Plans for Walk-a-thon formulated

BY REBECCA JONES

After a brunch, Wednesday, May 16, at 10 am, participants in the Walk-a-thon will begin their fifteen mile trek to raise money for remodeling Alford Auditorium and for purchasing a new ambulance for the Rescue Squad.

BY ELAINE SWARTWOOD

Passion Play

On Thursday evening, April 12, one hundred Word of Life Collegians will present a musical drama written by Harry Bollback entitled: Passion Play. The performance will begin at 7:30 in the James T. Jeremiah Chapel. This promises to be a time of rich spiritual blessing for all who attend.

Trustees

The Trustees meeting will be held on Friday, April 6, beginning at 9:00 a.m. and continuing throughout the day until approximately 5:00 p.m. The first session will be comprised of committee meetings including: Academic, Business, Development, and Student Affairs. Some of the topics to be discussed are: the Capital Campaign, the bond sale, the recruitment program, and the finalization of next year's budget. The second session, which is a meeting of all the members of the board, will take place during the afternoon. The objective of this meeting is to complete all unfinished business.

Donkey Basketball

On April 7 at 8:00 p.m., Student Senate will sponsor an exciting evening of entertainment, featuring Billy Bruce's Donkey Basketball Show. Also, a very special half-time show will be presented by Student Activities. Come and get in on the fun!

Athletics

This week Cedarville College will host several athletic events. On April 7, our softball team will oppose Marietta at 1:00 p.m. and our men's tennis team will compete against Hillsdale at 1:00 also. (This is a dual meet, and, according to the team's top man, it's going to be a real tough match.) Later this week, April 10, our baseball team will challenge Urbana at 1:00 p.m., and at 3:00, our women's tennis team will rival Central State University.

Rick Jones, chairman of Student Body Project, stated that the reason SBP chose the Walk-a-thon as the means to raise money was that, from past experience, they found that a Walk-a-thon was more lucrative than a Work-a-thon. "It's human nature to want fun," explained Ron Bigelow, a student senate representative and a driving force behind the Walk-a-thon.

Project coordinator, Mike O'Quinn said that the actual walk will take approximately five hours, though stops along the way will lengthen the trip.

"We want the Walk-a-thon to be fun, not a race," emphasized Mike.

Ron explained that the round trip walk will begin at the chapel. The walkers will take back roads leading to John Bryan and then return to the campus for a picnic by the lake.

To add excitement and to provide variety for the walker, entertainment has been arranged. A pick-up truck filled with clowns and a string band will travel with the participants.

Ron stated that a light lunch will be served at John Bryan, the climax of the trek.

"It will be a relaxing stop for the walkers," Ron further explained. Walkers will not need to dodge traffic. Ron said that "the communities of Clifton and Cedarville have been informed and the traffic will be rerouted."

For the safety of the travelers and also proof to donors that they completed the walk, participants will be required to register for the walk before they leave and sign in when they get back.

"Joggers will go in groups according to their speed," Mike explained, "for the benefit of those who wish to travel at a faster rate than the rest."

The administration approved Saturday attire for the Walk-a-thon. For the ladies, this is a chance to wear jeans in the middle of the week without zero degree weather.

Mike stressed that they need at least 75 percent of the student body participating in order for "Ma" Printy's challenge of steaks for the students to be valid.

When asked how much money has currently been raised, Ron excitedly informed that a 600 dollar pledge came in a few days into Spring Quarter.

"A couple hundred pledges have already come in and this is just the beginning," Ron optimistically reported.

Ron encourages everybody to get involved. "Every little bit helps."

Mike suggests that those who do not have support write letters to friends including a stamped brochure. "This will make it as easy as possible for the donor."

Above all, both Ron and Mike concluded that every walker can expect a good time.

Banquet Cancelled

BY BOB SMITH

Alpha Chi has decided to cancel their annual banquet for the '78-'79 school year. The banquet, which was scheduled for tonight, was the same night as the Anne Criswell Jackson Concert. Alpha Chi felt they needed the whole evening for the banquet, so they decided to cancel it instead of competing with the concert.

Al Morgan, president of Alpha Chi, said his organization decided not to put on the banquet at a later date to avoid having it scheduled too close to the Junior-Senior Banquet next month.

When the conflict between the banquet and the concert was first discovered, the leadership of the service club conferred with their advisor, Dr. Murry Murdoch, and Myron Youngman, Student Activities Director, about the problem. Unable to work out a compromise with Student Activities, Alpha Chi decided to drop any banquet plans for this academic year.

