Phobos and Deimos
"Panic and Terror"

Performance Notes
Phobos and Deimos are the two moons which orbit the planet Mars. In Greek, their names mean "panic" and "terror", both of which accurately describe the nature of this piece. The irregular rhythms, angular harmonies, and frenetic counterpoint all contribute to a sense of frenzied, irrational fear. Play every note with confidence and energy, and above all, give the audience the uneasy feeling that some unknown nightmare is lurking just out of sight.
