeks that injured crops. The year closing found new sections in the drought area, Montana, North and South Dakota. The only flood damage of the year was one that is now pouring lives in Mississippi.

The winter thus far has been mild with only a small amount of snow and this for only a few days at a time. December goes down as the warmest on record.

C. Aultman, member of the local relief committee.

New Kind Farm Company Organized

A new form of farm company has been organized in this state and will be known as the Farm Management Co., Inc. The members of the company are John T. Brown, former lieutenant Governor of Ohio, Charles S. Neer, Mechanicsburg, and Glen G. McIlroy, Irwin Station.

The purpose of the organization is to take over the management and personal supervision of certain farms belonging to individual owners or corporations, who are not in a position to give their farms personal attention or competent supervision.

All three men are Master Farmers and well known. The idea is not new as a western company for management of farms has been very successful and has now more than 1000 farms in charge.

Cedarville Booze Was Missing For Holiday Celebration

Cedarville was a model town over the holiday season. There was no Christmas cheer in evidence and the raiding party that staged a visit last week found everything just as Andy Volstead intended. A fine recommendation for the closing year of 1931. Several places in "Pittsburgh" were visited but the raiding party could not locate even a drop or discover a sign that any Cedarville citizen even had the least intention of being a law violator.

Cedarville elects its officers to keep intended wrong doers in line and are handed quite a compliment when the visiting raiders are unable to uncover a single trace of bootleg booze.

Stone Quarry Is Filling With Water

The earth must be well soaked as a result of much winter rain and we are probably ahead of our yearly rainfall schedule but behind on a five year average. During the winter the stone quarry is not in operation and no pumps are in use. As a result we see the quarry is filling rapidly with water.

Mr. and Mrs. Knox Hutchison had as their Christmas guests, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Clingman, Mr. Milburn Clingman, Misses Mary and Betty Clingman and Mr. John Maddux of Cincinnati.

INSURANCE COMPANIES HAVE THINGS THEIR WAY

The faith of property owners in fire insurance is being given a severe test as a result of the dilatory tactics of insurance adjusters in settling a local loss. The fire occurred several weeks ago yet we are informed little or no progress has been made in settling the claim. This should not be possible but evidently our insurance laws are more for the protection of the companies than for the protection of the property of citizens of the state.

A property owner is asked to put a value on his building and contents and pays a premium for that amount of insurance. The company writes the policy for that amount and accepts the property owner's money, nothing more is said about the value of the building until a fire occurs. The first move of most insurance companies is then to question the value of the building and by all sorts of bluff, delay and underhanded methods try to wear out the policy holder in the hope of settling his claim for little or nothing. Insurance companies know that most all businessmen and property owners dislike law suits and can in this way force settlement of claims at a great sacrifice to property owners.

WILL THIS COUNTRY ADOPT DOUBLE STANDARD?

Now that most foreign countries have at least for a time adopted silver as their standard of coinage, what will Uncle Sam do? Will he be forced to return to the silver basis or must he adopt the double standard—silver and gold? The nation went through a blustering presidential campaign back in the 90's when we adopted gold standard. Business had been at the bottom with the silver standard and in the course of time Uncle Sam became more prosperous and only until recently has the metal coinage become a subject of debate. The situation relative to gold is that two countries have a corner on it and the rest of the world was unable to get even a share of it. Meantime the necessities of life such as wheat and cotton have sunk to lowest prices. Some outstanding Republicans are urging that this country adopt both silver and gold and put an equal value on them and terminate the coinage problem. We do not believe that the adoption of silver or gold or both, would bring immediate prosperity but it would stop other countries from switching back and forth and keeping the business world in confusion. It is no time to be jumping from one thing to another. We have one experiment, the moratorium, that is turning out different than expected from promises made by those who sponsored it. The only persons openly endorsing the moratorium now are the international bankers that have heavy investments in foreign countries and want them protected or repaid in preference to the war debts due this country.