The club was given the option to still have the banquet tonight and then go directly to the chapel for the concert, but decided not to take this option. Morgan said, "The problem involved with this is that if we had the banquet, we end up putting a lot of work into something that we only use for a couple of hours; because, after we were through eating, we would probably end up going to chapel for the concert." Alpha Chi felt it would be anticlimatic to have a banquet that lasted for just a few hours.

In the past Alpha Chi has had their banquet during the Fall Quarter, but because of the banquet honoring Dr. Jeremiah, Student Activities rescheduled the banquet for Winter Quarter. Alpha Chi then decided to switch banquet times again, this time with Gamma Chi, because two of Alpha Chi's activities (talent night and their retreat) are during Winter Quarter.

Anne Criswell Jackson to Perform

BY ALLEN WEBBER

Anne Criswell Jackson will present a sacred vocal concert in the James T. Jeremiah Chapel tonight at 7:15. She has appeared many times on national television in the Billy Graham crusades and has journeyed around the world as special soloist in various other crusades including an extensive tour of East Africa and the Orient.

Although her musical training began with voice lessons and piano at the age of thirteen, she was singing solos in churches when she was only seven. Since then she has studied voice and opera at Baylor University, Southern Methodist University School of Music, and special study with Lloyd Carroll, opera coach of the San Francisco Opera Company.

Mrs. Jackson is proclaimed to be one of the six or possibly seven dramatic-coloratura sopranos in the world. This is a very unique voice classification, combining the power and intensity needed to sing over full orchestras with the great agility and high range of the coloratura.

Anne Criswell Jackson lives in Dallas where she is not only a concert soloist, but a dedicated wife and mother. Her husband, Dr. Kenneth Jackson, is a renowned oral surgeon and also a gifted pianist. They have one son, Paul Daniel, four years old. In addition to her active musical career, which has included leading roles in operas such as The Bartered Bride, La Traviata, and Marriage of Figaro, she is a life-long member and participant in the First Baptist Church of Dallas.

Anne Criswell Jackson has recorded two albums with the Ralph Carmichael Orchestra. A third album, "Come On and Join," was made with Crescendo Music of Dallas.

Ralph Carmichael makes the following comment about Mrs. Jackson: "In the past twenty-five years, it has been my happy privilege to be able to record with the finest gospel singers that ever graced a platform, and now, I am indeed grateful to add to that list of experiences my association with Anne... For Anne Criswell Jackson will long be remembered for her Christian testimony and her beautiful singing."

ANNE CRISWELL JACKSON, coloratura soprano, will present an evening of sacred music which exemplifies her vibrant Christian testimony.

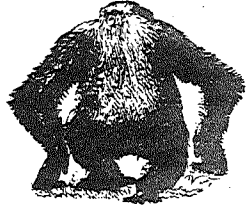

Editorial

The past issues of Cedars have stated the policy and the goals of the newspaper. The policy has been formulated, but the goals are not being met. For the better part of the school year, Cedars has been much discussed, much reviewed, much of everything except printed and read.

Cedars is supposed to be an endeavor of the student body and representative of the students. But where have all the students gone? If Cedars is to continue to be a student newspaper, then the students must be responsible for seeing that it is a reality and more than stimulating dinner conversation.

YOUR

If Cedars is less than it ought to be, if students see problems with Cedars and do not actively persist in the removal of those problems, then the students have no one to blame but themselves.

If a student finds fault with the paper, then it is up to that student to remedy the situation. Remedy at this time should come in the form of students' willingness to work on the paper, and to produce a paper that the students can be proud of.

Life of Christ presented

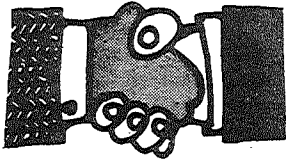

BY KEITH WHARTON

On Thursday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the James T. Jeremiah Chapel, the WORD OF LIFE Collegians will be presenting the "Passion Play in Music and Drama." Harry Bollback has put together this musical drama with some new and original songs by Bill Gaither, John Peterson, and Don Wyrzen.

The production will begin with the triumphant entry of Jesus Christ and carry the story along through His life, death, and resurrection. Lighting, staging and costuming will add beauty to this production performed by a cast of over one hundred young people from nearly every state of the Union and several foreign countries.

The "Passion Play" is a Word of Life production which will be touring the eastern United States this Easter season. They have plans to tour all of the United States and the South Pacific including Hawaii, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand in the next year. Word of Life has several one year Bible Institutes, a camping program for all ages in twenty one countries, and a program for local churches to meet the needs of young people in elementary, junior high, senior high and college-and-career. There is also a Word of Life radio and television outreach in America and around the world.