OHIO BOND ISSUES ARE AT STAKE

Reports are current in financial circles that certain Eastern authorities who have much to do with the sale of public bonds, are looking with some suspicion on the value of Ohio bonds under our new tax law. For a number of years Ohio bonds have been rated about on par with Liberty bonds but the reports in confidential financial circles today is that outsiders have not the confidence in Ohio securities as formerly. We can hardly imagine that any school district, county or municipality would repudiate a bonded debt. There may be a time when a number of the taxing districts will be financially unable to pay the interest coupons, but time will work that out. Such a situation has been found in a few places already. Few there are that believe the tax law will be near what is claimed for it but we do not expect to see Ohio taxing districts resort to repudiation of such obligations.

IN SPEAKING OF COUNTY AUTOMOBILES

The recent episode relative to a found sedan and the joy certain county officials have found in its daily use at the expense of the taxpayers, brings to light the comment to be found on every corner in Xenia as to the use of county owned automobiles by members of an official's family, especially for Sunday joy-riding. The use of a (trusty) prisoner as a chauffeur may give the family more of an aristocratic air but we seriously doubt whether it has the official sanction of the proper authorities. Few taxpayers can have a chauffeur, let alone a trusty.

The condition of business can best be judged by inspection of any of the popular monthly or weekly magazines that enter your home. Advertising is the correct barometer of business. Take a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post and note the few advertisers and the small amount of space in comparison with a year ago. This particular medium, one of the leading publications in the world for national advertising is running low, probably lower than any time in the past quarter century. When there are fewer pages of advertising there is less paper used. This leads to a reduced demand for paper and effects paper mills making book paper. The publishers must also drop a certain number of printers and pressmen. There are many lines of business dependent on the supply of paper. Publishers of magazines that have a wide circulation in Canada, must stand a heavy loss by the new tariff imposed by that country. There is a tariff in addition to the regular postal rates.

News dispatches a few days ago state that a half dozen American manufacturers have planned to spend several million dollars in England to get around their high tariff on goods made in this country and shipped abroad. This will not be welcome news to American labor nor can it be stated that agricultural interests will be advanced by it. Every article made in England by American capital is just that much less labor lost to this nation. Such an announcement is but positive proof that our tariff is wrong and proving injurious to American business interests. Some thirty foreign countries have now closed their markets to American made goods in retaliation of our tariff laws.

Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general under the Harding administration, comes to life with the announcement that he has written a book answering the critics of the Harding administration. The advance notice does not say how the author of the book feels towards former President Coolidge, who demanded Daugherty's resignation. There is no question but that Daugherty could write an interesting book about his tenure of office under Harding. The debauchery in connection with Jesse Smith, Roxie, the "Green House" on K street, the part the "Ohio gang" had in national affairs, certainly would make interesting reading. The public will of course be interested in the latest literary effort on the part of the retired attorney general, more about how the administration was disgraced by the "Ohio gang", than by what the late president's private life, was or was not. Mr. Daugherty has assumed quite a task in trying to change the public mind relative to the administration. Public officials serving a sentence in prison is the answer and there is little that Mr. Daugherty can say that would add perfume to a bad mess.

Judging from editorial comment and letters to the editors of Ohio papers, sportsmen evidently are not taking kindly to the new order closing several thousand miles of Ohio rivers and tributaries to fishermen for the protection of fish. From the squabble that has existed for some time among what are termed conservationists in Ohio, one is inclined to believe that politics is more at stake than the safety of fish. One cure for the situation might be for the state to abolish about seventy-five percent of the political jobs in connection with the conservation movement. The fellow that steps up and pays for a license to fish is the sucker on the end of the line, his little fee, along with thousands of others making it possible for the fight continuing for the soft state jobs at high salaries.

O. A. Dobbins, master farmer, farm institute speaker, well known hog breeder, informs the writer that no more outstanding citizen in Greene county, could have been selected as a candidate for state representative from this country to the legislature than Dr. W. R. McCheesney, who announced some weeks ago. In as much as Mr. Dobbins has been more or less a receptive candidate for this honor, his compliment to Dr. McCheesney is worthwhile. Dr. McCheesney has been receiving endorsement from all sections of the county, friends and admirers congratulating him on the step he has taken.

We have closed a very unusual year in this country, especially when we consider economic conditions. It was back in September when a close friend, one well versed in business affairs, made the statement that conditions in this country could not improve until we changed our foreign policy. At that time he predicted we would eventually pay a terrible price in forgetting our own internal affairs and endeavoring to save Europe. He could see nothing but disaster to our own industries in draining this country of our financial resources to the profit of the international bankers. In commenting on the stock market situation he predicted a general decline in prices and named several prominent stocks, all of which are today much lower than he even predicted. Like many others when the moratorium was proposed, he endorsed it, but later changed his mind and was convinced that it would only complicate us abroad. Even Wall Street must not have much confidence in the future for prices have declined while congress gives approval to the moratorium.

The wet interests in Ohio, which include of course both Republican and Democratic politicians, are rejoicing over the prospects that when the voters go to the polls next May to nominate candidates for United States Senator from Ohio, there will be but two candidates, one on the Republican and the other on the Democratic ticket, and both openly wet. Todate only one Republican is mentioned, Gilbert Bettman, attorney general, who is a part and parcel of the wet Cincinnati Republican organization. Bettman is of the old school of politics, opposed not only to prohibition, but the primary, commission form of government, or any movement that would keep the power of the people out of the hands of the political organizations. Senator Bulkeley was elected last year for the short term on a wet platform and will of course run again on the same issue without opposition from his own party. The only person mentioned by the Republicans outside of Bettman, is Carmel Thompson, who is dry, but being a resident of Cleveland, could not get the support of the organization there, that is for Bettman. Probably those interested in dry cause can now see why D. Pemberton, former liquor lobbyist, is so interested in the Seventh Congressional contest and is actively backing a supposed dry candidate. With Pemberton pushing a wet candidate for senator in the next primary and a "dry" candidate for congress, the inside of the situation from the dry lines should be plain enough.

Christmas Day left a toll of deaths and accidents over the country that rivaled the nation-wide parade on a Fourth of July or Labor Day. There was said to be little or no snow to be found in the country, other than on mountain peaks, and this made motoring a joy on a warm December Day. We read that some 90 or more deaths were directly due to motor car accidents. A few from hunting while the next largest number was from drinking bad booze. Thirty-nine celebrants provided that many undertakers, with a little prosperity during the depression.

The bridge marathon still continues and has prospects of holding on as long as it is a two span bridge, was under construction. The nation is now bridge minded and the sale of playing cards nets the government millions of dollars each year, as a tax is imposed on the same order as cigarettes. We live in a new age and homes that formerly frowned on card playing now find it has displaced the phonograph, the sewing circle and the radio. The old folks are the ones that do not play bridge or cannot shimmy to jazz tunes. Some day, if we live long enough, we expect to see the return of the old fashioned waltz that developed suppleness, dignity and grace and taught young men and women to walk erect. By that time bridge will be out of style. Such is the trend of the young American idea—always changing, never satisfied and demanding something new.

A Committee of One Hundred, Dayton has been trying to work out plans to take over the wreck of the Union Trust Company and reorganize it in the hope of saving something to depositors. Last week Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, a product of the wet Cincinnati crowd, named three Dayton attorneys as legal counsel in connection with the settlement of the bank's affairs. This heavy expense must be paid out of the salvage and Dayton citizens are heaping plenty of criticism on Bettman. It is estimated the three attorneys will be allowed $12,000 a year each. Bettman did a like trick with the Standard Bank in Cleveland. The peculiar thing is that the State Banking Department did not ask for such appointments. Bettman is to be a candidate for Senator from Ohio and his interest in such appointments is probably more political than the welfare of several thousand depositors. Realizing the seriousness of the situation in Dayton, local attorneys had offered free legal advice in behalf of depositors to keep the cost down. Bettman says it is not practical to attempt to rely on voluntary services.

The sheriffs in Ohio evidently have some thought that the depression is to be of some duration and are planning to invade the next legislature to repeal the two term limit that has been in force in Ohio for many years. The sheriffs want the objection removed and not have to get out in the world during a depression to hunt another job. Pensions, dotes, and all forms of relief are being dispensed so why not give the sheriffs a pension and leave the office open to relieve the unemployment situation in other quarters.