Seniors to Washington

To those members of the senior class who are able to find enough time to skip a few days of classes, the senior trip to Washington, D.C., will provide an enjoyable reprieve from the drudgery of their daily schedules. This weekend, several seniors will do just that, taking time to visit such historic landmarks as the Washington Monument, the Jefferson Memorial, the White House, the Capitol Building, and many other places of great historical significance. Many hard hours of labor were involved in order to help raise money for this trip. The senior class has taken on the responsibility throughout the year of assembling and distributing "survival kits," upon which nearly all of us depend when the cramming and nervousness of Finals week quarterly arrives.

While in Washington, the group will follow no particularly set schedule, but will be free to sight-see at their own pace and enjoy themselves in whatever way they wish.

Dr. McGoldrick to lead Philadelphia tour

PROFESSOR OF HISTORY, Dr. James McGoldrick, eagerly anticipates another informative trip to the historic city of Philadelphia.

MICHELLE RANDALL
The Department of Social Sciences of Cedarville College will again be offering the unique opportunity learning while traveling to Philadelphia in September.

The group will leave Cedarville on September 4 and will travel to Cherry Hill, N.J. where they will stay in a Best Western Motel (with indoor and outdoor pools). They will go into Philadelphia and surrounding areas each day to see the sites. The group will see such attractions as: Independence Hall; Liberty Bell Shrine; Gettysburg Battlefield; Betsy Ross House; and Admiral Dewey's flag ship, Cruiser Olympia. Another site, especially interesting to us as Christians, is the Hebrew Tabernacle Reproduction in Lancaster.

The ten day trip, open to anyone who would like to go costs only $295. This price includes transportation from Cedarville, four hours tuition in history, and the motel expenses for the entire trip. Students are expected to pay for their own meals, planning on 8-10 dollars per day. The dates of the trip are September 4-14.

Anyone who is interested in going to Philadelphia next fall should see Dr. Murdoch or Dr. McGoldrick for reservations. A $60 deposit, payable by May 31, will reserve a spot for you. The balance of $235 is payable by Sept 1.

As many of you already know, actually seeing the sites while learning about them is much more beneficial than just reading about them in a book. You can stand in Independence Hall and imagine that you are one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence or imagine yourself to be one of the first people to hear the ringing of Liberty Bell. You can actually see and feel the artifacts so important in making America what it is today.

To receive the four history credits, the students will be required to read four books specified by Dr. Murdoch and write short critiques on them. This work is supposed to be done and turned in before the commencement of the trip.

Do something fun and profitable this summer - go to Philadelphia!

Woody U?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (CH) - For years a popular selling item in Ohio State University area stores has been "Woody's University" sweatshirts. But now that Woody Hayes has been fired as football coach, those tee-shirts and all the other gift items such as Woody bumperstickers, posters and books have become white elephants for the store owners, right?

Wrong. Woody's University tee-shirts are selling at triple the normal clip, says one bookshop manager. Another store reports it has sold completely out of its Woody poster since the fiery coach got the ax after hitting an opposing player during the Gator Bowl. People who probably wouldn't normally have purchased the items are apparently buying the Woody memorabilia as collector's items, says one merchant.

And lest it seem that the whole world is down on Hayes, who has yet to make an appearance since the pre-New Year's incident that prompted his dismissal, a Columbus radio station is sponsoring a drive to rename Ohio Stadium Wayne Woodrow Hayes Stadium.

As You Like It

Rehearsals take form

On May 10, 11, and 12, the Cedarville College Speech Department will present William Shakespeare's comedy "As You Like It," directed by Mrs. Rebecca Baker. Principal characters include: Renee Globig, as Rosalind; Jim Leightenheimer, as Orlando; Lori LaHaye, as Celia; and John Duff, as Jaques.

Set construction is under the able supervision of John Duff and Mr. Wesley Baker. Mr. Baker is also responsible for the original set design.

Currently, the cast rehearsals are concerned with general objectives of the play, blocking, and stage business, which involves such things as movement and gestures. In the future, Mrs. Baker plans to shift the emphasis to characterization, pacing, and music. While it is not a musical as we know the term, "As You Like It" does call for a few ballad-type songs.

When asked about the reasons behind the presentation of a Shakespearean play, as opposed to some of the past theatrical offerings at Cedarville, Mrs. Baker responded that "any drama program should include some work from the classics." Famous actors and actresses such as Laurence Olivier, Charlton Heston and Vivian Leigh recommend to young actors and actresses an exposure to Shakespeare's works because of their potential for developing strong characterizations and training in language usage.