Firestone has this year added more rubber to the tread which gives 20% to 25% more safe mileage before the tread wears smooth.
The Firestone Double Cord Breaker gives you SIX and EIGHT plies under the tread—spreads road shocks—lessens punctures—gives over 30% stronger union between tread and tire body which ensures longer tire life and greater safety.
Live rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber by the patented Gum-Dipping process—this not only every cord but every fiber within the cords, it insulates this gives you 25% to 40% added tire life.

MISS HELEN ILIFFE CHRISTMAS BRIDE OF MR. ROBERT JACOBS

Miss Helen Iliffe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Iliffe became the bride of Mr. Robert Jacobs, at the home of the bride's parents, Christmas at 4 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. P. Harriman, pastor of the Memorial Presbyterian Church, Dayton, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Cedarville. The single ring ceremony was read with the couple standing before the fireplace in the living room. Christmas trees on each side formed the setting with large bouquets of white chrysanthemums used about the rooms of the charming home. The couple was unattended, there being but the immediate members of the two families, numbering eleven, present.

The bride wore an afternoon gown of coral chiffon, which was form-fitting and sleeveless. The skirt was full and fell to the floor in graceful folds. Her slippers were satin in crapple shade and she carried a bridal bouquet of Tallman roses.

During the evening an informal reception for seventy guests was held at the home from 7:30 until 9:30. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Iliffe and Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs. During the evening a musical program was presented by the Misses Lucille and Eleanor Johnson, West Carroll; Miss Ruth Burns and Miss Dorothy Oglesbee, Cedarville, and Mr. Marcus Shoup, Xenia. Miss Eleanor Johnson sang, "I Love You Truly" and the Misses Johnson sang a duet "Oh Promise Me." Miss Burns sang "At Dawning" followed by Miss Oglesbee who sang "Because." Mr. Shoup played a group of violin solos, accompanied at the piano by Miss Lucille Johnson.

During the evening and ice course was served. The table in the dining room was centered with a bowl of pom-pom chrysanthemums. Guests were present from Lafayette, Ind.,

Marietta, East Liverpool, Bellefontaine, Springfield, Dayton, Xenia and Cedarville.

The bride and groom left following the reception by motor for a short wedding trip and returned here for a series of social events announced in honor of the bride. Mrs. Jacobs' going-away outfit consisted of a black crepe dress trimmed with touches of flesh chiffon and a raspberry wool coat, trimmed in gray fur. Her accessories were black.

The bride is a graduate of Cedarville College and the Ohio State University. She also attended the Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati, and Simmons College, Boston. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta and Delta Omicron Sororities. She has been supervisor of music in Ashland County schools and located at Andover. She will continue her work.

Mr. Jacobs is a graduate of Cedarville College and is a member of the faculty and athletic coach in Niles High School, Niles, O.

For Trees and Garden

Trees, plants, garden ornaments, are like children. They need tender care and nourishment. The lover of nature, especially of plants, flowers and trees, has a natural delight and satisfaction in watching them grow to maturity. In these days of modern science many aids to gardening have been discovered.

Not until the setting of the estate is completed by a harmonious planting of trees and shrubs, in a home, and every house must have its individual planning to insure the proper landscape development.

Colored Walks Impassable

Just as a person with undraped shoes is not well dressed, so is a home not well dressed whose owner has neglected to improve the setting with lawns, shrubbery and trim walks.

Concrete is the ideal walk material, for it is easy to keep clean and is pleasing in appearance. A new touch can be added with concrete by the placement of flagstones, or by the addition of coloring matter. Colored walks that harmonize with the home and its surroundings now can be easily and inexpensively obtained.

Appearance Means Much

Ever so many homes need paint to give them something of an external respectability. Any number of yards and gardens are waiting for the magic ministrations of tidiness and home-keeping interest. It is so much more beneficial, in almost any condition of life, to have the outside of one's dwelling lend expression to one's home-loving instincts.—Exchange.