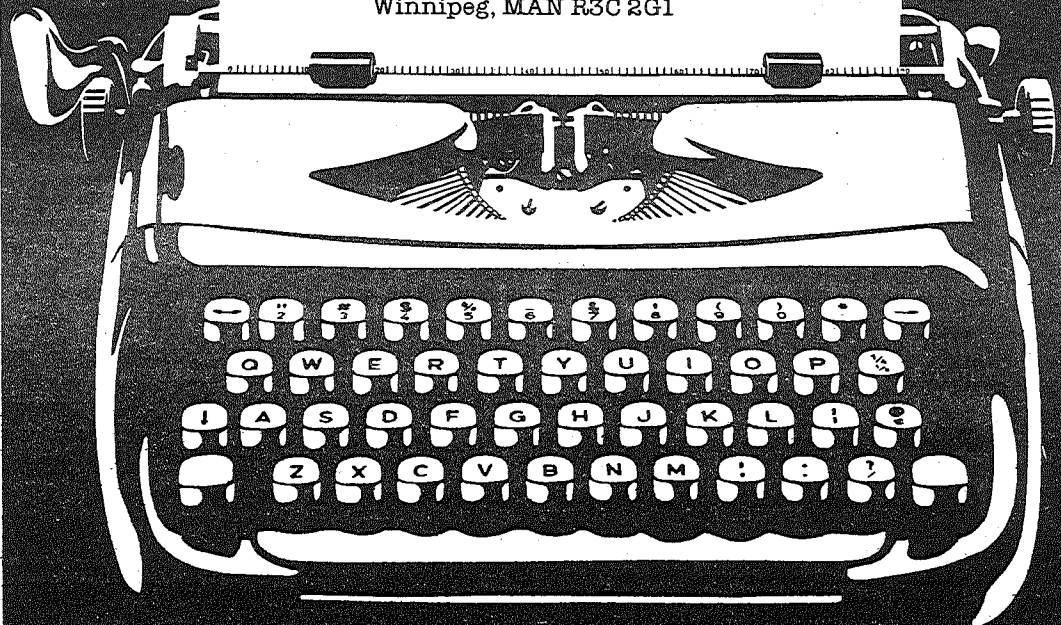

THE BUDDING trees are but one of the signs of the return of springtime to the Cedarville College campus. The warmer temperatures and the songs of birds are further reminders that graduation and summer will soon be here.

Cedarville's Veteran Baseball Team is Ready!

The 1979 edition of the C.C. baseball team is a combination of both youth and experience. The Yellow Jackets, under the direction of Coach Tom Hopewell, find 15 returning lettermen from last year's team. Last year's team finished 15-11; 2nd in the M.O.C.; & qualified for the NAIA District #22, and NCAA District #3 playoffs.

The Jackets are led by senior captain Fred Greetham who comes into his fourth season with a career average of .401, including a .446 and .432 clip in each of the past two seasons. In each of these two seasons, Greetham has led the MOC in batting, along with being in the top 20 in the nation both years. He has been selected to the MOC, NCCAA, and NAIA teams both years.

Flanking Greetham, who is in centerfield, is senior rightfielder Marty Devine who is playing his this season in the C.C. outfield. Sophomore transfer Al Stewart is holding the job in leftfield. Two year letterman Dave Stewart is fighting for a job in the outfield along with sophomore Scott Carr, and freshman Steve Sadowitz.

The pitching staff which combined for a team era of 2.83 last year finds four returners with a combined seven years experience between them. Senior ace Randy Cagwin is coming off an outstanding year of five wins and two losses with a 1.98 era.

Junior Dave Creman is back after a 2-1 season, which was hampered by injury. Sophomores Greg Greve and Dave Lawhead who each won two games also return. Three freshmen add to the already fine pitching staff and make it one of the finest assembled in the league. Mark Mathews, Ron Hobar, and Chris Johnson all have fared well thus far, and all are fighting to crack the rotation.

The catching department has produced a dogfight between senior Dwain Hill and sophomores Dave Merkh and Jim Carroll. Hill hit .317 in '78, but has been slowed by injury. Strong armed Merkh is a converted outfielder who has made the adjustment and has looked good thus far.

The infield is spearheaded by Junior Dan Fullmer at second base who is coming off a .322 season in 1978. Sophomore Jamie Darling has played some at second and will be used in the utility role, and as the designated runner. Freshman Ed Stewart has handled the role at shortstop and has been very impressive on the left side of the infield. Sophomore Don Rickard is the incumbent at third base, and has been steady defensively thus far for the Jackets.

Off and Running

The cinders are flying as the C.C. trackmen are off and running into the 1979 season. Coach Elvin King has five NCAA All-Americans returning to this year's team. Senior distance runner Brian Hull, and senior Shot put, discus man Dave Rogers. Junior Pole Vaulters Mark Peters along with junior Cross-Country, NCCAA All-Americans Dale Shaw and Tom Yater make for a fine nucleus of this year's team. Coach King feels that the strength of this year's team is the distance running, which is comprised of several of the cross-country men who captured the NCCAA National title earlier this year. Dale Shaw won the event and Tom Yater finished third. To further bolster this area is the return of Brian Hull who missed the cross-country season due to injury. Hull was an NAIA All-American in 1976.

OPTIMISTIC

BY SHERI LEVIN

Spring has arrived, according to the calendar at least, and the women's softball team has begun its fourth season of competition. Their first home game is Saturday, April 7, 1:00 p.m. double-header against Marietta College.

According to Coach June Kearney, this season's team is young and somewhat inexperienced, as over half of the players are freshmen, but well-stabilized by the six returning players. After a week of spring training in Florida, where the team won two of five games, Dr. Kearney has observed that their strongest asset will probably be strong hitting. With a very optimistic outlook toward the season, she has established a goal of twenty victories for the year.

Co-captains for the team are juniors Brenda Hobar and Sue Kulp. Other returning players include Lynne Donnelly, Vicki Butler, Barb Vinson, and Susie Reigle. The remainder of the playing squad is comprised of Laurie Butler, Luann Butler, De De Charleton, Robin Raabe, Pauline Farley, Jennifer Knecht, Darcy Morton, Marcy Morton, Jane Sutherland, and Sue Wagoner. The assistant coach is JoEllyn Priola; managers are Gale Dillsworth and Mary Stuenzi; Rachel Norton is the trainer.

Winning is Sharing

With the commencement of a new season of tennis, Coach Pamela Diehl is excited about her unique and talented women's tennis team. The twelve players are closely matched, adding a "pressure in practice which prepares for pressure in other schools." The team is young, with only five returning players, but strong. "They have a desire to play, to play well, I've never had in a team before," commented Dr. Diehl.

The only two returning singles players are Jannell Decker and Patty Harding. Brenda Nealy (the lone senior), Shawn Taylor, Landa Penquite, and Cathy Boyd comprise the remainder of the top six players for the opening matches. The other players include Becky Blackburn, Connie Clemons, Colene Fox, Colette Sirca, Karen Steinhoefer, and Cheryl McMillan. Mrs. Becky Trittipoe is the assistant coach, and Rachel Scott is the manager.

The women will be competing against Ohio Northern Monday, April 9, and against Central State University Tuesday, April 17, at 3 p.m. on the Cedarville College courts.

The team practices every day from four to six o'clock. On days when the courts are unavailable or the weather does not permit outdoor practice, the team travels to Beavercreek and practices at the Quail Run indoor tennis complex located there.

In an interview with Colene Fox, it was learned that the main goal of the team is to glorify God in its practices and matches.

"You could win all eighteen of the matches, but if you aren't doing it to the glory of God, it just won't count," commented Colene. Another team member has personally resolved to share what Christ means to her with each of her opponents.

Colene also mentioned that after only a week of real practice, there already seemed to be a great feeling of unity among the team members. This, she felt, was due primarily to the fact that they are careful to uphold each other in daily prayer. Attitudes and actions such as these help to make the athletic program of Cedarville College a practical opportunity for personal spiritual growth.

Spring Golf Preview

The Cedarville Golf team, under the leadership of Dr. Al Monroe, takes to the links this year with a unique blend of both youth and experience. The top duo, senior Tim Birk and freshman Mark Womack, shows the someone old, someone new concept of this year's team as well as the three-four combo, senior Keith Rice and newcomer Jim Baldwin. Holding down the number five position is Gary Gromacki, a junior. Rounding out the squad this year is senior Dan Taylor and a talented freshman corps including Brian Rickard, Dave Ellis, Mark Brandt, and Frank Hicks.

Dave Ellis, classified as a freshman student, will actually be coming back to the golf team for his second year of playing. Dave did a fine job in 1977, and, after spending a year working in Iowa, has come back to Cedarville to continue his education. He should help to add a touch of maturity and experience to this year's golf team.
